Just as we are about to glorify our humane aspects and our consideration for those whom we wish to like us, comes a letter—one of several which has been received—from Sylvia Carwile asking aid for getting a measure out of committee and on to the floors of the House and Senate in Washington: the measure is to reform "inhumane" methods in killing animals for food Our best wishes but a great protest will be needed to get action Helpless animals on the way to feed us find how lightly too many of us are touched by a humane passion

Time For "Humanity"

Now let's look at something which should, and, I am sure will stimulate our desire to help. It's MS, multiple-sclerosis, which reduces most of its victims to the helplessness of infants. There are more than 400 of these victims in Franklin County, according to reports They are not eligible to enter hospitals because of their permanent disability. They must be cared for Here is a thought: Periodically each of us has a bit of money, maybe a dollar or two—or five or ten. As often as possible this is one class of our citizenship which should share in our generosity.

OK'd Gambling

Just read of a big "gamble"; it is that "big business" is investing six BILLION dollars in Amerilan industry in the immediate few years ahead. That'll add to payrolls. That will add to human happiness. That's not charity; it's just plain hard-headed sense. America's future is sound and worth investing in. Keep it as your best investment. That's OK'd gambling.

Slums Deplete Tax Source, Is Claimed

Goodale section of Columbus, to share with the South Side's Monawk Market area in slum clearance following the approval of bonds for the purpose of defraying cost at the polls next September, has been used by Director Lawrence M. Irvin of the Department of Slum Clearance, to illustrate the huge cost to the city in tolerating slums

Director Irvin points out that in the Goodale area real estate, or land valuation was $787,130 in 1924, but in 1952 had dropped more than half a million dollars, to $202,750.

According to estimates by authorities, the director has said, when slum clearance has been completed in that area taxable valuation of real property is expected to be $3,343,058

Then the director points to the Market-Mohawk area and shows that this section is in equally bad financial condition from a tax standpoint. He says the city is losing $125,000 a year in taxes—because of the depreciation, or running down, of property in this area. Figures show a decrease of 40 per cent in tax values

Parsons Avenue Early Sunday Fire Brings Fine; Building Condemned

One death and an estimated $5,000 damage to building and $1,000 damage to personal property resulted when fire broke out in a building at 2015 Parsons-av at 3:30 Sunday morning

Other incidents of the fire were the rescue of two trapped occupants of the building, and, on Monday, the charging of an aged occupant with "careless handling of fire" and drunkenness, and charging John Hardgrave, 914 DuPont av, and Frances Thurman, 91 Miami-av, with operating a rooming-house without a license

The two occupants were trapped in the building the reports indicated one, a woman, threatening to jump, which was averted when firemen climbed an aerial ladder to assure the woman that she would be rescued, which was accomplished later by carrying her to the ground on a hand ladder

Found dead apparently from suffocation and burns, it was said, was Edward M Teesley, 29, who was employed by the Bonney Floyd Co

City inspectors discovered Monday, they reported, that some of the "rooms" on the ground floor had been made by putting up "wood partitions made of old packing boxes" They also reported that several rooms on the third floor were without ventilation

The occupant charged with "carelessness", William Webster, 75, admitted, it was stated, that he often got up at night and usually lit his pipe, although he did not admit starting the blaze. The fire was believed to have started near the dresser where the man regularly dumped his pipe

In court Tuesday, Webster, who pleaded not guilty, was convicted and sentenced to pay a fine of $115.00 and costs

Hardgrave and Thurman entered not guilty pleas and their cases were continued

It was also reported, although confirmation was not certain, that the building had been condemned Reportedly the building was owned by Herman Schottenstein, who was quoted as telling investigators that while he owned the building, he had rented it out and knew nothing of the conditions

Further birthdays are those of Dorothy Creamer, 570 Siebert-st, on Mar. 25; Margaret Spiker, 67 Southwood-av on the 26th; James Robison, 1571 S. Sixth-st, the 28th of the month, and Overly Siebert, 1588 Parsons-av, Mar. 29.

The fathers and sons of Southwood School will have an all-male session at PTA time, which is tonight at 8 o'clock. The men will be able to witness football films. Alfred Eggleston and John D Leist are co-chairmen of this meeting.

Students of Barrett Junior High in years past might be interested to learn that one of the most loved teachers is still alive and I'm sure she'd welcome cards and letters from former students. This loved teacher is Flora Albright and she resides at the Normandie Hotel. She mustn't have any excitement, so it might be better to refrain from personal visits. But do drop her a note won't you?

Mrs. Fred Grace of Hanford-st, was pleasantly surprised when her mother visited her last week from Missouri. The Graces will take Mrs. Bibbs home and spend a week in the Show-Me State, so the two will have had a nice two-week session together.

Thinking of Mrs. Green who is Barrett's hard-working PTA president, reminds us of the PTA meting held at the school last week. Theoretically, "Cap" Hoover was to speak about the "Y" Park, but actually it was a "This Is Your Life" program for the loved gentleman. We know that if this could have been publicized the auditorium would have been filled to capacity, for everyone would have wanted to be among those present. To quote George Gobel, "You just can't get them kind," hardly!

Burma Social Club meets today at 12:30 at Schiller Park Center. Luncheon is under the direction of Helene Buteman. Clara Schneider, Elizabeth Ebinger. The club will hold a bake sale at the Majestic Paint Store Whittier and Parsons, on Mar. 31, at 9 a. m. (There's the place to get your Easter-baked goods, gals.)

Virginia Hiegel, 720 E. Moler-st, will undoubtedly enjoy hearing from friends during her convalescent period. Virginia, secretary to South High's Mr. Huber, has been a patient in St. Anthony Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. John Weiland, formerly of 58 Frebis-av, are proud parents as of Mar. 12. The new one is a boy, John is stationed at Ft. Sheridan, Ill. His wife is in Chicago and the address is 5251 N. Damen-st, should Columbus friends like to send a word of congratulation.

A former South Side girl, now a victim of polio, had a recent birthday. The young 17-year-old is Marcia Hanesworth and her place of residence is Zollinger-rd (We're not writing this at home, so can't check on the number.)

Two more March birthdays are those of Herb Hampton and Madeleine Oakley.

Bob Dunham, son of Ronald and Marge, has "dood" it again. His debating team won the class B championship at OSU. Dunham-coached groups have won eight trophies in less than three years' time. One of Bob's Marysville students will get to go to Oklahoma for a chance at the National Extemporaneous Speakin and Bob will get to accompany him. (The date was appropriate for the OSU contest, as it was Mar. 17. Maybe Bob had a bit of the Blarney Stone available! Just afunnin; just afunnin'.)

Between quarters at OSU means an exodus to Florida for as many of the students as can make it, and some of our community's college students are to be listed in that group. Scott Butler is one of the boys that we know about, and four girls and a boy are in another group. Don Hooper had four girls to help him read road maps, etc., on the way to Florida last week. One of the passengers was Helen Mae Smith, 312 Southwood-av; and the other three were Pat Worthen, Hilda Buchman, and Kathy Ryan. While in Ft Lauderdale, the quintet is staying at the Gulf Stream Hotel.

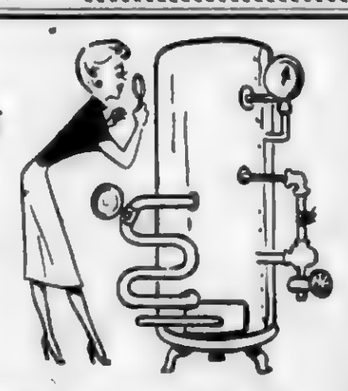
We were very sorry to hear that "Vi" Veitch was among those ailing, after an auto accident a while ago. Vi is an Oakwood-av resident.

An Ohio-av resident has been hospitalized in Mt. Carmel Hospital and we hope this column finds her home again, mending. Mary Merritt is the gal we're speaking about.

Twelve-thirty this afternoon will find members of the Maree Social Club lunching at South Gate Temple.

Congratulations to Tom and Joan Passen, on the arrival of their son, Mar. 16, in Mt. Carmel Hospital. Mrs. Passen is the former Joan Ball. Her address is 167 E. Jenkins-av.

South fell by the wayside on the tournament trail, but we'll sure keep rooting for St. Mary's. (As some of you know, our son, Don Dicke, is one of South's "long and lankies" and what a jolt to listen to the radio announcer last Friday night. We'd named him "Don" April 9, 1939, and here the announcer changed it to "George.") The boys deserve a pat on the back for going so far, and win or lose, we're proud of them.



No more notes, so guess we'll just fade away. Keep HI. 4-1051 a buzzin', Easter's coming, should see lots of activity and let us in on it, won't you? 'Till next time, then, this is

...To Keep The Faith
• AT THIS establishment we are under no delusion to the principal reason for the success of this funeral service firm. It is the people we have served in their most difficult hour. That they have sought us out again in time of need is a tribute we cannot take lightly. We hope to keep faith with them — always. In these days when the tempo of the times calls for speed and more speed, we have tried to combine modern efficiency with the traditional dignity of the funeral service. As long as you continue to give us your support we will know we have succeeded.

Saga Of Happiness Created In A World That's 'Always Dark'

The Rosina Ernst Club had its inception in May of 1947. Long before its creation Mrs. Emma Warnett, a blind woman, had felt the need of an organization for sightless women, and out of this desire to bring her handicapped friends closer together, the club was born

Twelve In Group

Twelve women made up the original group. They were women who felt the urge to band together for their own benefit and the betterment of all blind socially and economically

The name "Rosina Ernst" given the club was the name of a beloved teacher at the old school for blind, where most of the women had gone.

Today, there are 60 members who meet once a month at the Monnett House to discuss ways and means of improving conditions for all blind people. It is the aim of the club to teach sightless women that, although we are blind, we can still take our rightful places in society and to educate the public to help us help ourselves.

Just Usual

We differ very little from other clubs, inasmuch as we are homemakers and working girls We are interested in all phases of homemaking, child care, fashions, the latest book or movie, and sports. Perhaps we must work a little harder to reach our goal; perhaps our determination to get ahead must be a little stronger, but disappointments and obstacles have never stopped our club from helping others less fortunate. Please remember this when you are asked to buy a dance ticket, or are invited to one of our dinners. Also please remember, when you see the girls selling flowers on Rose Day, that the Rosina Ernst Club for Sightless Women will use the money to help other blind along, and create a bit of beauty for many in our dark world.

Pews Installed In New Church

Rev. D. E. Clay, pastor, Wilson Avenue Church of the Nazarene 1650 Wilson-av, has announced that the church is now fully equipped.

The congregation moved in last fall following completion of major phases, but for quite a while were without pews

The pastor told the Leader that the pews have been installed and that the congregation is feeling at home in the new building.

Captain Gaines Mosely of the United States Marines, raised the first American flag on the banks of the Rhine in Germany in 1918

About Words

Carefully chosen words are more effective than a million carelessly spoken One is good seed, while the other is unproductive.

Skulking Scoundrel

Within a few days of Spring's being officially ushered in, when hopes were high and enthusiasm of nature lovers ascending, Old Winter, apparently hiding behind the fence to jump out and do his dirty work, opened up the works and doused us with car stalling snowfall. Some say thes like the Old Man, but, for me Spring, with its promise of beauty returning to the earth, is like a new revelation, opening vistas of loveliness to rejoice the eye and the soul

Beck-st School

As we enter the west door of Beck Street School we hear strange sounds from the lower hall. It is Mr Don Dill's class preparing for the "Father and Sons" night program

We decide to go on upstairs to Mrs Georgina O'Day's room to see what her fourth grade class is doing As we enter the room, Mrs O'Day greets us with a cordial "hello" and invites us to look around the room. Hanging from the ceiling we see milk cartons which represent the arithmetic and science being studied; balancing of gallon, quarts, and pints. This also teaches multiplication, division, addition, as well as subtraction.

Classroom government is being studied in this class. We are trying our best to learn what is necessary to be a good president, vice president, secretary or treasurer We have learned how to nominate officers and the methods of conducting a meeting. We have room officers who are elected monthly This month our officers are Edna Coon, president; Beck Lou Hahn, vice-president; Carol Detillian, secretary, Victor Szluzer and Larry Van Houston, sergeant-at-arms

Reading, English, writing, and spelling are all based upon our study of the early days of our country Why and how our forefathers came to the new world, people who were heroes in the early days and how they helped our country to be what it is now Each day is an exciting one in this room and we enjoy our class as well as our teacher but we must leave this classroom and visit Mr Dill's fifth grade to see what they are doing

A poster reading "Father and Sons Night" at Beck Street School 7:30 p.m. is seen on the wall of Mr Dill's classroom as we enter The boys in this fifth grade room have been chosen to entertain the fathers at the March PTA meeting We thought they would like to see some of the work we have been doing in school In our social studies we have been learning about the Central States the Western States, the Louisiana Purchase, and the Lewis and Clark Expedition We decided the Lewis and Clark expedition would make an interesting play with marionettes. The boys will operate them and carry on the dialogue The play goes like this:

President Jefferson calls Meriweather Lewis into his office and asks him if he will take charge of an expedition to go from St. Louis to the Pacific Ocean He wants to claim all the unexplored land for the United States before some other nation claims it President Jefferson informs Lewis that it will be a dangerous mission and that he may choose carefully whether he wishes to go or not Lewis is a patriot so he tells President Jefferson that he will go The president tells Lewis that Congress is allowing him $2500 to spend on the expedition There will not be much money for food so the men will have to live off the land At times food was very scarce on the trip and the men were hungry Lewis and his party left St Louis May 14, 1804, and headed west At Fort Mandan a Frenchman and his squaw wife joined the party This Indian squaw was a great help to the expedition Without her help it might never have been completed The Lewis and Clark Expedition is one lesson I am sure we will never forget

We are giving two other plays also, but they are just for laughs We are also going to exhibit some of our stories, a large map which we have made and the results of some science experiments We hope the parents will enjoy "Father and Son Night" at our school, as we have worked hard and enjoyed our program

And now we have visited two classes in Beck Street School The 3:15 dismissal bell rings and we see children coming out of the school building They leave without having to fear for their safety as our reliable Safety Patrol boys and girls are on the job to guide them across the dangerous street intersection, toward their homes.

Scioto Trail News

Mrs. Nettie Swermstedt, Reporter

On Tuesday, Mar. 13, the students and teachers were delightfully entertained by a representative of the Zoological Assemblies, together with a collection of animals including a bull snake, a pair of Bleeding Heart pigeons, a ring-tailed cat, an ant eater, and a very lovely tamed tiny Sika deer These very wild animals had been taught to respond to kindness from human beings We were all charmed by the interesting things told about the animals

Though spring is coming, the cold and snowy days are not very long gone Those were the days that inspired the first grade in Miss Kochensperger's room to study the Eskimos Igloos were made, two dog teams, seals polar bears, walruses, sleds, a kayak, icebergs — all out of sticky sawdust — and of course a painting of the Northern Lights. It was all during the recent snowy weather, and the weather started it.

Maybe it was because of the coming of spring with her light fantastic air, or maybe because they had seen such things at the Ohio Union, that the sixth grade in Mrs. Shahani's room composed a number of "mobiles." Anyhow, the boys and girls ransacked the scrap box, and, aided by a few toothpicks, a bit of tinfoil from here and there, and lengths of wire, came up with flat-bodied fish, curlicues, prickly balls, and half-moons. A movie on "How to Make Mobiles" was part of the study. And now these emblems of "abstract art" dangle from the light fixtures in the halls and the cafeteria and add a bit of gaiety to sober walls

St. Mary's Declares Holiday To Honor Cage Heroes After Losing

Things were quiet around St. Mary's High School Monday. It was a holiday. Since holidays are made to be celebrated, St. Mary's celebrated, and along with them thousands of others in the community joined in the spirit of the holiday. A group of great players, according to Coach Ken Neville, who, while disappointed as a result of the failure to win the close game which they fought valiantly to save, showed great enthusiasm for his charges and had high praise for the little community which sent a team to meet the big teams and take the championship.

No Alibis

Accepting an invitation to visit the Leader office and talk over the game, Coach Neville answered a question, "Was there something special, some little move or effort, some insignificant failure, to allow the point margin Arcanum had over St. Mary's?" The Coach was quite sure there was not such a thing. Every one of St. Mary's men played like the high-powered boys they are, did all they could do, but were beaten, he told the Leader editor.

Class B Champion

Arcanum, in Dark County, less than 2,000 population, won the Class B Championship for the State of Ohio, believed by statisticians to be a record maker in the sport in the State.

St. Mary tried hard to accomplish the last-minute victory as it had on the two last previous games. But Arcanum kept pushing and the best efforts failed to stop the little community team from taking the big victory.

Shoting Good

Comparing teams, St. Mary's shooting game was called sufficient, the Ramblers hitting 41.7 per cent to Arcanum's 37.1, each team missing 10 free throws. A surprise of the game was the beating the Ramblers took in rebounds, which they had demonstrated through the season was one of their strong points.

Perhaps the answer to the unexpected upset by the single point was that Arcanum had a tell-tale total of 48 to 27 for the Ramblers.

That, of course, as Coach Neville indicated, is one of the "breaks of the game."

A fan remarked that it is seldom that a defeated team in a hard-fought campaign can command the respect for the defeated which St. Mary's team and officials showed for the Arcanum "Davids" out to get the "Goliaths" of St. Mary's

Baseball on the Boards

Beginning immediately, Coach Neville stated, baseball takes over as the next major sport to occupy the larger part of the athletic program, along with track, preparations for which have been made, and much "tracking" having been done to get into physical condition for the season just ahead.

Dave Barker Honored

Dave Barker of the Ramblers was chosen unanimously to the Class B Ohio High School All-Tournament basketball team selected by press, radio, and television representatives at the annual championships.

from..... OG's NOTES

Ahoy! Deadline Ahead!

Use your head first to save your feet later . . . which suggests that you might save a penalty by finishing that income tax return and getting it in to the Internal Revenue Service offices . . . Nathaniel Looker, district director of the Columbus office, says that as of Mar 23 an estimated 289,000 taxpayers had not filed returns, and that's an awful lot of people who'll be crowding the office at the last minute. Only 15 days until . . . Smack . . . The final day. Do it now!

Juvenile Salvation

Parental respect for others' rights and for others' thoughts could show junior the way to correct living. That, of course, would contribute to his acceptance of respect for others' rights and for respect for law and for the rules of human society. And it might be the key for keeping a cell door unlocked.

Easter Thoughts

Effectiveness of the Spirit of Easter depends upon human beings with human frailty. We can't help that. Maybe we could influence the greater value of the Spirit of Easter if we LIVED the Spirit of Easter the whole year through. W-h-a-t? All the year? Aw, go on with you! But it IS a nice dream'

Un-Easter Fact

A fire which took one life and might have taken others except for the fine efficiency of Columbus' fire-fighters points up a responsibility of the corporate authorities to be skillful and unceasing at checking buildings against fire or other disasters. Unfortunate is the race for having so many hugely mercenary people who will risk the lives of the very unfortunate that pockets of owners may bulge the more. I wish that this army of decent landlords could be recorded on a monument to human integrity.

Horror Unlked

Mrs. Jean Canfield, 852 Oakwood-av, writes about cruelty to animals just before slaughter. She did not know, until seeing a leaflet about it, that man's inhumanity to animals on their way to become food for us, is as great as a hyena's inhumanity to man. Mrs. Canfield recoils in horror at the brutality described in the leaflet. Can the milk of human kindness grow out of a brutal spirit?

The Easter Story

On this page is a story of what will be found in many churches in the South Side this Thursday through Sunday, Easter Day. In my own newspapers and now for my employer our habits of long standing mature at Easter in the presentation of churches and their programs for the day on which the Resurrection is celebrated.

Observe It

Out of the beauty of the lily there has never grown filth and corruption — nor the "little" sin — nor the greater "sin" of unkindness to our fellow man.

Advertisement Brings Big Cream Cup Sale

When the Cream Cup, 1567 S Parsons, put a small advertisement in The South Side Leader Thursday of last week it was considered certain that business would perk up and that results would be good. And it was all that—and more. The proprietor told the Leader that in the two days Saturday and Sunday he sold 400 pints of ice cream.

The proprietor received a coupon for each sale of ice cream, so he knows exactly the number. He is a well-pleased business man.

Pastor Tells S. E. Lions 'Be Calm'

Rev. Paul C. Kaefer

Speaking to Southeast Lions Club at the weekly luncheon meeting Tuesday, Rev. Paul C. Kaefer, pastor of St. Paul Evangelical and Reformed Church, advised his audience to appropriate the theme of Holy Week, to keep control of themselves even in the face of stresses and strains under which many break. He suggested that each appropriate to himself the Christ spirit.

A LONG TIME AGO

The South Side Leader invites people who have lived history here to join The South Side Leader in a series of articles with "ancient days" of the area. Several have contributed and their stories will start soon—factual data about property and people —especially people.

Easter Egg Hunt Program Ready In Three Parks

The annual Easter egg hunt sponsored the Southeast Lions, and the Columbus Recreation Department, will be held Saturday Mar. 31, at Schiller Park. The hunt will commence at 9 a.m. Egg hunts at Lincoln and Livingston are sponsored by Southside Council, Steelton Merchants and The Ohio State Journal will also be sponsored by the Journal. There will be many prizes.

At Schiller the hunt will be divided into two groups with a separate hunting area for each group. The younger age group made up of ages 4, 5, 6 and 7-year-olds will hunt in the east half of the park. The 8, 9, 10, and 11-year-old group will hunt in the west half of the park. All children should report to the Recreation Center first for instructions about the hunt.

There will be two sets of prize eggs, one set donated by the Southeast Lions and another by the Ohio State Journal so that the two groups will have an equal number of prize eggs.

One prize egg per child is all that will be permitted, but a child may keep as many non-prize eggs as he finds.

The hunt will continue for 45 minutes, with the pay-off for all prize eggs being held in the gymnasium. The gold eggs will be worth $5 each and the silver eggs worth $1 each.

A spokesman told the Leader that every child 11 years or under to four years of age will be welcomed.

Dr. Laile Delights Lions With Fluoridation Talk

Fluoridation recently having become a subject of intense interest in the city, Southeast Lions Club last week invited a competent authority to come and talk with them about the "burning" issue.

The speaker was Dr. H. A. Laile, a practicing dentist, who spoke to the Lions from the viewpoint of the scientist and without interest in the political viewpoints.

Dr. Laile's analysis before the Lions suggested that, contrary to the belief held by some that fluorizing water will be harmful, maybe poisonous, the tiny amount of fluorine required to treat the water against cavity-making will be a strong guarantee that it is not harmful. In fact, the Doctor said, the cost per person will be a mere 8 or 10 cents annually. It was implied that one cannot get enough poison o. any kind for that much money, especially when it is scattered over 52 weeks in the year.

During the informal discussion it was developed that in the State of Ohio now there are approximately 140 cities having their water fluorized, and that statistics indicate the number of cavities suffered by the people in those cities noticeably decreased with fluorization.

The speaker pointed out that the greatest number of people to profit by the treatment of water will be the younger generations, since there will be so many more of the mthen of the older people.

As a clincher, this was brought out: It would take 400 tons of the chemical dumped into a given amount of water at one time, to make it lethal to plant life—or people.

The Lions expressed their appreciation for Dr. Laile's talk.

This Team Missed Championship By Point

Five men in a row, all trophy winners, went "all over" in their effort to bring home the championship to St. Mary's High School. In that last game, with Arcanum in Cleveland, the boys unlimbered all they had, but the aggregation from over near the Indiana border hung on with equally great tenacity—then, the breaks of the game, and the Saints came home after losing to a great team from a little town. Left to right, Kermit Allen, guard; Tom Caine, center; Dave Barker, forward; Bill Stewart, forward; Al Buchilla, guard. They returned from Cleveland defeated, Coach Ken Neville said, "but covered with glory."

Margie Speakmon and I would like to thank the kind readers who responded to her plea for Easter baskets for the patients at Orient. Margie was thrilled, as was I, that so many readers answered her request for cartons, etc. Thanks!

Bidal shower time is fast approaching and a phone call from the Industrial Aid for the Blind gave us an idea: give the bride-to-be a "different" type gift and help a good cause at the same time. Or perhaps some of your household items need replacing; what better place to do so than here. Some of the items we jotted down were as follows: linen place mats, terry jackets, mammy doll toaster cover, ironing pad and cover, de-linter, wall-wiper for brooms, tea towels, aprons, clothes-pin bag, pot-holders, plastic table cover, quilted oven mitts, basket liners, baskets of all kinds, baby beds and, of course, the usual mops and brooms.

Best of all, your order will be delivered to you. The phone number to call is AX 9-9800

Is some woman wearing a blue coat that is almost like hers, but not quite? It's an easy thing to do, to be mistaken about a similar coat, etc., but we're sure the two owners would like to switch to their own apparel. One of the coat owners is Marianne Whalen, and the last she wore her own coat was at the St. Leo's spaghetti dinner last Sunday. The coat is a full, light blue one, with deep pockets and turned back cuffs. The coat that Marianne now has doesn't have as large pockets as her own. Should the other half of the "mistaken identity" be a reader of this column would she please call Marianne at HI. 4-5437?

The annual Festival of Music, sponsored by the Columbus Council of Parent-Teacher Associations, not only furnishes a fine evening's entertainment, but is also the means of helping the needy children who might not otherwise have eyeglasses. So if a school youngster wants to sell you a ticket to the festival to be held April 6, at Central High School, remember it's benefiting lots of children, in two different ways. The 8 o'clock entertainment costs 70 cents per person to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Fleming now have two girls in their family as of Mar. 23. Little Linda was born in Doctor's Hospital. Mrs. Fleming is the former Patty DiGoia.

Mrs. McCain, 1371 S. Fourth-st, has been one of the "flu" victims of this season

A three-way birthday package is the lot of Kay Wolford and Ralph Macioci this year. Their birthdates are both on April 1, which is Easter this year, as well as the traditional day to "April Fool" people. Live it up, kids, that's a once in a life-time deal!

Seeing as how the Shrine Circus is in town the day after Easter, it's an idea of how to keep the younger sprouts entertained during the school holiday. The circus will hold forth in the fair grounds coliseum from April 2 to Apr. 7.

It wouldn't be right to forget the birthday of Laura Lenox, "foster" mother of Paul Lenox, so the very best, dear Laura.

One last item, and another column will be finished: Mrs. Bier of 742 E. Saga Of South Side Branch Library Climaxes In New Building Dedication Ceremonies

(Announcement has been made that the South Side Branch Library will be dedicated Sunday, Apr. 8, at 3 p. m.)

Horatio Alger's characters haven't a thing on the Parsons Branch of the Columbus Public Library, according to Galvy Gordon, library public relations director, author of this story. Not yet 30 years old, the Parsons Branch "has arrived." Its new building, modern furnishings, air conditioning, new books and parking lot are surpassed in excellence by no other public library in the city. The imminent dedication ceremonies suggest a review of interesting history.

It was not always so. Parsons Library can look back on lean years—27 of them, to be exact. This newly acquired "spit and polish" can't hide the fact that Parsons Library has lived through some pretty trying times.

Established in a rented storeroom at the corner of Cline-st and Parsons-av in October, 1928, Parsons Library was one of the first five branch libraries in the city. Placed in charge as head librarian was Miss Margaret Bausch, a young lady from a well-known South Side German family, who could speak the language of her grandparents before she could speak English.

Miss Margaret Bausch, Librarian

Days of Hopelessness

Looking at her new literary domain, Miss Bausch can't help remembering the lean depression years when the library was crowded with hopeless souls who found shelter from the cold and solace for their financial aches in the world of books. She recalls, too, how in the critical 1933-34 period the branch was open only three-fourths of its scheduled time and how the librarians worked at half salary.

When the branch first opened it was stocked with 2,000 volumes and 26 different magazines. This was in addition to a special stock of German literature. And for years Sunderman, Hauptman, Goethe, and Heine and more modern German authors were as popular with her patrons as Bromfield, Norris, Sandoz and other 20th century American authors.

Dwindled

The German collection has dwindled somewhat, although several new German novels have been ordered in the past few months. To a large degree the maturing South Side generation has lost its ability to read or even speak the language. Several old-timers, however, still make it a habit to sign out the old German titles. The influx of war brides and displaced persons following World War II brought new demands on the German shelves.

At first the library was operated by Miss Bausch and two helpers 12:30 ot 5:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday. Now the hours are 1 to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday and 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturdays. Three full-time librarians and three part-time assistants help Miss Bausch keep up with the growing patronage.

It was a major triumph at the end of 1928 when, after three months of operation, Parsons Library could boast 112 new adult and 774 new juvenile card holders.

Remember "We"?

Among the earliest printed bookmarks issued at the branch was one bearing the title "We", by Charles Lindbergh, who only months before the branch opening had startled the world with his Atlantic hop.

Some of the earlier bookmarks for children carried such messages as: "Brownies wash their hands quite clean, a dirty book they've never seen. Brownies do not show their greed by eating candy when they read."

A 1938 bookmark was based on the Seven Dwarfs immortalized by Walt Disney in his "Snow White" production. "Palace of Enchantment," "Spire of Heaven" and "House of Earth" were groupings of books marking the astonishing World's Fair of 1939 in Chicago.

Window displays throughout the years are faithfully recorded in photographs taken by Miss Bausch on her box camera. These eye-catching displays have featured centennial celebrations, egg trees, puppets, dolls, knights, firemen, steamships, old streetcars, Christmas scenes, Easter bunnies, colorful book jackets, miniature homes, and foreign lands. In fact, they have run the gamut of human experience.

Grew With Community

Parsons librarians have been frequent visitors to nearby schools and teachers have attempted to include at least one visit to the library in their classes' annual activities — usually during Book Week in November.

Summer reading clubs through the years have fascinated youngsters during the vacation months. Indian feathers were awarded faithful readers in 1953. "General Universe" presented 126 certificates to qualified members of the Rocket Readers Club in 1954. And last year, youngsters read to earn free tickets to the Columbus Zoo.

"Growing up with the community and its succeeding generations has been exciting and deeply rewarding," declares Miss Bausch.

IN TIME OF LILIES

In the time of lilies
They laid Him in the tomb;
The darkness could not hold Him
Prisoned in its gloom.

The lilies bowed before Him,
The sun upon Him shone
As He walked forth unhindered
From the obedient stone.

The beauty of the lilies
Reflect His radiant face;
Let men rise up this morning
Partaking of His grace

THE LORD WHO DIED FOR ME

I have a Lord Who died for me
Upon the cross of Calvary.
Jesus died for all my sin
So that other souls I can win

I can tell of Jesus and His story
And the theme of Him in glory
This is the Lord Who died for me
Upon the cross of Calvary.

Jean Scholten.

Jean attends Highland Avenue School and says she likes to write poems about the Lord. She is a classmate of Margaret Mays, whose poem appeared here some time ago.

Scene on W. Broad-st—The lady is well-known locally, as a do-gooder and maker of long speeches that drip with brotherly love. She swept majestically out of a shop and while she was waiting at the corner for the light to change, broke a long string of pearls she was wearing. Two little boys were standing nearby, the scrambled about in the street—which was dangerous—and on the sidewalk, picking up the beads for her. She stood impatiently tapping her foot and fuming, and stooped nary a stoop to help pick up the pearls. When the boys had picked up all they could find they handed the beads to her. She grabbed them and stuffed them into her purse—and didn't even thank the boys. Those of us who watched the little show felt ashamed that a fellow-adult could be that rude to two little kids. And I fear that when he read of her speeches we will think of brass, and tinkling cymbals.

J. Curtis Allen Photo

Miss Donna Lee Mayhew and Mr. Garry A. Beckett repeated their wedding vows Friday, Mar. 16 in Glenwood Methodist Church. Rev. Joseph B. Shellhaas read the service at 7:30 p.m. before an altar banked with palms and seven-branch candelabra.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James I. Mayhew, 207 S. Warren-av and the bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Beckett.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Jack W. Mayhew, the bride was gowned in white Chantilly lace over nylon tulle. The princess-style bridal gown was designed with a fitted basque bodice strewn with iridescent paillettes, brief sleeves with lace mitts and a bouffant skirt terminating in a short chapel train.

Her fingertip length veil was held by a cloche of lace and she carried a white Bible mounted with a white orchid and satin streamers.

Mrs. Allen K. Grinstead, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. Her floor-length gown of pastel green net and taffeta was styled with a strapless bodice and worn with matching shrug jacket, mitts and bandeau. She carried a cascade arrangement of pale pink carnations.

Miss Judy Grinstead, niece of the bride was the junior bridesmaid. Her gown of pastel pink net and taffeta featured a scoop neckline, puffed sleeves and bouffant skirt. She more matching mitts and bandeau, and carried deep pink carnations.

Mr. Gus Ruzicka served as best-man and ushers were Mr. Dick Boyer and Mrs. Dick Mayhew, brother of the bride.

The home of the bride was the scene of the reception following the ceremony, for members of the immediate families and the wedding party.

The new Mrs. Beckett was graduated from West High School and is enrolled in the College of Education, Ohio State University. She is employed by the Great Western Life Insurance Co. Her husband was graduated from South High School and is enrolled in the College of Commerce and Law, Ohio State University.

Attention, all mothers of girls 10 to 12 years of age: I am trying to organize an intermediate Girl Scout troop from girls in the Furnof School district, but to do this I have to have some other mothers who would be willing to help. If you are interested call me, Mrs. Ruh, at HI. 3-2657.

S-o-o- Big!

Jan Dearth, 182 Meier-st, Southwood fourth-grade pupil, was flying his kite when a Leader man passed the lot where the young fellow was flying the kite larger than himself. Chuck Toth, photographer, was called. He hurried over and got the picture, plus data, which are these: the kite was seven feet high, seven feet wide, 28 inches deep. The young fellow said it took 42 feet of pine wood and was covered with store wrapping paper.

Scioto Trail News

Mrs. Nettie Swormstedt, Reporter

On Friday evening, Mar. 16, the sixth and seventh grades held a St. Patrick's Day dance. The gymnasium was gay with shamrocks which the pupils had made. Square dances were called by Jim Jonard. In spite of the damaging effects of the heavy snowstorm of that week-end, there were about 30 present. Chaperones were Mrs. Logan, Mrs. Greene, Miss Morris and Mr Lowks. All reported having a wonderful time.

On Tuesday evening, Apr 3, will be held the next meeting of the Parent-Teacher Club. In addition to the regular business meeting, there will be an "open house" during which the parents are invited to visit the various classrooms to see some of the evidences of classroom activities in pictured form, as directed by Mrs. Eleanor Paul, the art teacher Following this visit will be a program in two parts. The first will be a demonstration of Judo tactics, shown by two brothers recently come to Scioto Trail Previously they had attended school in Japan for a year and learned Judo there. The second part will be a presentation of creative dancing by a group of the school girls under the direction of Miss Davis, assisted by Mrs. Shahani and Miss Morris. Since the P.T.C. meetings are primarily for parents, it is requested that any boys and girls under the age of 18 who also wish to attend will come with their parents and sit with the parents during the program

Learning to talk plainly was one of the first things on the program for Candy Alexander, 1956 Easter Seal Child in Ohio, when she came to her home-town Easter Treatment Center in Hamilton. Three years old then, she could be understood by her parents only; now, at 7, she speaks plainly and clearly, thanks to the speech therapy provided by Easter Seal funds.

Problems Of Newspapermaking Told By Writer; Community Aid

(Second In A Series On Making A Newspaper)

Continuing where we left off in the previous installment, with 4,712 letters to a front-page column of solid (or "straight") reading matter, we readily comprehend the multitudinous phases involved in "setting" the "type" for a whole page, either front or back.

But, before we get over on another track, let's see just how many times the operator would have to touch a letter key on his linotype to get all those little matrixes to fall down and become each a letter in each word in the full 19-inch-long column on the front page. Multiplying the 4,712 letters in a front-page column of the Leader by eight, the number of columns to a Leader page, we find a total of 37,696 letters in the eight columns if it were all "straight" news type.

However, in an eight-page Leader paper the inside and back pages have longer type columns —21¼ inches long. That adds 372 letters to a column, and, of course, brings the total number of individual letters on an inside page to 40,672.

Not All Straight

Of course, all the type is not "straight" matter, or line after line of "news" material. Some of the things you read are parts of illustrations, half-tone cuts, zinc etchings, plastic pictures (made on the modern new way). Then, too, there is the display type — the type large enough to attract attention of the reader. Then there are "rules" around the advertisements, or other "border" type. And there are endless other details all of which add up to a lot of people working and a lot of money going into the payroll.

Other Phases

There are so many phases in the making of a newspaper that it is difficult to marshal all into a brief story. Later we will get hil the way through the press and find your copy of The South Side Leader in your hands.

We turn to another phase of publishing a newspaper. This phase includes the assistance given by your newspaper — by practically all newspapers — to various activities in a community. That phase is the one thing a newspaper has to bring in the revenue necessary to maintain the paper. But perhaps we should say that this phase includes two factors under one name. That name is SPACE.

The Two Factors

One of the factors is the news about what you are doing and about your neighbors' activities. The other factor is the space that is sold to advertisers, from which is derived the funds to pay for the "making" of the newspaper. Some one recently told the editor that when he figured up the space devoted to various social and religious activities in the neighborhood, it did not seem that the paper could afford to carry as "news" some of the items which appear regularly in the columns of The South Side Leader.

His statement was in regard to fish frys, suppers, dinners, card parties. He expressed the thought that the newspapers should charge for such announcements.

Good Reason

But there is a good reason why this and other newspapers publish social and religious activities as far as space permits and at the same time refuse frequent offers of pay for the use of the "space." The fact is that if all these items, including church calendars and other announcements, should be charged for so many publishers would be free from constantly increasing expenses in publishing. Another fact is that a great many of the items the friendly subscriber referred to are for the purpose of raising funds for worthy causes, and they cannot afford to pay for the space. Therefore, what many people think should be paid for goes in without charge as a public service.

Advertising

This is a commercial aspect which has been understood and supported by the business world since the beginning of newspapers. It is a well-established fact that merchants and others with items to sell know that people must learn about the items as a pre-condition to selling. The smartest merchants in the country, those who make the largest volume of money, are the leading advertisers in the newspapers and magazines of the country.

The late and famous American merchant John Wanamaker told the author of this article, when as a youngster in the business, we asked permission to reduce the size of one day's advertising, "Young man, if we don't advertise we won't get business. If we don't get business, you and I and the others won't be here. Go ahead and use your judgement." Needless to say, the "young man" did NOT reduce the copy for the advertising.

Wherever there is a prosperous merchandising institution, there is, in the background, hard-hitting and scientific merchandising through newspaper advertising.

Later we will cover more of the mechanical, business and editorial phases of making a newspaper.

William Schwartz, MS Victim, Tells Writer Disease's Habits

William Schwartz, left, hopes the key to the mysteries of multiple sclerosis will soon be found, Glen Dalton, executive director of the Central Ohio Chapter of the National MS Society, has announced the MS Hope Chest campaign will end April 7.

By Joel R. Snyder

"The average person knows less about multiple sclerosis than any of the other neurological diseases. Even more alarming, is the fact that while there is considerable research being made throughout the world, the actual cause and cure of this mysterious malady is as obscure as ever."

These two statements, made by a South Side victim of the crippling disease, are only an inkling of the many problems facing Bill Schwartz, 66 Thurman-av and over 400 other MS patients in Franklin County.

Less than six years ago, Bill was about to return from Korea and embark on a future which appeared to him to be highly promising.

One week before he was to go aboard a ship to return him to this country, he awoke in the morning with a numb sensation in both of his legs.

Puzzling Disease

Bill puzzled the doctors with a variety of symptoms. He staggered like he was drunk, his legs felt like they were asleep and his speech came haltingly. A complete diagnosis required much time. Bill had MS.

"Most people don't even know how to spell it, let alone know what the disease is," said Bill. "If you're lucky enough to be able to walk, like I am, people look at you like you have leprosy or something."

Bill was willing to explain all that he knew about his ailment, which, by the way, is just about all there is to know about it.

"MS is a disease of the central nervous system, which produces paralysis of the body or inefficient use of nerves which control the various body functions."

Strikes Anywhere

"It's not contagious, and it most often strikes young adults, usually in the 20 to 40 age group." He pointed his finger at me with a smile, and told me it may get me next. Bill is a pleasant fellow, one who makes friends easily. He's easy to talk to.

I learned from Bill that there is no diagnostic test in existence which can definitely establish whether a patient is suffering from MS. It is only after the disease has progressed through numerous stages that the physician can be certain of the correctness of his diagnosis.

MS usually leaves its victims dependent cripples who must retreat to the captivity of a bed or a wheel chair.

One of the problems confronting the victim's families is that of adequate care for the patient. It is almost impossible to be serviced by hospitals because of the chronic nature of the malady.

A Ray of Hope

The Central Ohio Chapter of the Multiple Sclerosis Society is currently engaged in a fund drive to help support further national research and to increase local clinical care to alleviate the problems of MS patients and their families.

One ray of hope is extended to Bill and about 250,000 others in this nation afflicted with the dread disease: the concentration on new research is really just beginning.

Easter Observance Had Basis In Ancient Jewish Passover Rites

Easter, like many other special days observed by Christians of varying church ties, did not just pop up into use, as if by magic. In fact, a serious search for the beginning of the name "Easter" brings a lot of confusing data none of which have been definitely certified.

The day is, of course, without regard to its name, closely associated with the Passover of the Jews. In fact, it was because of the Passover time that Jesus made the trip up to Jerusalem on the day when excited people threw palms and other things onto the ground in front of the donkey upon which Jesus rode—an event which Christians have made into what we call Palm Sunday, or one week ahead of Easter

Death Passed Over

Jesus, being Jew, wanted to fulfill the injunctions of scripture and observe the fete set aside as are annual obligation upon every Jew, as it remains to this time an obligation for the Jew to observe the day which is a reminder of that time in Egypt when the Angel of Death passed over the houses of Israelites to go on and blight every Egyptian home with death for its first born

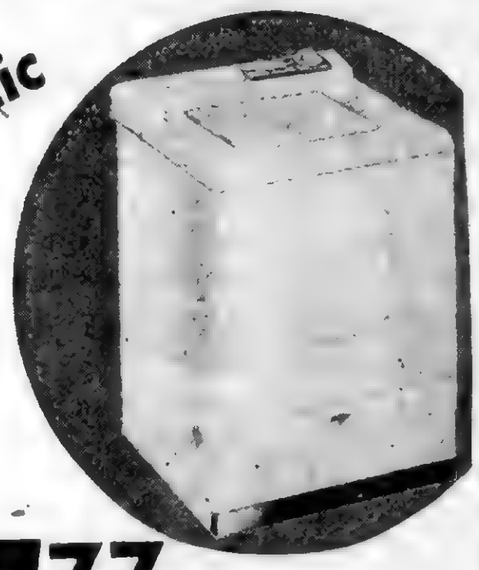
Records indicate that for a long time there was quite a long-drawn-out argument between the Christian Jews about continuing the Passover celebration as an occasion for remonding Christians of the resurrection of the Christ. Then the argument got into the early church in Asia Minor as well as in Jerusalem, and, a long time, later, into Rome. The struggles between factions are not as important as is the fact that in the course of time our Easter became an established memorial.

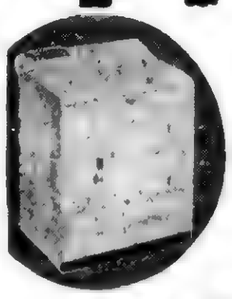
Date is Moveable

The date is set for modern observance, as it has been for hundreds of years, for the first Sunday after the full moon following the vernal equinox. There is one exception, in England, where the Church of England observes the day one week later if the Passover occurs on the Sunday we observe here; this to avoid competing with Jews for observance of the day.

How did rabbits and other material things get wrapped up with Easter? That is a long story, and when it's told there may be doubt as to the complete authenticity of the story. But it is generally accepted that the rabbit, which is of great fecundity, became a symbol because at Easter time we are looking ahead to a new productive period of our existence—the spring, before the crops are in

Riches Ahead





That element had much sway among peoples of ancient times as is still so among many peoples of the earth today. Our present Easter egg hunts are in the same classification, and interpret our hopes for a good new season, for prosperity, as Nature renews its life and brings to us riches from the earth.

For many the word "debit" suggests slavery to top-heavy financial obligation and distressed minds, but others find in the roadside strewn flower carpet in undulating woods a debit which cheers the heart and releases the mind into contemplation of the unlimited glories throughout nature. Leader Man Interviews Marion Twp. Freeholders On Annexation Stand

Apparently Large Majority Wishes To Join The City Of Columbus

Annexation of all of Marion Township and the Marion Local School District now being sought by a large group of citizens of that area, this week appeared to be receiving a very warm welcome

In an effort to learn the attitudes of residents of that area toward annexation The South Side Leader this week took a sample of public opinion there and found an almost overwhelming response in favor of the move

In most instances in fact there were few exceptions names of those queried were not asked thus permitting the interviewed person to feel safe against quotation which a number of persons specifically forbade

Made Explanation

There were some who explained a reluctance to annex to the big city not, some explained, that there was any feeling against Columbus but simply because they had their homes in a quiet area and did not want to be "built-upon" with industries businesses, and too many more homes

In one instance a housewife and mother in answer to the questions said they had bought their property 15 years ago had built their home had nourished and developed it into the lovely place it is now and they felt that the area should be allowed to remain of a semi rural nature as it is now

Taxes was the one point upon which many supporting annexation were joined by those opposing annexation regret that the township taxes were much higher than taxes in Columbus In one home it was stated that the taxes on the property would cost more than a similarly assessed property in Columbus to the "tune of $68.00" He then proceeded to enumerate the things which they did not have including garbage and refuse collection In that home it was felt that needed service would be had for considerable less taxes should the area annex

Annexation of the large segment of manufacturing in the area had removed from the tax rolls the largest tax payers, upon which taxes the building of the Marion Franklin High School had depended and upon which with segments going into Columbus to pay for the new junior high school This tax situation seemed to be the biggest hitch in stirring up a fight against annexation

'Tis Gone

Easter's gone! Often the thought arises Easter finery must be keen competition for the Spirit of Easter But as long as they run a neck and neck race maybe it won't be doing so bad Easter bunnies and egg hunts and the other habits most of which originated in Scandinavia are a bright spot to say nothing of the beauties on the heads of lovely ladies and the new gowns of course Happily the ladies remain and their beautiful finery.

Church Promotion

Had a pleasant visit but a quick one since we had to hustle away to keep an appointment with Rev W H Rapp of the South Side Baptist Church We left what he said about The South Side Leader Recently he purchased substantial space in the Leader to advertise a revival service in his church Today's visit was to tell us among other things that the advertising increased attendance did a good job he said Many churches in the larger cities like Columbus turn to the display advertising pages of the newspapers to keep the public informed of the churches and their services and the availability of the churches to material and spiritual needs Ministers increasingly sanctify a noble and honored agency to promote the spiritual welfare of their flock.

A Kind Policeman

A kind policeman and a happy thought combined to give the column this account of a kind policeman, as told to me by a man from Logan, Ohio. He was visiting Children's Hospital Saturday, where he was visiting a child of his own. He said: "The policeman answered questions, helped little ones who required it, was polite to everyone, from tiny tots up; made everyone happy." We thought we'd pass it on. Our visitor gave us the badge number, the police department gave us the name.

I Hear . . .

Yes, I hear about a sale—the word "sale" should be in billboard type—soon to be a-poppin' on the South Side. It's a secret, and I learned about it only because my little Tattle-Tale flew in through an open window and heard preparations. He's now forbidden to fly around in Tom Sharp's office—in disgrace for peeking with his hearing facilities! Oh, well, there's satisfaction in knowing that Tattle-Tale is resourceful — really efficient. I'll still depend upon him.

PLEASE BE AT EASE
• WE OFTEN have people tell us, in a rather relieved manner, how much at ease they feel in our establishment. To us this is a great compliment, for it is curious how many persons, even today, still associate somber bleakness with a funeral home. We have tried hard to impart to our establishment a feeling of friendly warmth and home-like comfort. For, surely, there can be no time when such surroundings are more important than in the hour of bereavement.

The project chairman for the Grant Hospital Alumnae Association has announced the schedule of events for the coming year, and the first one will take place today at the hospital. Mrs. Allen Pieplow, 153 E. Gates-st, is the chairman for the group. From 7 a.m. to 11 a.m. today, a bake sale is being held at the hospital.

Birthdays occurring in the opening days of April are Ralph Mertz, 384 Deshler-av, the 4th; Sarah Hughes, 1374 S. Fifth-st, the 5th; John E. Warner, 2408 S. High-st, the 7th; Donald Dicke, 1411 S. Sixth-st, the 9th; Willie E. Davis, 1460 S. Fourth-st, the 8th; and Benard Hetenhouser, 577 Kossuth-st, the 11th.

St. Ann's Guild 43 will meet tomorrow night at 8:30 in the home of Mrs. Robert Boyer, 1214 Wilson-av.

The PEBS Club (Past Executive Board of South) will meet next Tuesday, Apr. 10, in the home of Mrs. R. E. Newman, 2750 Welsford-av. On Apr. 16 the same group will celebrate the formation of their organization with a luncheon in the Sky Room of the Deshler-Hilton Hotel. Mrs. Rex Grate is president of the PEBS.

A South High graduate will exchange wedding vows with a New Yorker, Apr. 21. Patty Roach is the South High alumna who will become Mrs. Bill Cramer later in the month.

Joseph Spiker had the misfortune of hurting himself while at work, so we hope he'll mend quickly. Mr. Spiker is a resident of 67 Southwood-av.

The WSCS of Livingston Methodist will meet at 1 p.m. today. Miss Marion Brown, director of youth activities at Hansberger Methodist Church, will speak on "Adventuring in Discipleship."

Paula Kay Gregory, 32 Southwood-av, had two days of celebration last week-end for Mar. 31 was her birthday and, of course, Easter was Apr. 1.

The death of Judge Ross came as a shock to many South Siders, we know. We'll always remember him as a kind teacher at South High and a fine coach.

Election of officers was the main item of business at the Apr. 3 meeting of the South Side unit of the Columbus Symphony Club. The meeting was held at the Athletic Club and honor guests were prospective new members of the club.

Next Wednesday, Apr. 11, Circle 1 of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church will meet in the home of Mrs. John Schumacher, 3290 Groveport-rd. Assisting Mrs. Schumacher will be Florence Pence and Thelma Schumacher.

The losers of a recent contest held in the Job's Mothers' Club, Bethel 5, met on Apr. 3 in the home of Dorothy Weakley, 1440 Champion-av, to plan the party to be held Apr. 10 for the winners. The party will take place in the home of Ann Bray.

We certainly hope that the Apr. 21 birthday of Beth Edwards, 88 E. Innis, will find her once again on the "healthy" list. The soon-to-be 15-year-old has been ailing for nearly a month now, by way of explanation.

Marge Boyd, 1790 Wilson-av, rates a happy birthday today, as "howdy", Marge.

Don't forget tomorrow's concert at Central High School at 8 p.m. South Side children and mothers will actively participate in the Sixth Grade chorus, the All Junior High School chorus, All High School Orchestra and band, and the Mother-singers.

In addition, there will be the Central High School brass sextet, East High School vocal ensemble and Linden-McKinley School woodwind ensemble. General chairman is Mrs. Harry Spurgeon, an active South Sider in many organizations.

We're all out of things to write about, so will bow off the page till next week. Since this is the busiest time of year for many organizations, schools, etc., how about the publicity chairmen letting us in on the news? And naturally we're always interested in news of individuals and family doings. HI 4-1051 is the number to call. Till next week then, this is—

Magic To Be On Show All Monday

Steelton Furniture "has magic" in its store at 1857 Parsons, according to an advertisement on another page of today's Leader. It boils down to this, it seems: Hy Newton will be there to demonstrate the "Matchless 30-inch Magic Chef Range." He will be on the job at 1857 Parsons-av from 8 a.m. Monday until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and he expects to be kept quite busy throughout the day, he said.

Executive Board Of Barrett Jr. PTA To Meet

Barrett Junior High School PTA executive board meeting will be held at the school Tuesday, Apr. 10. Mrs Paul Barton publicity chairman, has announced.

An important subject to be considered by the board, Mrs Barton said, is the naming of delegates to the coming PTA conferences. Also, a report is expected on the Festival of Music held Apr. 6 at Central High School tion There was found much pride in the modern high school.

Annexation—

It was stated, repeatedly that with several other segments on the verge of entering the city merely waiting for action, which "is nearly automatic," as one Marion Township man expressed it, and several other small segments applications having been approved by the commissioners, taxes will of necessity soar, with the source of taxes having been made a part of Columbus

The Whole Thing

The investigator asked, repeatedly, whether there was organized opposition to forcible annexation. Some thought there was half-hearted opposition, but no one could suggest or tell anything about organized opposition, other than that of township employees

The Taxes

Checking up on the comparative tax rates, the personal property tax form issued by the county auditor was used to check comparative rates Under the heading of "Townships, School Districts, and Corporations," it was found "1 City of Columbus per 1000 $23 00"

Under Marion Township this "43. Marion Township, $29 20" That, pointed out one of the men interviewed, and who presented the auditor's tax form, is "a difference of $6 20 per $1,000"

Poo-pood

Others took the position that it is worth more to live in the area as it is than to pay less and live in an industrial area, which, many said, is expected to eventuate quicker as a part of the city than if outside of the city Some people took the position that they are better off now than they possibly can be in the city to indicate that while there appears to be no organized and financed opposition a substantial number, at least, wish they could have it as it is without the penalties which proponents of annexation say will be certain to develop

Committee for Annexation

The following committee for annexation has been announced and the "agent" for the program Joel Snyder, told the Leader that this committee is the "locomotive" with steam in the campaign for signatures on petitions to be submitted to the county board of supervisors

Mrs Frank D Batteiger, 1166 Woodrow-av, HI. 4-4150; Mrs Edward Craver, 580 Elwood-av, HI 4-8063; Chester A. Davis, 2796 Fairwood-av, Hi. 3-2178; Miss Alma Fischer, 84 Fornof-rd, HI 3 2784; Carl Fischer, 120 Fornof rd HI 3-4315; O. D Freeman, 1024 Williams-rd, HI. 4-3417

Harris Retires—

South High Junior

Harris was a junior at South High School when he started in the gas business He took a part-time meter reading job with the Columbus Artificial Gas Company in 1906. After graduation from high school in 1908, he was hired on a full-time basis by the Columbus Gas and Fuel Company, which had taken over Columbus Artificial Gas.

As a service man for the next seven years, he made his calls first with a push cart, then with a horse and buggy and later with a motorcycle and an automobile He was one of four service men employed by the gas company in Columbus at that time. (In contrast, Ohio Fuel today has 102 service men in the Columbus district.)

Returns Home

In 1915 Harris was transferred to the office as a clerical worker Two years later he moved to Dayton to work. In 1925, two years after Ohio Fuel had been formed he returned to Columbus as a district service man He was promoted to supervisor of meter reading in 1926, and made storekeeper at the Ohio Fuel warehouse in 1935

Harris is an avid baseball fan and fisherman He is a member of Agonis Club and the Quarter Century Club, composed of Ohio Fuel employees with 25 or more years o service. He was presented a 45-year service pin by Ohio Fuel in 1953

A daughter, Mrs. Carl Cook, and her husband, live with Harris and his wife, Ella.

Dedication—

Msgr. Edmund A. Burkley, pastor of St. Mary's Church.

Oliver Gedeist, editor of The South Side Leader, will be among the community leaders called upon to make appropriate remarks.

Invitations

Although formal invitations were sent only to pastors, principals, PTA heads, and officers of organizations comprising the Council of South Side Organizations Miss Bausch emphasizes:

"The Sunday program is a community event," she declared. "All our friends of throughout the years and our new friends are invited to take part and to share our pride in this wonderful library building. In addition to admiring the many items of furniture and equipment which will make our staff more efficient in serving South Siders, I'm certain everyone will enjoy browsing through our many new books and magazines."

Among those taking part in the dedicatory rites will be members of the library board of trustees, civic leaders, and representatives of state and county government.

"GOOD INTENTIONS"

"Good intentions" is like a rocky, gulley-filled road, where the driver gets fouled-up. "Good intentions" is the excuse for being wrecked on the rocks of carelessness. And there's no lifeboat to go to the rescue. Bad intentions with good results is better than good intentions with bad results. Doing is better than intending.

from..... OG's NOTES

Many Friends Mourn

A lot of people on the South Side will be sorry that Bill DeConnick died Sunday evening. This column was to carry a request for "carding" Bill on his expected return home early this week. About the time the request was being written, Bill's death came suddenly and unexpectedly. The family lives at 167 Welsh-av. Bill's tool sharpening business brought him into wide contact—and friendships A huge number of friends are sad.

That's What It Is

Nostalgia. That's wha' it is, and it bit me just as I was reading Hoermle's advertisement in this issue of the Leader, about lawn mowers and things like that, and then I thought of the scythe and the sickle which I swung when I was little I am glad so many people can have so many things that we didn't have when I was a little shaver — and for a long while afterward. So, Messers Hoermle I hope you sell every doggoned mower you have in your stock!

Civic Pride

That there abides high civic pride in things of local importance was demonstrated Sunday afternoon by the number of people attending the dedication of Parson's new branch library

Lions Smart People

No effort is made for a pun here. For the Lions we speak of are club members — the harmless variety However, they are aggressive in their efforts, and maybe that's why now and then they take time off to have some fun. There's a new story in the Leader today telling of a party

Mercy Hospital Receives Check For $17,950 From Foundation

Superintendent Charles Beard of Mercy Hospital Tuesday announced the receipt of a check from the Ford Foundation for $17 950, one-half of a previously allotted total of $35 900, the superintendent told The South Side Leader.

Setting up the fund for Mercy was on the basis of the number of patients per day over a period of time

The fund, Superintendent Beard said, is for the purpose of increasing the service the hospital can give and maintaining through physical and other improvements increasing care for the ill. Other hospitals in the city have, it is understood received larger amounts, based upon the number of patients the hospital can accomodate.

Part of the funds just received from the foundation will be allotted to the purchase of air conditioning equipment for the new annex building.

During the past few months the hospital has installed a new elevator and established a central sterile supply room. The elevator and the supply room are considered major projects

Mercy's expansion program is indicated by the purchase of new property on Southwood and on Jenkins, although no definite plans have been made, it is believed at this time

It is understood that the hospital will receive the second half of the award in March, 1957.

Parsons Branch Library Dedicated Last Sunday

Parsons Branch Library's new $99,000 building was dedicated last Sunday afternoon in the presence of a large and enthusiastic audience The new building is located at 845 Parsons-av.

The new library building one of the most modern in design structure and appointments, has been in use since January, when Miss Margaret Bausch, head librarian, and her associates moved from a storeroom at Cline and Parsons, where it had served the South Side public since its opening 28 years ago.

The attractive building is one story, and is of brick and concrete with an inside color scheme of light green and salmon walls, and furnishings of natural birch wood. The commodius new building houses about 15 000 books, 13,000 more than were in the library when it opened in 1928

The Rev Joseph Marsalko, pastor of the Hungarian Evangelical and Reformed Church, offered the invocation and the Rt Rev Msgr Edmund A Burkley, pastor of St Mary's Church, pronounced the benediction, following a brief and appreciated message which he gave at the request of the chairman

J A Meckstroth, president of the board of trustees of the Columbus Public Library System and editor of the Ohio State Journal, was chairman of the meeting, conducting the meeting as well as outlining the history and purposes of the library, and introducing a number of people associated with the construction of the library

Following this part of the program, Oliver Gedeist, editor of The South Side Leader, was introduced and spoke briefly on the function of the library and its value to the community

Central High Is Doorway Through Which Youth Moves To Future

A time of decision is quickly bearing down on this year's ninth grade student who must choose his course of study for senior high school beginning next September.

Generally, two avenues are open to the teen-ager at this point—he may choose an academic, the so-called college preparatory program, or he may elect a vocational line of study designed to prepare him for entering various trades and skills

The nature and purpose of the traditional academic field of study is fairly well-known On the other hand because of the relative newness of the vocational line of study, the student and his parents may through lack of information, not be able to make the best choice for the teen-ager involved

For All The City

Specialized vocational studies for students from all parts of the city are located in the Vocational Division of Central High School. Courses are offered in six fields with an eye to preparing pupils for employment leading to skilled jobs in various industries, business, and services.

Why should a student consider a vocational course? Would he, by emphasizing specialized job training, limit the opportunities open to him in comparison with graduates of regular academic courses? What is the attitude of industry and business toward this type of program? These are questions concerning the vocational school program that must be answered by students and parents before the teen-ager decides on a high school program These are the questions to be discussed here.

For purposes of illustration, let's invent a sample case Let's call our teen-ager John—he is interested in electricity and electronics, but for some reason, John believes he would not like to spare the time or expense of further classroom study on this subject after high school.

Wants More

John thinks that the vocational school's curriculum of study in electricity and electronics would be interesting and helpful to him, but at the same time, he feels that he wants to get as much liberal education (those subjects which help the student understand and get along in the world about him, such as English, history, civics, etc) as possible while he has the opportunity to acquire them. These liberal courses

Students in Electrical Trades course begin to specialize in 10th grade, learning house, industrial and general wiring circuits, then progress to electrical motors. At 11th grade level, students may choose either to follow industrial electricity field, or begin electronics. Boys at right are in their senior year. The electronic marvel of television holds little mystery for them. They use testing equipment and up to-date service techniques to put actual electronic equipment into working order.

John wants to know if the advantages of specialized training will outweigh the loss of liberal courses. Will he really gain anything in the eyes of his future employer, by having a basic knowledge of electricity? Will he get more pay than the regular academic student when he begins working" Why should he study fundamentals that an apprenticeship in his chosen trade might require him to duplicate when he is out of school"

Answers to these questions and more have been supplied by H D. Washburn, vice-principal of Central High School in charge of the vocational program, and several members of the city Board of Education.

Had To Chop

Many courses, by necessity, have been chopped from the academic program in order to make time for specialized vocational training However, state requirements in basic subjects have been retained. If, however, John had planned to enter college immediately after his graduation from vocational high school, he should take additional courses in world history, English and language in order to meet most college entrance requirements.

Time devoted to these latter subjects in the academic curriculum has been devoted, to basic fundamentals of John's chosen trade—in this case, electricity and electronics John will study circuit theory, electric motors, industrial wiring, and, if he chooses, electronic principles wave theory, detectors, vacuum tubes He will learn HOW, and more important, WHY he does the things he does and WHY the materials and elements he works with behave as they do

When John graduates, with a high school diploma he may go to work as an electrician in industry or construction, as an electronics man with a radio-TV repair shop or as a communications technician

Apprenticeship

Like his graduating counterpart in the academic courses, he will probably have to start work as an apprentice He may, or may not, depending on the hiring company, get more pay than the student who has received no training whatsoever in the basic fundamentals of his trade.

However, John does have several advantages! He will progress much faster through apprenticeship because he knows the principles and fundamentals that the former academic student has yet to learn. He knows, too, that he is definately interested in this type of work, and that there will be little danger of numerous job shifts because he "hasn't made up his mind"

More important, since John knows WHY as well as HOW (and how is just about all the average apprentice will have time to learn), he has a better chance to progress faster and further in his chosen field than the student in an academic course who failed to follow this general education through with specialized training

Perhaps the greatest advantage John enjoys lies in the fact that he will not be working with new materials in new situations Through training in vocational school he has become familiarized with the tools, processes and equipment of the trade. He will lack that trait almost universally common to the novice-uncertainty and timidity

These will be replaced by a confidence of manner and self-assurance usually found only in the journeyman

Into High Gear

Central's vocational program swung into high gear in 1955 with the formal opening of six separate courses of study Vocational classrooms comprise most of the ground floor down the entire length of the Central High building The students who walk these

Sunday School WEEK

Worship with them this week

Naturally you want them to have all the good things in life . . . a happy home . . . a good education . . . plenty of chances to meet other nice young people.

But be sure, too, that you give them the most precious gift of all . . . Faith. When you give it—you give the youngsters the world—and all.

The wonderful part is that faith is yours to give . . . no matter who you are, what you do for a living, how much money you have in the bank.

Faith is the gift you give a little at a time. Every week you and the children worship together at your church or synagogue. The youngsters see you . . . the biggest, smartest, most important people in their world . . . asking God for help, thanking Him for blessings. Then it's clear to them . . . here they can always find the strength they need, always find the happiness they want.

Then you've done the best a parent—any parent—can do.

Automotive Trades student (left) uses a torque wrench to tighten cylinder heads on a Ford V-8 engine. Boys beginning this course work with stationary motors, dismantling and exploring them and putting them in running order. School room is equipped with a valve grinder, tachometer and other testing equipment. At right, an 11th grade student works on his own car which is raised on the shop's rack. Juniors and seniors advance to "live" cars belonging to themselves, the school and faculty.

Welding is one of the sideline courses offered to students in metal trades course. This boy uses an acetylene torch to cut metal slab. Welding shop is equipped with enough of these torches and welding equipment to handle a fairly large class. Students in this course also get draftsmanship and patternmaking while becoming thoroughly acquainted with the operation of various machine shop equipment.

halls are not castoffs from the academic school. "They are," said Washburn, "students who show an interest and aptitude for their particular studies. We accept students only if their intelligence levels are of high average and up."

In this first in a series of two articles, three of the six courses of vocational studies will be described generally and briefly. Automotive trades, Electrical trades and Metal trades will be looked into this week; next week we will examine printing, distributive (selling) education and resturant trades.

Automotive Trades

This course deals primarily with automobile repair. When a student enters this course, at the 10th grade level, he is introduced to the shop, tools used, and the automobile engine. He gets related subjects such as shop theory, math, auto theory and wiring.

He works with a stationary engine, mounted on a regular auto frame. Central has several different types of motors; donated by various commerical garages and organizations.

In the junior grade and senior auto shop courses, the student advances to "live" cars—those which he would encounter in the average garage. He may work on his car, his family car, school vehicles and faculty cars. All parts used in the repair of these "live" autos are paid for by the owner.

Metal Trades

This vocational course is designed for students with aptitudes and interests in working with machinery. Those who look forward to becoming machinists, welders, patternmakers, draftsmen, toolmakers or junior engineers will feel at home in this course.

The beginning student is introduced to basic shop machines, their operation, reading blueprints, basic draftsmanship and operational procedure.

Advanced students make tools and machinery parts requiring greater skill and operate a variety of shop machinery. In this course, as in the other five vocational subjects, the Why of the operation is emphasized as well as How to do it.

Metalworking shops, like the other vocational classrooms are elaborately furnished. The machineshop contains 48 machines of 10 varieties. The latest addition to this section of the school is a turret lathe.

Mrs. Nettie Swormstedt, Reporter

Inspired by preparations for the art display at the school, the second grade in Miss Davis' room visited the Columbus Art Gallery Friday afternoon, Mar. 23. The Egyptian mummy case, ancient stone carvings, the paintings of the Madonna and the Christ Child —all seemed fasciating to the children. A entrancing ride on the big freight elevator took them down to the children's room, where Mrs. Kiernan Johnson explained the exhibit of various art contributions from school children all over the community.

On Thursday afternoon just before our Easter holiday the kindergarten and Miss Kochensperger's first grade took part in an egg hunt. The children, each one, brought two or three eggs colored at home or crayoned at school, to be hidden on the playground by one of the older boys. As it was to be a sharing project, after the eggs were found all were shared, so that all the children had some to enjoy.

The Easter musical program was held Thursday morning at 10:30. Karen Wilburn read the biblical passages about Passion Week, while the fifth and sixth grades sang the Easter songs, assisted by trumpets and clarinets. Miss Morris, director of the program, was at the piano.

Val Peterson, Civil Defense administrator: "It is taking a long time for the significance of living in the nuclear age to seep into the minds of people."

Good Man To Hear

If you're in Roosevelt Jr. High area, be sure to hear Rabbi Nathan Zelizer at 7:45 o'clock this evening at the PTA meeting. He will speak on "Have Faith In Our Teen-Agers." I have an idea the Rabbi remembers when parents said of children, 35 or 40 years ago that the "younger generation will come to no good end." I remember—and I have more faith in teen-agers than the older people of my youth days had in us. I think you'll enjoy Rabbi Zelizer.

Barrett's Album Brings Happy Italian Response

A letter from Scuola A. S. Novaro del Monastero, Genova-Sampierdarena, Italy, came to Miss Wallace's foreign language class at Barrett Junior High School a few days ago. It was an acknowledgement of an album prepared by the class under Miss Wallace's direction and sent to the school in Italy.

Betty Sue Edwards, Suzanne Windmiller, Mary Soltesz, Jerry Filichia, Mary Beth Whitacre, Audrey Heiser, Priscilla Dicke, Theresa Albert, Shirley McCaffrey, and Donald Ball procured material concerning clubs, cafeteria, sewing, cooking, and shop rooms, office and class rooms, and assembled the album in time to send it last January.

A Letter of Acknowledgement

Dear friends:

We are very happy to receive your friendly message and we thank you most heartily.

Your nice album was greatly enjoyed by all of us and we have appreciated your fine work very much.

We have read it from cover to cover and we were really delighted with the many cards of your beautiful city. But above all we were interested in learning what goes on in an American school.

Knew About Us

We already had a fair knowledge of your great country and school, because our Latin teacher, who visited the United States three years ago, sometimes recounts to us the wonderful experiences she went through. She seems to have liked American life and school systems very much.

Our teacher's talks as well as the samples you supplied us, enabled us to understand what are the differences between Italian and American schools.

We understand that the many clubs, plays, parties, games, and the various student-run activities make your school day a very busy, but also a very enjoyable one.

Such opportunities are not offered in our school. We do not have any sports program; only physical education is required of every student a few hours a week. Besides, we must study hard as, at the end of the year, we are to take examinations in eight different subjects.

We should love to learn singing or playing some instrument, but music is not included in our courses.

They Were Amazed

We were very amazed to realize that in your school there is such a perfect musical organization, and we have enjoyed a lot of listening to the nice records of your glee club.

We are now working to prepare for you an album with cards and descriptions of our city and its surroundings, which we shall send you before the end of this school year. We hope you will like it.

We are anxious to carry correspondence with you, and we shall be very glad to hear from you again.

With best greetings

The Third Grade Girls of A. S. Novaro Junior High School

City Officials Plan To Attend The S. S. Off-Street Parking Meet

Substantial progress has been made in arranging for off-street parking in the South Side Steelton business area, according to Secretary Tom Sharp of the South Side business group

Announcement was made Monday that a meeting will be held Tuesday, April 24, 8 p.m., at St. Ladislaus School auditorium, with a number of officials of the city present to assist in determining exact policies of the organization in setting up parking facilities for the purpose of facilitating shopping in the area.

An Open Meeting

While the meeting has been called by officials of the organization, the meeting is open to everybody, it was said, who may be interested in improved parking facilities in the area. It is expected that a large number of business men from all over the South Side Leader area will be in attendance at the meeting

Officials attending will be those who have some interest or responsibility in the regulation of traffic and in the problem of parking — off the streets, that is. They will be prepared to advise and answer questions which may be asked by anyone interested in the parking problem, which is said to be acute in all business areas of the South Side.

Federal Glass Helps

Announcement of details of an area having a capacity of about 100 cars will be made at the meeting, it is understood. Details are expected to be given by Harold W. Taylor, assistant to the president of Federal Glass, owner of one area to be used for off-street parking.

Some of the public officials to be in attendance at the meeting are Public Service Director Floyd Reddick, Traffic Engineer James Musick, Off-Street Parking Director James Dixon, Traffic Commission Chairman Otto Meier, Dr O. J. Fillinger, Columbus City Council president; City Councilman Ralston Westlake. It is expected that other members of the city government will attend

It is understood, without verification, however, that further areas for off-street parking in or near the Steelton district will be made available as soon as details have been worked out.

Much Work To Do

That there will be a great deal of preparation before available spaces may be used for off-street parking has been indicated by the statement that lighting will have to be provided for entry and parking and leaving, and that areas will have to be raked and will require various kinds of preparation before becoming available for actual use

It is, a spokesman said, the purpose of Steelton Merchants to expedite all the required work so shoppers will find comfortable parking while doing their shopping.

Second Half Of Vocational Studies Finds Youth Keyed For Success

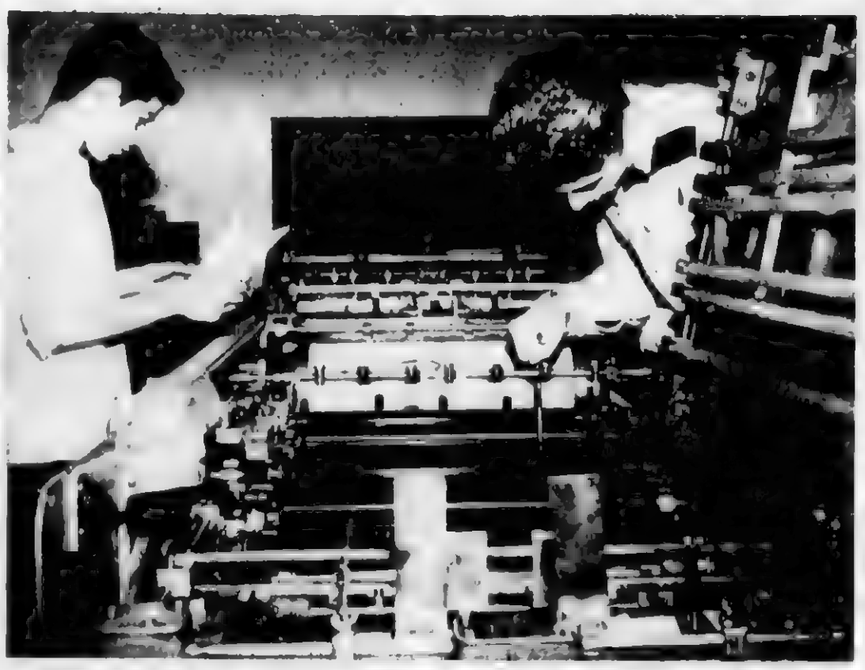
(Editor's note: This is the second in a series of two articles surveying the city vocational school program at Central High School.)

By Bill Easterling

What is the attitude of industry and business toward the graduate of a vocational school program? By emphasizing specialized job training, would the student limit the opportunities open to him in comparison with graduates of regular academic courses?

When the graduate of a vocational course goes out job hunting, he will have to compete with thousands of other eager seekers —many of whom will be his academic school counterpart.

Personnel workers in employment offices of the city's various industries and businesses are by no means agreed on universal qualifications that tend to make the job applicant "a good man." Each type of work calls for its own set of qualifications. All personnel offices in the industries and businesses will be contacted in connection with this article, however, named several desirable qualities which they look for in a prospective employee, regardless of particular job requirements.



They said they began to give serious consideration to an applicant when he expressed an interest and aptitude for the particular job he applied for. The teenager who comes in "looking for any kind of work" has less chance of even getting an interview.

Experience, sociability, enthusiasm, ambition and stability of the individual applicant are factors which figure into the employment offices' decisions on hiring. Obviously, with the exception of experience, these qualities are not restricted to vocational school graduates, nor, for that matter, any type of graduate.

What Are the Advantages?

What, then are the advantages, in the eyes of the hiring office, possessed by the vocational program graduate? What caused a local manufacturing firm, during the 1952 business slump, to come to Central's metal trades classroom for the purpose of interviewing students as prospective employees?

In most cases, the advantage lies in specialized training received by the vocational student. Especially in the metal trades, electrical trades, automotive trades and printing courses, the student gets basic and advanced instruction in the fundamentals and related subjects of the particular trade involved, as well as an abundance of actual practice on equipment used in those trades. In addition to having learned "how," the student has been given "theory" courses which help him realize why the materials and elements he works with behave as they do.

Student pressmen inspect the work turned out by a small flatbed letterpress. The print shop contains three major types of presses—flatbed, job and offset. Vocational courses are not limited to boys only, though naturally enough, few girls have enrolled in the program. One female student is enrolled in the printing trades course, however.

Personnel Directors Speak

"We have found," said the personnel director of a large Columbus manufacturing firm, "that students with vocational training (in this case metal trades) have worked out very well for us. Each year we go down to Central to interview the boys in the machine shop and in patternmaking. We've gotten good boys—some of them are foremen now."

This same firm found that because of training received in vocational school, their Central-trained employee was able to progress rapidly through the

Students beginning in printing trades course first learn to hand set individual pieces of type in a "composing stick." Then as they progress, they learn make up, composition, and operation of small hand, (manual) letterpress.

Men Redecorate For Style Show

Needle and Thread Guild ladies of the Hungarian E&R Church are busily preparing for its first style show, scheduled for May 10 in the church basement. Enthusiasm for the event has transferred to the Church Brotherhood, whose members are redecorating the basement for the occasion. Mrs. Andrew Fuleki, Jr. chairman, is experienced in organizing style shows. Her committee is Mrs. Martin Finta, Jr., Mrs. John Gadnai, Mrs. George Bockoras, Mrs. Joseph Nagy, and Mrs. Andrew Szekely.

The only man who makes money following the races is the one who does so with a broom and shovel.—Elbert Hubbard.

Spring clean-up time is a good time to conduct a safety check on your home, folks. So, why not take advantage of your spring clean-up to inspect the attic, the basement and other out-of-the-way places where accident hazards may be lurking. The Safety Council of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce says make sure every room in your home is on the safe side. Check those accidents before they happen!

Central's distributive education classes, in cooperation with several downtown department stores, are designed for students who wish to become sales people, store operators, buyers, stock workers, cashiers, alteration workers, and merchandise managers. Here, students dress a manikin in the distibutive education classroom show window. The classroom is set up in the manner of a small shop.

Student chef in the vocational program's restaurant training course prepares to drop an oyster roll in the class kitchen's deep fryer. Probably one of the most complete restaurant trades training facilities in the area, the school contains a large kitchen and dining room. Guests by appointment and faculty members are served in the restaurant. The course is primarily for those interested in becoming restaurant managers, tea room managers, chefs or pastrymen.

Printing students, at the end of their junior year, may elect studies in lithography. This course covers fundamentals of camera operation, opaqueing and stripping-in negatives, plate-making and offset press operation.

Here, a student serves coffee to two faculty members. By operating as a noon-time restaurant, the school is able to pay many of its own expenses. Menu-plans, preparation and service are handled by students under the guidance of an instructor.

Vocational Studies—

firm's own training program. Because cost and time involved for the company in on-the-job teaching was reduced by 25 to 30 per cent, the vocational graduate has become an attractive prospect.

This firm further found that, on the average, the skilled vocational student began work with about $30 per month more starting pay than the academic student who had been restricted to beginning as an unskilled employee.

"Industry needs people who are interested in skilled trades," said one personnel manager, "We've got enough—too many — white collar people."

"We need more vocational students" he continued, "and we need more vocational schools. A student who shows a high aptitude in mechanics, or any of the skilled trades, has a right to the type of education which will benefit him most along those lines."

Distributive Education

A survey of several downtown department stores participating in the vocational school's distributive education course revealed a similar satisfaction with vocational training.

One personnel manager said, "In my opinion, the vocational students at this store are working out fine. I think it's a wonderful plan." Distributive education students worked in this store four hours each afternoon as a part of their regular school work and many continued at the same store after graduation.

This same personnel manager felt that the vocational graduate had a better chance for advancement because of his specialized training in the merchandising field.

The personnel manager of another downtown department store — one which employs academic students who come to work for us after they have completed their school training, because they have been working here as part of their training program, enjoy a chance for more rapid advancement."

As to employment opportunities at this store, the personnel manager said that this depended, to a great degree on the individual applicant's personal qualifications. "We haven't made a study on the number of vocational students we hire. The distributive education course is relatively new," said the personnel man, "so we haven't felt its influence too much."

"In this business," the personnel director said, "we get a lot of our people from colleges and business schools. We find, too, that our best vocational students go on to college."

Final Three

In last week's article, we discussed the courses offered teenagers interested in metal trades, electrical trades and automotive trades. This week, we will inspect the type of training offered in the three remaining vocational programs—printing trades, distributive education and restaurant trades.

Printing Trades

Sophomores entering the printing trades course begin by learning the fundamentals of the letterpress. Usually they start by hand-setting type, make-up and lock-up in a press form, and running off their work on a hand (manual) press.

On the junior level, students may elect to remain with letterpress work and advance to automatic press operation, or, they may choose to learn lithography.

Lithography involves camera work, negative masking, plate-making and operation of an offset press.

Restaurant Trades

Central's restaurant trades course is one of the newest additions to the vocational program. Students are taught to prepare and serve restaurant type meals as well as to handle the business end of restaurant work.

Tenth grade students begin by preparing simple dishes. On the 11th grade level they go into cake baking and decorating, biscuits, salad dressings, preparation of meats, and table service.

Restaurant trades students, under the guidance of a proficient instructor, operate a restaurant in the basement level of Central which caters to teachers and visiting groups by reservation.

Distributive Education

Distributive education classes are designed to prepare the student for employment in the general merchandise field. It is a broad course, covering subjects from receipt of merchandise to final sale. A great deal of the program is carried out while students work in downtown department stores.

Students begin with learning display techniques and personnel problems, advancing to sales, distributive theory and problems

During the student's senior year, he or she will spend four morning periods in the distributive education classroom at Central, and take afternoon on-the-job instruction at one of several co-operating stores. Students are paid by the store, but are under the supervision of the regular distributive education instructor.

Student Can Choose

This series of two articles outlining the city vocational program at Central High School has been presented with an eye to helping the ninth grade student and his parents choose the type of high school education which will best suit his own personal needs.

The main purpoose has been to outline the advantages of the vocational program. It has not been an attempt to recommend this specialized training for every student. Certainly, those teenagers who have definitely decided on a college education will find the regular academic program will provide them with a broader, more liberal background.

To overlook the training recognized by several local industries and businesses as "excellent," however, would, depending upon the individual situation of the teen-ager, be something like betting on every horse except the winner.

Scioto Trail News

The room was full of flying birds—paper ones, that is,—and flowers of many colors, for the children had just completed their unit on these two springtime favorites and had made their Nature Books. This was in Mrs. Caroline Snell's second grade. And that year-around favorite, Winnie the Pooh, had come in for plenty of attention, for a large mural had been made of him. Mrs. Snell says that drawing is one of her own hobbies, together with knitting and swimming. A native of Akron she graduated from OSU in 1953 and has taught at Scioto Trail a little over two years. Her husband Richard, will finish at State in law in June

The Parent-Teacher Club was well attended in spite of the threat of thunder storms. Officers elected for the following year are, president, Mrs. Dorothy Roberts; vice-president, Mrs. Esther Freshour; secretary, Mrs. Anne Womeldorf; treasurer, Mrs. Ruth Johnson. Forty-five minutes of the evening were given over to visiting the classrooms to see the children's art work. Following that, the class of girls who have been studying creative dancing, entertained with a performance. Refreshments were then served.

SYMPATHY

Sympathy is a nice virtue. If it is real, it reaches in to heart of another and cheers. Cheer lead to joy and joy to appreciation. That reacts to the happiness of the one showing sympathy. But "alligator" tears are bunk and bad and leaves a bad taste.

Generosity Hoped For

A little boy died . . . probably because he did not understand the dangers he faced at the river's edge — compounding misery upon family miseries. It is hoped that philanthropically inclined souls will seek for opportunities to help the grandmother and mother of the child. They've had more than should be heaped upon the shoulders of two women.

That Parking Problem

Steelton Merchants are taking steps . . . seeking to help customers of the businesses in the area. This idea should seize upon business groups in all parts of the South Side — since competition from great marketing centers throws down the challenge of great modernity — including parking place for customers. It's a time when MERCHANDISERS should merchandise! That includes making shopping convenient for shoppers, and in alluring environment.

Merchandising

Merchandising has been going on in some fashion since barter developed among peoples. Thousands of years ago, when time was comparatively young, men bartered among themselves — sometimes for women, other times for food and wearing apparel — or maybe for the camels which fashioned transportation in a large area of the world. Today the biggest, most profitable business houses are those in which careful buying and advertising permits making alluring prices to customers — and letting the public know through bold, honest, intelligently prepared advertising. The public expects this and goes where it is found.

Fascinating Story

Some things that are past and some things of now will appear in this or an early succeeding issue of The South Side Leader One of the things of now is the first brick house built in what is now the City of Columbus. Details were supplied by Mrs. Mary Merion Pedlar of 1427 Parsons-av. She is the great great-granddaughter of the builder of that first brick house. Her ancestor came here from Boston, using a compass as a guide.

Stories Welcomed

The editor of The South Side Leader will welcome information about buildings or people carrying the aroma of historic interest Stories may involve businesses and buildings, or just people whose ancestors or buildings remain as a part of the community.

Two Three-Act Comedies Offer Fun, Humor At Mohawk School Auditorium, April 27

Around St. Mary's High School it's reported that "Holy Cow" is the familiar cry of Dexter heard throughout the play "Meet Corliss Archer."

The two sets of often dumb-founded parents, Mr. Archer, Jerry McElhatten; Mrs. Archer, Mary Zang; Mr Franklin, Donald Hodgson; Mrs. Franklin Roseanne Sergio; Mildred and Betty who portray Corliss' best friends, Martha Friley and Carol Erb, respectively. The doctor, Richard Leist; the nurse, Rosemarie Barrett; housemaid Jean Hermann; a snoopy cousin Agnus who jumps to conclusions, Phyllis Stephenson.

ART comes first in the three-act comedy, "A Lucky Penny." There are plenty of laughs and catchy business. The title roles are held by Judy Kaudgerer as Penny, William Moore as Kerry. There's spunky Grandma, Peggy Sanderell; loyal Joanna, Patricia Croyle; helpful Greg, Michael Gill. The three pretty models, Georgina, Nancie Sauer; Vera Nancy Grispino; Susette, Judith Fry.,

Penny's exasperated father, Thomas Eisel; her frivolous mom, Rita Duckworth; wild eyed Mr. Daly, Terrence Tolbert; the brash photographer, Jude Fleshman; Miss Haskins the lady with the big-time contract, Rosemarie Jennings; Hulda the maid, Carol Holmes.

Carbon Monoxide Victims Are Buried In Greenlawn Tuesday

Robert and John Williams, respectively 19 and 11 years, were buried on Tuesday afternoon in Greenlawn cemetery, following funeral services in Schoedinger funeral home at 1 o'clock.

The two South Side boys died from carbon monoxide—from a gas heater in the bedroom in which they slept. Columbus Detective Sid Hoyt and other official investigators, said the gas heater was not vented. The two boys died in their sleep Saturday morning. They were the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Williams, 513 Cline-st.

Robert, who joined the navy two and a half years ago after graduating from Barrett Junior High School, had been home slightly less than three days. He had come on a furlough with 30-day leave. During the evening, the family said, Robert had attended a party given in his honor by brothers, sisters and their husbands and wives.

The young man arrived home from the party about midnight and retired about 12 30, it was thought.

The death of the brothers was discovered by their mother when she went up to awaken them. A blast of heat struck her as she opened the door, she said, and she knew they were dead as soon as she looked at them.

John was a fourth-grade student at Ohio Avenue Elementary School

The father of the boys, Sterling Williams, is reported suffering with a nervous disorder and has been hospitalized several times. Mrs. Williams is a night employe of a bakery concern. She was reported near collapse following the discovery.

Major Construction Starts At South High In June

Although much of the recently announced plans for school property improvement in the South Side will depend upon approval of a bond issue in the fall election, South High is ready to move into the expansion and alteration program as soon as school is out, Principal Huber told The South Side Leader last week.

One of the items on the agenda, it was said, is the enlargement of the metal shop, which is now inadequate The size will be increased to nearly twice the shop's present size, according to plans.

New Music Room

Another of the greatly needed improvements will be the new music room at the southeast corner of the building. This room is to be 70 feet long by 45 feet wide, it was announced. Instrument storage space will be provided, too, and three practice rooms will be in the changed-over building when the builders have finished their work. The practice rooms and office will be on the north side of the building.

Stairway

Another improvement, necessary to the successful functioning of related phases of the building, will be a stairway from the band room to the cafeteria level, while toilets for boys and girls will be established on the basement floor for lunch-time convenience.

Wood Shop

Expansion of the wood shop also is planned, it was said. This will be on the north side. This operation will require removal of partitions and office and relocation of machinery.

Cost of the operation to be performed on South High was given as $80,000 in the recent announcement by the board of education.

The work, Principal Huber said, will begin the day after school is out.

Other Schools

Other work has been designed for other South Side schools, but most of it depends upon the result of the bond issue vote in November. The board of education has pointed out that work has been continuing in the South Side and will continue, in some details, although the major needs will have to wait for a decision at the polls next November.

Many weddings-to-be take prior claim in the news today, so we'll start listing some of them. Mary Biete, South High grad, who resides at 1120 S. Pearl-st, will exchange vows with John McCabe, May 12. Mr. McCabe is an OSU graduate and is an associate of Battelle Institute.

Another May 12 wedding is that of Marianne Lombardi and Edward Pirik. Marianne, a resident of 38 Hinkle-av, is an alumna of St. Mary's High School, and Mr. Pirik of 236 Hinman-av, is a South High School graduate.

A former South Side resident recently underwent a serious operation and we're sure that cards would be most appreciated. Marian Becker, better known as "Mike", underwent surgery last week in Hanover, Pa. Her home address is 203 Spring Ave., Hanover, Pa. Her hospital room is 103, General Hospital.

Gertie and Darryl Williams are soaking up Florida sunshine at the present time. Gertie can be found at other times in her dad's office at ABC Carpet Cleaning Co.

Two birthdays occur on Apr. 29, so our best greetings to Theresa Shook, who will be four years old this Sunday, and to Maxine Crary, who will be—let's see—16 isn't it, Max? Theresa lives at 17 E. Sycamore-st and Maxine admires the pretty rosy wallpaper at 256 Deshler-av.

Two more weddings for this Saturday will unite Carol Ann Heinz to Gerald Kaiser. The other wedding is that of Nancy Ann Kustick and Thaddeus Golomkek. Carol Ann resides at 393 E. Jenkins-av and is a St. Mary's graduate. Gerald lives at 252 E. Reinhard-av. He is a St. Mary's graduate and attended Ohio University. Nancy Ann resides at 524 Hinman-av. Her husband-to-be is a former native of New Jersey.

Our deepest sympathy to the family of Celestia Jane Denney. The passing of a young mother is always so poignant, and especially when cancer is the culprit.

Gerri Baughman is again a grandmother. This time the new one is Jeffrey Allen of Dayton. Young Jeffrey was born Apr. 20 in Dayton, Ohio. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Dick Baughman.

The June Taylor—Mabel Olsen Circle of the First Baptist Church will meet in the home of Mrs. R. A. Pirtle, 1744 S. Champion-av, for a 12:30 p.m. dessert luncheon today.

Mr. and Mrs. John Luepp of 1342 Studer-av, and Mr. and Mrs. Irvine Stein, of 1311 Studer-av, recently visited Manatee County Public Beach in Florida.

Here's something that's really different, but it sounds like fun. The main waiting room of the Union Station will be a dancing area, for both round and square dancing. The music will be furnished by Herb Germaine's ordancing by Herb Germaine's orchestra. The people to participate will be members of the Pennsy Club, and Harold Hirschmann, 265 E. Innis-av, is the president of the group. The Pennsy Club in Ft. Wayne tried it and it worked so it will be tried in Columbus. We imagine it's closed to the "Pennsy Family," but the throught intrigued us, so we wanted to pass it along. Trains will run as usual, we'll hasten to add!

PTA news is of a diversified nature this week. Seems like Lincoln Park PTA will sponsor its annual talent show tonight, with 120 children participating in 40 acts. The show will be preceded by a short business session and the election of officers. St. Mary's PTA is conducting a drive to collect old or discarded 78 rmp records. Anyone wishing to contribute may contact the president, Mrs. C. J. McGrath, 353 Siebert-st.

Southwood School will hold its annual carnival next Friday, May 4.

Two April birthdays were those of Margie Fishbaugh, on the 16th of the month and Mabel Thacker on the 22nd. Both women are employes of the Old Tavern restaurant, and Miss Fishbaugh is the manager of the establishment.

Basking in the Florida sunshine these days is Barbara Conter of 57 E. Morrill-av. Barbara is vacationing from her nurses training at White Cross Hospital.

Good health wishes to Wilma Herrel of 1190 S. 22nd-st, and also to Mrs. Nora Houck and Mr. Scott Taylor.

Attended the operetta at South High last Thursday and want to congratulate Miss Winchester, Mr. Near and all the cast on the splendid performance. It took lots of hard work for such a fine job and everyone concerned deserves a pat on the back. We're sure the Friday performance was excellent too, so we'll include them in on the congratulations.

A young sailor, a South High grad, will bestow his name on a Linden-McKinley graduate, May 19, so our best to Gay Lynne Poole, Manchester-av and to John Dixon, 1163 Oakwood-av.

Mrs. Walter Otte is chairman of the 53rd annual banquet of the women's section of the Columbus Maennerchor, to be held Apr. 29, from 9 to 12. Co-chairmen are Mrs. Howard Hauck, Mrs. Bernard Brokaw, Mrs. German Henrich and Mrs. Wesley Keny. Serving on the committee are Mrs. Ralph Gilbert, Mrs. Don Conray Mrs. Howard Stammler, Mrs Casper Schiefer, Mrs. Gordon Scholz, Mrs. Otto Radusegge, Mrs. Ralph McDaniel, Mrs. Carl Moeller and Mrs. Andy Holzapfel.

Tomorrow will be the wedding day for Faith Badurina, 305 Frebis-av, and Richard Harvey. Our best to the young couple. As does all Columbus, we mourn with the Sterling Williams family, 513 Cline-st, in the tragic loss of two of their sons.

Don't forget the card party sponsored by Trudeau Guilds 19 and 24 tonight, at the Seneca Hotel, 8 o'clock. And, as a last reminder, this Saturday, the 28th, is the date of the square dance sponsored by Trudeau Guild 25 at the Onize Club House, 740 Jenkins-av. Time is 8 to 12 and round and square dance music will be furnished by Harold Martin's band. Door prizes and refreshments are part of the fare offered by the group.

Guess we've written about everything we had notes on, so we'll skeedaddle. Call us at Hi. 4-1051 and we'll gladly write your news. Till next time, then, this is

Beck Street School News

Hello friends of the South Side Leader: Today we are once again visiting Beck Street School. We are entering the east door of the school and are going upstairs to visit Mrs. Ruth Nelson's and Miss Wilma Borland's third-grade classes. Let's go into Mrs. Nelson's room and see what is going on today.

Time goes very quickly. First there are lessons. It is fun to try to spell our words perfectly for the week. We read about the health and safety problems; someone usually checks on who brushes his teeth before coming to school, helps mother, etc. We add and subtract in arithmetic, and are learning to multiply and divide, too.

Cursive writing is getting easier now—we used to do manuscript writing; of course, we want to do both nicely. Reading is such fun because we have such nice books this year. We have read from "Through the Green Gate", a visit with Miss Lizzie and the other people in Friendly Village; The Five-and-a-Half Club is new this year, and tells of the difficulties and fun of five and one-half (?) children in their club house.

Nice Family

"Five in the Family" shows us how nice it is to be a part of a family. "If I Were Going" takes us abroad to visit in England, Norway, Spain, Brittany, and Africa—the descriptions are lovely, and we enjoy "going" so much. We also have films to see of these countries. Of course, we are having phonics and learning new words every day when we have reading. In language we write stories and letters, and learn how to use "see, saw, seen," "is and are," etc.

Our unit on "Common Birds in Ohio" is a very long one, but a very interesting one to us. We interrupted our working on it to write an original play and do some singing games which we learned to do in music.

We are now studying about "Animals" with the help of our science book, "How Do We Know?" We will use our unit library, films, and are planning to take a trip or two. We plan to visit the new Columbus Branch Library on Parsons-av and to get library cards — several boys and girls in our room have cards now, and they are doing extra reading and reporting to the class about the things they read.

Three-Week Officers

We have officers in our room—their duties last for two or three weeks at a time. Everyone likes to help. We like quiet times to study, and we try to be thoughtful of others. Six of the pupils have been selected by the class as having the best study habits; most of the others are working to be included in this group.

We love to play games, and every once in a while we stop our work to take "Jack Out of the Box" and rest a minute, but we have other games, too. We never have time enough to do all we want to do. Time goes so fast in Room 11!

We are reluctant to leave this busy room, but we must. So we say good-bye to Mrs. Nelson's class and leave. We walk down the hall to Miss Wilma Borland's third-grade class, Room 11. As we enter we observe many interesting things the children are busily doing. We stop and talk to several children as we move around to see the children's work and ask questions. The children reported the following to us about their activities which help us to better understand each child's work.

What They Do

Arithmetic—We have reviewed addition and subtraction. Now we are working with multiplication and division problems. We have learned several games which help us to remember our combinations.

Our reading classes are working very hard this year. We are reading from "If I Were Going." The boys and girls enjoy this book very much. We are learning a great deal about the people, the customs and habits of the foreign lands. We see several murals depicting life in foreign countries. Some boys and girls are reading about animals and are finding out many interesting things about their habits.

We have three main aims in our language work: (1) to speak correctly, (2) to spell correctly, and (3) to write legibly. This year we received new spellers and language books. These two new books contain many interesting lessons and we are working with great interest in our writing, spelling and English. This is our year to write with cursive writing; we like it very much.

Social Studies

Our work in social studies is quite interesting, too. We are working on a unit about the solar system—that is, the study of the sun, moon, and the stars. The sky is quite an interesting thing. We have found out that the sun is quite far away from us, and we have found out what the distance is from the earth, and wry no human person has ever reached the sun or the moon. Do you know the difference between the sun and the moon? We have just found out what the difference is. Soon we will be studying about rocket ships and spacemen—how we love to think aout that! We are likewise interested in the use of atomic power to help us reach the planets found in the sky.

If you had been here in our room before Easter, you would have seen the boys and girls working busily making holiday favors. Miss Borland's third grade boys and girls made 75 nut cups for the Junior Red Cross. They designed bunnies, chickens, and rabbits for their decorations. The children felt that their Easter was happier because they had shared with other boys and girls who might have been less fortunate. I know you, like myself, certainly appreciate their doing this work and we extend our thanks and appreciation to them.

Time does go so fast! Before we realize it the 3:15 p.m. bell is ringing, the patrol boys are leaving the classrooms and going out to their corners, and so, with the patrol children leaving, we too will take our leave.

We hope you have enjoyed this day at Beck Street School and will be with us again when we visit two other classrooms.

Barrett Spanish Class Emulates Mexican Market

"South of the Border" last Friday seemed to have moved northward and landed in Barrett Junior High School—into Room 108, to be exact. Castilian was the prevailing language of the day in the Spanish class, while costumes from Mexico, Peru, Spain, Portugal, and Ecuador were worn by members of the Spanish classes.

An impression was created that persons just wandering in had found a real Mexican market place.

Engineer Speaker At Sunday Meet

Mrs. Emma Wilkerson, president, Southside Community League, has announced a regular meeting of the organization tomorrow (Friday) evening at St. Stephen's Community House. She said that final plans for the group's "Spectacular" for next Sunday at Hosack Baptist Church, will be completed. The speaker for the Friday evening meeting will be Traffic Engineer Jack Gallagher, Mrs. Wilkerson announced.

Announcement has been made that the first Saturday morning story hour in the new Parsons Library building has been set for next Saturday morning. The story hour, it was announced, is for boys and girls. The story hour starts at 10 o'clock—this Saturday, Apr. 28.

Leftovers

A good way to use up leftovers is to serve kabobs. These are small pieces of cheese, cold meat, pickles, or any other tidbit lined up on a toothpick or skewer.

South Side YMCA Gra-Y League News

The Gra-Y Leagues have entered their third week of play. Last Thursday night League showed the following results: Lincoln Park Greys, 12; Lincoln Park Scarlets, 5; Heyl Buckeyes, 11; Siebert Owls, 2; Heyl Globetrotters, 47; Stewart Indians, 7;

Lincoln Park Greys had 15 hits for a total of 12 runs as they added a victory over their fellow schoolmates, the Lincoln Park Scarlets. The Scarlets were limited to 5 runs as Lincoln Grey's pitcher, J. Bland, limited them to 6 hits.

Stewart Indians got off to a good start, but were soon surpassed by Heyl Globetrotters. The Globetrotters were really up for the game. Final score read 47 to 7 in their favor.

Heyl Buckeyes were also victorious in their game defeating a much improved Siebert Owls ball club. The final score was 11 for Heyl and 2 for Siebert. Both teams were tied up to the last inning when the buckeyes started a rally which netted 9 runs.

Tuesday night leagues were cancelled because of rain and will be rescheduled as soon as possible.

'Alice' Coming Back Friday

"Alice in Wonderland," which was presented last Friday night by the Children's Theater of Schiller Recreation Center, will have a repeat performance this Friday at 4:30 p. m.

The play met with such success and so many requests have been received for another performance, officials said, that it is being rescheduled for this Friday in order to give many of the younger children an opportunity to attend without having to be away from home after dark.

There will be no charge for admission and the public will be welcome, it was stated.

Speedway Readies New Track For May Opening Date

Officials of the Columbus Motor Speedway, have formally signed with CUSI (Columbus United Stockcar, Inc.), for the 1956 stock car racing season. The announcement was made by Bill Brown, promotion manager for the Southside raceway.

While no definite opening-date has been set, it is hoped that the Williams-rd track will be in condition to start around the middle of May. Inclement weather has delayed the completion of many improvements, the major one being the erection of a grandstand section, 110-feet in length and located just north of the Judges stand.

Another "first" at the Columbus Speedway, is the installation of a one-tenth-mile track, in the infield, for the racing of "T-Q" midgets, which is fast gaining popularity around the nation. Just when these midget races will run is still uncertain.

Under the sanction of CUSI, race fans can expect to see the same fine calibre of racing they witnessed in 1955, that drew close to 150,000 customers for 37 race meets and paid the drivers better than $71,000 in purse money.

Racing will be held both Friday and Sunday nights.

A Cub Pack's Lively Story

Cub Pack No. 302 of the Gilbert Avenue Church of God has had a busy period, including the winning of a blue ribbon at Scout-O-Rama.

There was an Easter Good-Will project, with Den 1 making Easter bunny cards for Children's Hospital.

Den 2 made Easter baskets of candy for Children's Hospital. The pack had an egg hunt at Livingston Park.

An Easter morning worship service special was presented by Gary Lust from Den 1, "The Legend of the Dogwood," using a cross made from tree branches, entwined with a spray of dogwood to illustrate the legend. On Easter Monday Den 1 attended the Spook Beckman TV show. Those in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Lust and their four sons, Eugene, Robert, Gary and son, Jack, and Robert Lipp, Kenneth Savage, Frank Hottenrot and Sheldon Bennett.

HELP SAVE ONE FRIEND FROM CANCER

Tens of thousands with cancer will lose their lives needlessly this year. They could have been cured by early diagnosis and prompt treatment.

Will one of these unfortunate victims be a friend of yours? It could happen. We know that cancer strikes one in four.

There's a way to help that friend, and thousands of others. That's by helping the American Cancer Society spread its educational message as widely as possible.

Money you contribute improves services to patients, arms everyone with protective information about cancer, and pays for research to conquer this cruelest of diseases.

When you give your dollars to the American Cancer Society, you are making an investment that pays off in the saving of human lives. Perhaps the life of one friend.

Perhaps your own life.

Marathon Highlights Opening Of Seneca Appliance Annex Store

Seneca Appliances, located at 195 Thurman-av since 1952 has recently opened an annex to handle gas appliances. The new annex is at 187 Thurman, just two doors away from the parent firm. John Baker, owner has announced that, starting at 9 a.m. today, the new store will remain open for 72 consecutive hours in which time he hopes that everyone will drop in and partake of the refreshments which will be served and enter the many contests now in progress.

Special Prices

Special prices will be offered on all gas appliances and many bargains are being offered in the pages of this newspaper. Ladies' stretch hose are being offered at a low price just for coming in and watching a cooking demonstration.

Gas appliances will star in this 72-hour marathon and night and day from Thursday to Saturday at 9 p.m. some one will be available to show you through the new store and offer you bargains that will sell you on using gas appliances, according to Art Dupler of 932 Miller, who is one of the progressive sales force dedicated to serving the many customers of Seneca Appliances.

Salesman File

Herb File is also a salesman of long standing with Seneca and resides at 1933 Oakwood-av. Herb has stated that he hopes his many customers will drop in and browse; he is sure that they will find a gas appliance to suit their needs.

The marathon promises to be an ideal time to buy your needs in gas appliances because along with getting special prices some lucky person will win a Caloric range free. Entry blanks and information can be had just for walking in during this special 72-hour marathon.

On display during this sale will be a full line of gas appliances, which include Caloric ranges, Servel refrigerators, Hamilton washers, RCA Whirlpool washers, RCA Estate ranges, Permaglass hot water heaters and many other items of name brand goods.

72-Hour Opportunity

Representatives of the Gas Co. will be on hand to demonstrate the feasability of using gas for everything in the home. John Baker is associated in business with his son Ed, who is also a South Side resident, living at 328 Hanford. South Siders all, striving to provide the best in appliances at the lowest possible prices, according to John.

Come as you are any time of the day or night and some one will be ready to serve you as Seneca Appliances celebrates the opening of its new annex in 72 hours of gas bargains and specials.

Dr. Bowers Backs Hague For Judge

Dr. Donald F. Bowers, chairman of the "Hague for Judge Committee," is urging the public to nominate Joseph R. Hague for the Republican nomination for the four-year term on the Court of Appeals, Franklin County.

"'In Joe Hague, we have one of the leading attorneys of the community with spirit of youth, vim, vigor, and vitality," the chairman said. (He is 39 years old).

"Joe Hague did his stint with the armed forces, having served with the United States Navy in the Pacific area. For 15 years he has been an active and successful trial lawyer. He is married and has three children.

"As a young man, Joe Hague played football in high school, on a team which was undefeated in his senior year. He also played on the freshman team at OSU during the tutelage of Francis Schmidt, but was forced to give up that activity due to an injury. Presently he is a manager-coach for his church basketball team and has shown a remarkable interest in community affairs," the chairman continued

"Hague is well known and liked by ex-service men and their families and a deep respect was gained for him when, through his efforts, along with others, he aided in making the AMVETS Village project on Sunbury-rd, an economic reality to 700 veterans and their families.

Besides Dr. Bowers, who is chairman for Hague for Judge Committee, the other members of his committee are Rev. J. M. Morrow, Leo Yassenoff, Fred A. Exline, Paul J. "Bud" Holstein, Jack Shank, Edward J. Cox, Frank Sparks, Paul B. Cochran, Gomer Jones, John H. Mahon and Robert B. Green.

Fast-Expanding Food Store Is Result Of Good Service

George M. George has a soft place in his heart for the people of the South Side — in fact, for the whole city. That, maybe, is due to the fact that when he came to Columbus a very few years ago and opened a restaurant on the Hilltop, he found business good. After a while he thought it would be harder work, but more interesting, to sell food in a food store than over the counter in cooked form.

So, what did he do? He came to the South Side in June, 1955, and opened a food store at 1040 E. Whittier-st. The Leader man visited with George the other day, and found the reason for the owner's joy — a large number of customers were taking advantage of the conveniently arranged stock to shop in faster time because of the scientific arrangements of products for easier shopping. The owner says the arrangement helps to increase sales and permits special prices for food buyers. He says he never sold a tough steak and that his customers appreciate that and other features offered at George's IGA Food Store.

The George family came to Columbus from Martin's Ferry, O. the family now consisting of Mr. and Mrs. George and three children, five, one-and-a-half, and six months.

Ladies Of S. Congregational To Have 'May Sale' At Church

The annual May sale and dinner, sponsored by the Ladies' Aid Society of South Congregational Church, will be held Wednesday, May 2, in the church parlor.

Throughout the day and evening various items will be sold. A steak dinner will be served from 5 to 7 p.m. A luncheon will also be served from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Mrs. C. W. Mummert, general chairman of the event, will be assisted by Mrs. Merle Kenney, kitchen chairman: Mrs. Charles Loudermilk, dining room chairman; Mrs. Claude Hayes, radio and TV; Mrs. Harold Short, publicity; Mrs. Clarence Boyd, HI. 4-5773, ticket chairman.

The various table chairmen are Mrs. Q. K. Watkins and Mrs. L. G. Kallmerten, home-baked goods; Mrs. H. W. Gockenbach and Mrs. Clarence Siefert, homemade candy; Mrs. Roy Stout, Mrs. Fred Seeber and Mrs. Sarah Cox, white elephant, parcel post and miscellaneous tables; Mrs. C. W. Mummert and Mrs. Charles Stiles, hand-made fancy work and aprons.

Mrs. Mummert announced that tickets may be obtained at the door.

South Side Man In South Pacific Maneuvers

A South Side soldier is receiving amphibious landing training in Japan with the 1st Cavalry Division.

Pfc. William R. Weaser, 19, whose wife, Phyllis Ann, lives at 2235 Amherst-av is the son of Mrs. Emma Arganbright of 1102 S. Fourth-st. A laison specialist in Battery C of the division's 61st Field Artillery Battalion, he entered the Army in August, 1954, and completed basic training at Fort Knox, Ky.

Climax of the training will be a beach landing on the island of Iwo Jima, supported by warships, aircraft, and a simulated atomic attack. Preparation for the assault includes classroom and practical instruction in the use of landing craft.

Martin Luther Evangelical Lutheran Church has a "happy memory" date coming up this Sunday, according to the pastor, Rev. Henry Oestreich

The occasion will be the 27th anniversary of the dedication of Martin Luther Church, an occasion emphasized by the fact that Sunday will be the exact day and date of the dedication Sunday, May 6, 1929.

A ministerial student, George Schuster, had begun work on organizing and building the church, but it was under the leadership of Rev. Edward Fendt that the congregation came into being and the church was erected

The first vestry of the congregation consisted of John Biessell, John Schuster, Michael Tinnes, John Goebbel, Martin Weber, George Sollner, George Krautner, George Gotzmeister, Michael Schlecht.

Rev Oestreich commented that membership includes people who have escaped or were expelled from Rumania, and that many relatives of those who established the church have come to participate in the work of the church.

Membership, the pastor said, consists of 300 confirmed members and 400 baptized.

In an unabated enthusiasm for an ultimately clean and bright South Side, this year's Clean-up, Fix-up, Paint-Up campaign gets underway at 3 p.m this Thursday or Friday at same hour in event of rain, according to announcements from various organizations, including the Council of South Side Organizations, South East Lions Club, Steelton Merchants, and others throughout the area.

Extended This Year

Because of the greatly intensified interest in abolishing slum areas from the South Side and the rest of the city, advertisers who make this large edition of The South Side Leader possible, various organizations, and individuals have pushed the slum clearance program and the clean-up, paint-up campaign together This year more than ever, one spokesman said, "the South Side must make this a year when the whole-hearted support of every citizen must be given to not only cleaning but rebuilding where broken property and broken lives have become such because of life and soul-destroying properties"

Wide Increase

Other sources have pointed out that sales of paint and other items related to cleaning and painting have greatly increased promising more brightness in the area during the early future. With this article is a photograph of a house illustrating the kind of property which quickly makes worthless, then others, and others until the whole area has dropped into the sub-housing group

Tie-Up Helps

Lawrence M. Irvin, rehabilitation director, says, "Clean-up and fix-up campaigns in a neighborhood can do much to stabilize the neighborhood and to keep of blight in check. This type of program can be further assisted through a conservation program."

The Slum Clearance Program, once it is in operation, can be accompanied with a conservation and slum prevention program for the basically good neighborhoods. A conservation plan is carried out by the city's working with a citizen's committee composed of people from the neighborhood wanting to conduct an improvement program. Property owners would all agree to rehabilitate their homes

Long term FHA loans would be available to home owners so that they could make these improvements. Instead of loans being made on a three-year basis, they would be insured by FHA for 15 years. This would enable many property owners to improve their homes when it would otherwise be financially impossible.

All Together

This program would include possibly a revamping of the street pattern and the establishment of main thoroughfares and limited access streets. Additional parks and playgrounds would be added. Federal aid would be available to assist with the revamping of the street patterns and the provision of a community center and more playground and park space.

The dilapidated and completely worn-out housing from such an area would be removed. A continuing neighborhood improvement committee would help to keep the neighborhood stabilized

Pearl-st, publicity chairman Southway Unit No. 144 American Legion Auxiliary, and Mrs. Walton Barnhart, co-chairman for the euchre party given by the unit Thursday evening, April 19 have transmitted to The South Side Leader resolutions by the unit committee expressing the appreciation of the unit for the support given to the euchre party by The South Side Leader and business men of the community

They said: "Without this (support) our euchre party could not have been the grand success that it was."

Another modern convenience is the placing of lights inside the cabinets This operate like the lights in your refrigerator and oven turning on when the door is opened.

Reason For Fix-Up Week

The above pictured house is one of the evidences of decay which Clean-Up, Fix Up, or Clean-Up, Paint-Up Week seeks to end. One bad house destroys the value of others, and the South Side organizations sponsoring the occasion seek to protect all property by persuading citizens to keep property presentable and therefore more valuable.

St. Paul's Lutheran To Observe Rogate

The fifth Sunday after Easter has traditionally been known as Rogate or Prayer Sunday. This Sunday will be observed by St. Paul's Lutheran Church, 322 Stewart-av, by a sermon at 8 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. by its pastor, Rev. John O. Lang, on "Often at Marah's Brink."

Plan Ahead

Most wall cabinets are made so that fluorescent lights can be installed under them to give light directly over work surfaces. This can be an important item in your kitchen, but lights are one of the things which should be planned in advance.

Electric circuits should be arranged so that there is plenty of light in work areas as well as good general lighting of the kitchen.

Local Firm To Maintain Aid

Henry Scheiderer and Carl Heil, owners of Heil and Scheiderer Hardware announced that their company will participate in Operation Home Improvement, the gigantic national program to make 1956 "Home Improvement Year."

As its part in the unprecedented program, the local company will step up its efforts to be of service to homeowners here with the desire to make better homes of the house they live in.

The program was initiated by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States to encourage home improvement throughout the year—and to make it easier for homeowners to obtain the materials and services that go into home improvement. Hundreds of leading national manufacturers and trade associations, as well as many thousands of local businessmen in every part of the country, have joined in the effort.

The Hon. Albert M. Cole, top housing chief in the Federal Government, pointed out, in proclaiming Home Improvement Year on Jan. 16, that home improvement is a "sound investment in America's future." He went on to explain that home improvement bolsters the economic and social well-being of the community and the nation, in addition to providing comfort, pleasure and beauty for the family.

The local store has pledged its adequate facilities and merchandise will be maintained throughout the year.

Kunz Appeals For Sincere Action By Commissioners

In a final appeal to the Democratic voters of Franklin County, D. J. Kunz of New Rome, this week stated that "It is time we elect county commissioners who will act sincerely when faced with the necessity of making decisions." Kunz is a candidate for county commissioner.

"People of Columbus and Franklin County have for many years now, under the Republicans, had a government of indecision. Many major issues have confronted them. Few of these issues have been faced squarely and decisions made on the basis of sincerity of belief in what is good for the people our officials are supposed to be serving. Instead, they have held a finger in the air to determine which way the wind is blowing," Kunz continued.

They have acted or failed to act, purely on the basis of what they felt would be the easiest way out. I believe our public officials are elected to represent the people. After election they should make decisions like an umpire in a ball game, fairly and squarely. If the public doesn't like the decisions they will be turned out of office as they should be when the next election rolls around," he concluded.

Columbus Builder Is Candidate For Congress

Walter J. Shapter, Jr., democratic candidate for Congress, is a home-builder and businessman of Columbus, with 35 years experience in business and civic affairs.

Shapter stated, "it is my earnest belief that it is time to make a change and carry on the two-party system. My policies in both domestic and foreign areas are conservative. I feel that it is my public duty to give Columbus and Franklin County the benefit of my experience in the form of a fresh, realistic approach to the domestic and foreign problems in Congress."

"Write a new chapter with Shapter," is the candidate's slogan.

Strapp Platform Based On Service To Community

George Strapp, Democratic candidate for Sheriff of Franklin County, is basing his platform on his past service to the community as one of its oldest, in service, law enforcement officials.

Strapp said his service to the community has been evident in rigid patrolling of school zones, in an outstanding juvenile program and education of school patrols in his duty as constable in the county area.

Strapp feels that all police officers should be qualified to serve the public in a courteous, efficient manner and should be trained in first aid as well as routine police work.

Family Working As Team For Candidate Reilly

The family of Archer E. Reilly, Jr., Republican candidate for the general assembly, is conducting a house to house canvass on the part of the candidate.

"This is not the only instance in which the Reillys work as a team," said Reilly. "Jean and I are currently writing a twelve installment series of articles on state government for a local newspaper."

Reilly, formerly secretary in the governor's office, administrative assistant to the state treasurer and bailiff for Common Pleas Judge Joseph Harter, is a practicing lawyer. He has been a member of the Franklin University teaching staff since 1948.

Party-Endorsed Drake Runs For Representative

Russell Drake of 105 N. Chase-av, is endorsed by the Democratic Party for the nomination for State Representative in the May 8 primary.

Drake, a Hilltopper most of his life, is active in civic affairs, a member of the West High Band Parents Club and Clintonville Baptist Church, and has been active in scouting. He is employed as a printer for the Columbus Citizen.

Drake and his wife have two children, Ron, 15, a West High student, and Marjorie, 13, a West Junior High pupil.

Denune Favors Lighting State Highways

Elias E. Denune, Democratic candidate for State Senator from Franklin County, has recommended lighting all state highways in Ohio to cut down on the number of accidents and on the slaughter of pedestrians.

He said the number of deaths has been increasing "at an alarming rate for the past few years."

Seidel Offers Experience For Judicial Post

John F. Seidel, Republican candidate for judge of the Common Pleas Court, has practiced law since 1910 and has served as municipal judge for seven and one-half years.

Seidel resigned his post of municipal judge in 1924 to practice law. He still maintains his office and practice at 39 W. Broad-st.

"As presiding Judge of the Municipal Court," said Seidel "no one ever lifted the finger of suspicion on the municipal court; it became firmly established; I revised the rules and brought the docket up to date on the theory that justice delayed is justice denied".

Seidel has taught law for seven years at Franklin University, and is a Lutheran Sunday school teacher and farmer. He is a member of the Aladdin Shrine, Scottish Rite, York Lodge 563 W.O.W. Cedar Camp 1, and the Columbus and Ohio Bar Associations.

Seidel said in announcing his candidacy, "I have become mature in the firey furnace of life. I have the experience, the will to do right, and the practical know-how. I can stand completely on my record only and feel that the same will merit your utmost consideration in the coming primary."

Four Legislators Seek Re-Election

Four Franklin County members in the Ohio Legislature are seeking re-election to the House of Representatives in the May 8 primary.

The four are: John J. Chester, Jr., Golda M. Edmonston, Kline L. Roberts and Lytle G. Zuber.

The group introduced and successfully passed laws setting up the bond issue for mental health, education and penal institutions, strengthening health and accident insurance, establishing a capital planning and improvements division, helping those under Aid for the Aged program and other bills of state interest.

The members helped in establishment of a new Court of Appeals district including Franklin County, speeding acquisition of land for Hoover Dam, clearing obstables for a Spring-st throughway, and helping to light the Spring-Sandusky interchange.

Joiner Campaigns On Representation For Township

Harry R. Joiner, candidate for democratic nomination as State Representative, reportedly is the only Franklin Township resident running for this office.

Joiner is a graduate of Franklin University, and is manager of a Columbus retail store.

"I feel that people who live in rural areas are not well represented by our present office holders who are city-dwellers."

Commissioner Candidate Gets Party Backing

Leslie Scrimger, running for the Democratic nomination for County Commissioner, carries an endorsement by his party for the job.

Scrimger, at present chief of training and inspection of the Ohio Department of Liquor Control, is a lifelong resident of Franklin County and served overseas with the Navy Air Corps in Japan in 1950. He is a past exalted ruler and honorary life member of the Columbus Lodge of Elks, adjutant of Governor's Post 72, Amvets and a past commander of the Army and Navy Union 1007.

He is also a member of Post 82, American Legion, Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, the Shamrock Club and the Ohio Association of Boxing and Wrestling Commissioners. He is serving his sixth term on the commission.

Former Toledo Mayor Runs For Governor

Michael V. DiSalle, well-known Toledo lawyer and former Mayor of that city, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

DiSalle was elected to the Ohio Legislature in 1936, became Mayor of Toledo in 1941 and again in 1950. He was chosen first president of the Ohio Association of Municipalities and was chairman of the Advisory Board of the U. S. Conference of Mayors.

In 1950 he was awarded an honorary LL.D. by the University of Notre Dame for his work in the field of labor-management relations. In the same year, he became administrator of the price stabilization programs of the Korean War. He has received many honors from universities and fraternities.

Happy birthday greetings to Joyce and Judy Ryan of S. 18th-st for their May 2 birth date, and to Carol Lowe of 400 Deshler-av, who was a year older on May 1.

Our sympathy to Ann Nolan, who lost her father last week.

Once again, many brides are numbered in our list of items, so we'll try to include as many as possible in today's literary efforts. First, we have Darlene Metzler, who will be exchanging vows with Charles Henson this Saturday, in Gates-Fourth Church. Joseph Downey, a St. Mary's grad, will take Mary Lou Morrow as his bride, on May 5. Mildred Lambert, 1720 S. Third-st, will have May 13 as her anniversary date in years to come, sharing it with Samuel Stewart Henry. Two St. Mary's High Alumni, who will marry on May 12, in St. Mary's Church, are Rita Cartwright and Eugene Armentrout.

Mrs. Geier, of our community, should be in Michigan by now, visiting her daughter, Mildred Beehler, of Watervliet.

Congratulations to the singing Crawford brothers for their fine showing on Herb Shriner's TV show, "Two for the Money." The boys, sons of William A. Crawford, reside at 22 E. Frankfort-st. The boys won a tidy $1620. Not bad, eh?

Miss Mary Lou Messmer, 635 Markison-av, was one of the hostesses when Zeta Tau Alpha sorority entertained graduating seniors last evening in the home of Mrs. Robert Wilkin. Miss Messmer is an alumnae of the sorority.

The mother-daughter banquet of Oakwood Methodist WSCS will be held May 16 at 6:30 p.m. Miss Eleanor Harper is ticket chrmn.

May 5 will find little David Ross one year older. If you remember our writing about it last year, Dave had to remain in bed while friends and family held his party in the yard, due to his "case" of measles! Here's hoping there's no repeat performance!

Trudeau Guild meetings in this area are Guild 1 May 9, in the home of Mrs. Paul Lenox, 1411 S. Sixth-st; Guild 17, May 8, in the home of Mrs. August Krause, 578 E. Gates-st, and Guild 25, in the home of Mrs. William Kaufman.

Mrs. August Husse is general chairman of the mother-daughter banquet to be held at First English Lutheran Church, May 8, at 6 p.m. Program for the evening will be presented by Marilyn Hannum, Mae Russell, Shirley Kelly, Barbara Towers, Mary McCleaf, Frances Duffy, Mary Carol McCleaf, Susie De Nucci, Darlene, Sharrie and Judy Colburn, Bonnie Husse, Dorthea Ruoff, Karen Schmidt, Lynn Myers, Marilyn Brookins and Bartha Slater.

Circles of Oakwood Methodist Church will meet as follows: Ada Duhigg, May 3, 6 p.m., family casserole dinner, at the church; Emma Wilson Circle, May 8, 8 p.m., in the home of Mrs. Fred Braden, 705 S. Champion-av. Eleanor Dolby Circle, 12.30 luncheon, May 9, at Service Appliance Store, Margery Mayer Circle, May 10, noon casserole luncheon at church; Lenora Seeds Circle, May 10 1 p.m., in the home of Mrs. J. H. Nader, 968 Wilsonav. Bertha Starkey Circle, May 17, at 8 p.m., in the home of Mrs. L. Fraggiotti, 1400 Moler-rd.

Get-well cards would be quite appropriate at this time for Al Pfeiffer, 372 Stewart-av, August Wagner salesman, who has been quite ill. A little late, but we would like to mention Mrs. Pfeiffer's Apr. 7 birthday, which date is also the wedding anniversary of the Stewart-av couple.

Thinking of anniversaries, we wouldn't want to miss the May 2 one of Glenna and Dale Edwards, 66 E. Innis-av.

Mercy Hospital Guilds have scheduled their meetings thusly: Guild 3, Friday, May 11, p.m., in the hospital conference room; Guild 8, May 16, at noon, for casserole luncheon, in the home of Mrs. William Bittle, 92 E. Moler-st; Guild 10, May 16, 8 p.m., in conference room.

Mrs. Frances Colegrove, 1077 Bruck-at, certainly deserves our sympathy for suffering a broken ankle!

Tomorrow, May 4, members of the Southwood PTA will be busy in the school, helping with the annual carnival. Here are some of the attractions: a glass blower, who will sell his wares as he makes them; a variety show, featuring "Flippo, the Clown", a channel 10 star; a cafeteria that will start serving at 5 p.m.; bake sale, cake walk, fish pond, cane toss, make-up booth, bazaar, white elephant table, and country store. Everyone in the family should find something of interest, so try to attend.

If you've tried to phone the Gadabout in the last month or so and repeatedly got a busy signal, here's why: We've been one of the ones working on the alumni reunion of South High that's to be held on May 18. Our class was the one of June, 1934, and we've found quite a few of the members. However, there are still quite a few unfound, and we'd appreciate any help in hearing of these folks' whereabouts. Call us at HI. 4-1051, or send a card to us, at 1411 S. Sixth-st. We'd appreciate it very much. The unfound ones are James Andrews, Jane Beamer, Robert William Beller, Dorothea Berman, Mary Blakesly, Mildred Blank, Julia Ann Bliss, Philip Frederic Brier, Vera Jeanne Crooks, Edward John Donalds, Richard Clayton Elliott, Edward Joseph Finnegan, Eleanor Garnet Gessel, Carl Everett Gilkey, Maryetta Mae Gilmore, Nathan Goodman, Albert Samuel Greenfield, James F. Harris, Betty Jane Hoover, Catharine Mary Huffman, Lillie Leora Keefer, Mary Garnette Kirk.

Betty Jane Leist, Joseph Victor Lind, Arthur William Lonitz, Molly Losin, Phoebe Lurenda McClure, Eva Louella McIntyre, Harold Eugene McMahon, William Thomas Merz, Gabriel Elsworth Miller, Rosemary Rita Miller, Sara Jayne Millington, Lilyan Cecelia Minkin, Robert Edgar Moll, John Robert Morehead, Lois Eulah Osler.

William Edward Otto, Robert Padovani, Esther Ann Plotnick, Frances Rhinehart, Mary Frances Rose, Irvin Rubin, Matilda Schneider, Richard Allen Scott, Virginia Mae Sherman, Melvin Smith, Helen Mae Swartz, Thomas Fred Thornton, Stephen George Ulrich, Loree VanArsdale, Lester Weese, Lucille Marie Weller, Margaret Weiss, Marjorie Carlyne Wiley and Roy Emerson Woodcock.

No more items and no more time, so we'll have to scrambola till next edition. Please let us have your news. We promise the phone shouldn't be tied up QUITE so much from here on in. Till next time, this is—

Perhaps We Can Help

• ONE OF THE things which often deeply troubles the bereaved family is the number of unfamiliar details they may have to cope with — problems such as social security, veterans' rights and benefits, etc., which are fairly new in our society. Since these details are part of our daily office routine, our staff has become familiar with such procedures and is ready to assist in every way possible. Please feel no hesitancy in seeking our help relative to such matters or asking any questions which may occur to you. Our time is at your disposal.

Scioto Trail News

The sixth and seventh grade sections in Mrs. Roose's room had a very busy time Tuesday, Apr. 24. In connection with their study of communications and government the group visited the Dispatch Printing Company and the Ohio Bell Telephone Company, where important studies were made of these two means of communication — newspapers and telephones. A stop was made at the State House to gain information on our own legislature.

The annual spring musical festival of the school was held Friday evening, Apr. 27. The program was tuneful and colorful, and showed considerable musicianship, under the able direction of Miss Morris. A rehearsal was held in the afternoon for the benefit of the school children.

Shield's Cleaners Is Sponsor For 'Breakfast Club'

Clyde Shield's Cleaners, 378 Sycamore-st, has announced sponsorship of Don McNeill and his Breakfast Club over a coast-to-coast radio network (ABC) by the Sta*Nu dry cleaners' finishing process, which is featured by the local firm. This is reported to be the first national network sponsorship by any segment of the dry cleaning industry.

The Sta*Nu Process is offered only by selected licensed dry cleaners, and there is no extra charge to the customer for it. The process replaces textile finishing agents which are normally present in practically all new fabrics, but which are lost through time and wear.

Don McNeill and his Breakfast Club this year celebrated their 23rd anniversary on June 23rd as a national network feature. The program originates in the Porterhouse Room of the Hotel Sherman in Chicago, and attracts visitors from all parts of the world.

Shield's Cleaners announces that in addition to the network program, they are planning an extensive local advertising schedule in The South Side Leader. The local advertising will promote the Sta*Nu Process and will feature Don McNeill and members of his cast.

FAITH

The little old engine that puffed and puffed its way over the mountain, puffing out, "I think I can; I think I can," and then over the peak, it puffed a short "I KNEW I could!" sets a happy example for all of us.

Those Golden Stairs

I have just walked up the golden stairs . . . looked in upon a choir of angels singing . . . whoa! I was carried away. Fact is, I have just returned from hearing the Symphonic Choir at OSU . . . but heaven could not be lovlier, nor music sweeter. How grand that the united tones of a group can create so much joy in a human soul!

"Music Hath Power To Charm"

Music's charms are unchallenged, as indicated by this item mailed to me recently. It is said that during World War II Gen. "Toohey" Spaatg was dispatched to bring order to an unruly badly bombed captured Italian town. Arriving and assessing the situation, he issued an order that everyone, who could play a musical instrument should report to him at once, whereupon men and instruments came from caves and hill and cellars. An "outlaw" town suddenly became law-abiding, tractable, and happier than it had been for a long time.

Soothed . . . the Savage

Maybe you remember the story of King Saul, the first king to rule over what is now Israel—the same land approximately 40 generations later. Remember how, when the "evil" spirit came upon the king, young David (later to be king) played upon his harp to chase away the "devils" which afflicted the king? The story is likely. Many others of happier men still have been blessed—are blessed in church every Sunday with the beautiful harmony of music.

Originality Pays The Marathon

Recently I tried to stay up one night to go calling about 1 o'clock. Couldn't make it — have sleepy habits, maybe. But the second night at 11 o'clock Seneca Appliances, 195 Thurman-av, was going "great guns." This was a stay-open-all-night-affair to attract attention to the opening of the extra store a few doors away from the main store. Hope you look in at friend Baker and associates. I learned one thing: 72-hour marathons and I just simply don't mix, maybe because they are too young for me.

Give Them Support

Our South High School baseball team is not going "great guns" like last year. So what? They're playing baseball, and, according to a competitor team which has beat the South boys this year, they are still good. A team can't be champion all the time — and shouldn't be. So, let's give the fellows our support — be out there rooting for victory, or, lacking that, be satisfied with seeing a good game.

This Is MOTHERS Day

by Oliver Gedeist

This Sunday is Mothers Day. Therein is encompassed the sweet memory of nights of illness — nights when an Angel came to minister to us in our feverish hours; days when at play a slight injury sent us crying to that Angel,Mother, who wiped away our tears — brought bright smiles again; who in our moments of little triumphs listened eagerly to our heroic tales of ourselves; who encouraged us to rise to every opportunity, to live good, clean lives; who was happier than we when there was a real triumph in our lives.

This is MOTHERS Day. How happy were the years when Mother was with us! Sometimes, of course, we failed to show our gratitude — simply took her for granted — and how, as the years have passed, as we have watched another Angel, Mother to our children, give the same sweet care to our children—how we have wished for a moment to say to our MOTHER the beautiful words of appreciation she so richly deserved!

This is cause for rejoicing: in our humility and shame for our lack of disclosed appreciation then, our hearts can pour out their sorrowing recognition for then, our vain wish for opportunity now, and perhaps the spirit of MOTHER may glow with joy as our contrition and our love pour out into the GREAT EVERYWHERE.

May the Mothers of now be rejoiced as they share in the daily recognition for their beautiful sacrifices, their devotion, their love which, like that implanted in our early lives, will never die.

Heimandale 'Y' Clubs Beautify School Ground

Finishing Tree-Planting Project

Members of the Heimandale Co-ed Gra-Y and Co-ed Jr. Hi-Y Clubs, affiliated with the South Side Branch YMCA, made good use of Arbor Day to start beautifying the surroundings of their new school.

Members of the clubs found that no plans had been established for beautifying the new school, so they set to work and got the voluntary services of the South Parsons Nursery to submit recommended plans. The plans were then submitted by the clubs to the Marion Local School Board and received approval. Now a master plan is available.

Both clubs worked on raising funds for a service project and used Arbor Day as a kick-off for a long-range project. Members of the Gra-Y Club officially planted an Austrian pine as an Arbor Day project and this was followed by both clubs planting six Juniper Pfizers at the front of the entrance to their lovely new school. Not only did the planting commemorate Arbor Day, but also served as a promotion for the Clean-Up and Paint-Up Campaign for the community.

Officers of the Heimandale Co-ed Jr. Hi-Y and Co-ed Gra-Y are project of planting six Juniper pictured as they complete their Pfizers near the entrance of the school. Saundra Ann Gall, 130 Mithoff-st, has only 16 more days to be called a "Miss", for on May 26 she will exchange her wedding vows with Van L. Beckum. The ceremony will be performed in the home of the bride-elect's mother.

In another ceremony, on May 26, Charleen Kay Thompson, 612 Mohawk-st, will become Mrs. William Molli. St. Mary's Church will be the scene of the 9 a.m. wedding ceremony.

Birthdays that were and will be: Mrs. Hazel Schwab, Apr. 30, of 1451 S. 4th-st, and Bob Schwab of the same address, May 1; Barbara Canter, 57 Morrill-av, May 3; Shirley Rose, 1360 Linwood-av, May 3, which is also the birthdate of Terri Donavan, 297 Markison-av; Harold Curry, 1644 S. Third-st, May 5; Rose Bowshier, 37 Morrill-av, May 7; Beverly Daniels, 32 Hinman-av, and Eleanor Jones, 317 Moler-st, May 15.

A very hearty congratulation to Mildred Tyrell, 316 Gates-st, who was the winner for the second year in the annual speech contest sponsored by Council 6 of the International Toastmistress clubs. Mrs. Tyrell, by virtue of her win, will attend the regional contest. If this endeavor is successful, she will then go to the international competition this year to be held in Boston in July. Mrs. Tyrell's competition came from five other Columbus groups, plus Newark, Zanesville, Middletown and Cincinnati clubs. Good luck, Mrs. Tyrell!

Notes for this column are sometimes on the darndest things so let's see if we can decipher what's on this napkin: Grant Hospital is the present "home" for three South Siders. Mrs. Charles Koterba is in Room 318, Nadine Wagner is in Room 421B, and Evelyn Walters of 157 Gates-st is in Room 202A. The women are all quite ill and cards would be very thoughtful things to send at this time

White Cross Guild 21, Livingston Methodist Church, meets at 10 a.m. today at Henderson Hall

News from Southwood Church of Christ tells us that the mother daughter banquet will be held May 12 at the church. Time for the serving is 6 p.m. The young folks will have a skating party May 14. Anyone from intermediate age group on up is welcome.

The younger members of the community who are experiencing "convalescence" are Ricky Robison, 834 Wager-st, who had a tonsillectomy, and Susan Warner, 545 E. Jenkins-av, who broke her arm not long ago.

Congratulations to Shirley and Bob Gioffre, who became the parents of a little girl: Apr. 28.

The Cloverleaf Clubs of St. Anthony Hospital will hold several of their May meetings in this area. These women will be hostesses to their groups at times specified: Mrs. Phillip Palumbo, 945 Heyl-av, May 29, at 8 p.m., Leaf 5. Leaf 9 will also meet at Mrs. Palumbo's home, May 17, at 8:30 p.m. Leaf 16, Mrs. Robert Kuepfer, 572 Stewart-av, May 20, at 7:30 p.m. Leaf 20, Mrs. Karl Moeller, 494 Hanford-st, May 17, noon luncheon.

The Cloverleaf Clubs will have their installation dinner at Bonka's May 14 at 6:15 p.m. Officers to be installed are Mrs. Phillip Palumbo, Mrs. Edward Albrecht, Mrs. Raymond Highfield, Mrs. John Corcoran, Mrs. E. T. O'Brien, Mrs. Robert Whiteman, Mrs. Sam Gellione and Mrs. Daniel Oestreicher.

We were sorry to lose the Clem Fisher family to Whitehall, but sometimes larger living quarters are a must.

Jack Mason's orchestra will be the kind-hearted group that will entertain the patients at Benjamin Franklin Hospital tonight.

Pity poor Mary Mason! As treasurer of Southwood PTA, she had to be present at the Carnival last week and could hardly say a word, due to her laryngitis. However, she made out, so that's all that really matters.

Vera Link Pestel has been a very ill person and we hope she has nothing but the best of health from here on in. Another ailing member of the community spent 11 days in Mt. Carmel Hospital, but is now at home. Al Pfeifer, 372 Stewart-av, was the hospitalized South Sider.

More birthdays for the month of May: Irene Brandum, May 2; Fawn Masters, 342 E. Gates-st, May 8: Pamela Leist, 174 E. Morrill-av, May 9; Kathryn Mason, 1357 S. High-st, May 17.

Our sympathy to Julia Wilson and to Betty Dean, who both lost their fathers in the recent past. Julia asked that we convey her gratitude for cards, floral offerings, etc., at the time of her bereavement, which we shall do.

Expressions of sympathy would mean so much to Betty at this time, as she had just returned from Florida, visiting her dying mother, when she received the news of her father's death. Her address is 1526 Fulton-st.

Needle and Thread Guild of the Hungarian E & R Church will hold a style show tonight at 8 o'clock. Tea and Hungarian pastries will be available after the show. Members of the Guild will act as models for the affair. The chairman is Mrs. Andrew Fuleki, Jr., and her committee is composed of Mrs. Martin Finta, Jr., Mrs. John Gadnai, Mrs. George Bockoras, Mrs. Joseph Nagy and Mrs. Andrew Szekely.

Wonder if the officers of the South High Alumni Board know that there is a member of the 50-year class of South in their midst? The golden year alumna is Mrs. Louis Freytag, 303 Stewart-av. Plans are progressing nicely for the May 18 affair, and it sounds like the old school will be host to scads of the former students. Ye Gadabout found it quite a thrill just attending a board meeting, so is really looking forward to the "real" thing

Mrs. Wolfe, 476 Jenkins-av, has been another of the ailing members of our South Side. We know she's been hospitalized, but we neglected to find out which hospital she was in.

Bob Dunham deserves congratulations for a new honor that has come his way. The young speech teacher will be in the teaching staff at OSU when that huge institution of learning starts its schedule in the fall. Real swell!

Two E&R Churches will hold a joint service this afternoon (at 1:30 o'clock) in observance of Ascension Day. The Women's Guild of St. John's E&R Church has invited the members of St. Paul's E&R Church to join them. Following the service, tea will be served.

The Gadabout attended a meeting of the League of Women Voters recently in the home of Mrs. Robertson, and certainly hopes that more women will become interested in this new (to our part of town) group. Important issues are discussed and everything is nonpartisan. Now, more than ever, women should be concerned with the things that go on in our government, as well as the issues that are current. A tentative date was set to make a tour of the slums, for May 16. You'll be hearing of the League frequently, for it's doing a good job.

Spring outings are the order of the day for three PTA boards this month. Barrett board is enjoying the food at the Dispatch Country Club today, South High will meet at the South Side "Y" Park next Tuesday, the 15th, and the Southwood executive board will have its spring outing next Thursday, the 17th.

The "Irishman" and I were two of the chaperones for the South High instrumental students' picnic at the South Side Y last Thursday, and one thing we'll never be able to forget — Mr. Near's passionate purple socks, L'il Abner shoes and rolled-up pants legs! A lot of fun was had by the young adults, and imagine, even the Lenoxes participated in a square dance or two. Thinking of South, we'll congratulate the 16 students from South who were asked to attend the Rotary luncheon last Monday, May 7.

A bridal shower will be held for Pat Conn, who will be a July bride, next Wednesday, May 16.

Guess we've checked all our items for this time around, so keep us informed of your news, won't you? The number, as per usual, is HI. 4-1051, and we'll be waiting to hear from you. Till next time then, 'tis—

'Chuck Wagon' Style Festival Is Planned At Heyl May 18

The "Fun Trail" is not the only exciting aspect of Heyl Elementary School PTA spring festival, according to Mrs. Ralph Ross, publicity chairman, 746 Thurman-av. The date is Friday, May 18, from 4 to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Ross told The South Side Leader that the group planning details have turned up a western theme this year and brought with it a full "basket of tricks."

The program says that in the "main corral," there will be a cakewalk, and a lot of other items, including a "chuck" wagon and other western ideas. However, it was said, the regular "feed bag" dinner will be in the luncheon 5 to 7 p. m.

Also, there will be square dancing, the publicity lady said. This will be from 6 to 8 p.m. "A "marshal" will be on hand to watch over the little "mavericks." Boss lady is Mrs. Walter Siders and the "cowhands" helping are Mrs. John Kandel; Mrs. Stewart Frey, and Mrs. George Reynolds.

Library Talk

Parsons Branch

The library receives new books each week and we would like to acquaint you with some of our recent additions:

"Leaven of Malice," Robertson Davis—This story takes place in a Canadian university city, called Salterton, and the action is set off by a malicious joke, the insinuation in the evening newspaper of a false engagement announcement. What lies behid this act becomes an increasingly disturbing mystery until the climax of the novel. But the resulting uproar bears out the words of the dean of the Salterton Cathedral: "Malice works live a leaven; it stirs and swells and changes all that surrounds it."

"An Episode of Sparrows" — Rumer Godden — In Catford Street, London, there was not so much as a blade of grass—nothing that was not man-made. This is the story of how two of the street children made a garden in these unpromising surroundings. It begins with the dropping of a packet of cornflower seeds on the pavement and ends in the changing of several people's lives. The story has poetry, humor, compassion and profound understanding.

"Glenport, Illinois," by Paul Darcy Boles—This is a novel about a typical American town that might be found anywhere in the United States. The story opens in 1929 when Tone Gray Leaf is a boy of twelve. As Tone matures and his personal horizons enlarge, the reader's angle of vision widens, until at the end the town of Glenport has become utterly real and familiar. The ordinary life of ordinary people is described and is found to be both exciting and good.

He restoreth your soul...

Here's Dave Judson and Bill Miller. Good friends for a good many years now. They hardly ever "talk" religion—they just always find time to get to Services each week.

And there's Susan Brown. She's brought Mary Lou up all alone—her daddy was killed in the war. Susan's a slight little thing, but a pillar of strength. And if you ask her, she's not at all ashamed to admit—she leans all right —on the strength of God.

Janet and Bill were married right in this church. They come back every week—as they promised they would. "Just selfishness on our part," Bill says. "After all, our life together got off to a happy start here . . . and we want to keep it that way!"

Worship together this week

And the Wolf family here—will you just look at those boys! They're feeling very grown-up and proud as punch, going to a Service with Mom and Dad.

We are well blessed. The doors of our churches and synagogues are wide open . . . waiting for us to enter. Set aside a time each week . . . a time your soul can call its own . . . a time apart from the "busyness" of living. You'll find more joy in each day, if you give some time each week to worship.

And will you look at the way Pete Taylor has grown so straight and tall. Being in the Service has helped him grow up inside, too. As Pete puts it, "A guy's never so big, that he wants to go it alone."

If you've ever been a stranger in any town you've known loneliness. And you know how comforting it is to come upon a church or synagogue . . . where the doors are always wide open to everyone.

Lowered Cost Of Living Aid Found In Newspapermaking

(Third in a series)
By Oliver Godeist

Looking into the making of a newspaper, a writer finds many items crowding in for attention. When it appears that the story is going along in good shape, there pops up another item which cries for attention.

That is a fact, whether the mechanical, editorial, reportorial, management, or employe is involved. When there seems to be a straight line ahead, suddenly factors known, but not as intrusively as others, come peeking into typewriter, typist's fingers, or into the printer's busy moments so demandingly that—well, it is necessary to let the factor in and give it a place in the story scheme.

Prefers To Serve

Happily, most people like what they do, regardless of the oft-expressed wish that other fields had been taken up when the individual started to work. But in the newspaper business, from office boy to president, or from printer's devil to top management, we never believe the expressed thought that some other business would have been better. For this the man in the newspaper field has some justification; that is, he never likes riches better than the happiness which Newspaper Heaven rolls down on the Fourth Estate and its incumbents.

So, it is not for financial remuneration only that the newspaper continues. Thousands have discontinued publication because of the increased cost of producing and because of the scarcity and high cost of newsprint on which newspapers are printed. Devotion to public value holds countless numbers of publications on their low-profit course.

For a newspaper man, money (necessary of course, and required, of course, whether employer or employe) takes second place to the spot the newspaper holds in the community: a welder of community interests, a defender of community interests, an influence binding people into a community oneness, disseminating news of the intellectual, religious, entertainment, financial, and work-a-day life; promoting the welfare of the community.

In the fulsomeness of living which such participation in public values allows, the confirmed newspaper man finds much that substitutes for larger financial emoluments which the same fidelity to effort in other fields would produce.

Costs More To Start

Not so many years ago, as we measure time, "going into the printing business" was not much of a problem. A few hundred dollars would buy out a printer, or make the down payment. Labor was cheap, newsprint plentiful. Perhaps the advertising rate was 25 cents a column inch, whereas in city papers and the better weeklies today the rate may be $1 to several dollars a column inch. Also, today a good many thousands of dollars must be laid on the line in the purchase of a moderately good and well-equipped newspaper plant. Modern printing equipment is very expensive.

Ultimate Value

There is an ultimate value here, however, which compensates for much of the high cost. This is the contribution which the newspaper makes to a successful business world. This contribution of the newspaper to the community's business success is apparent every day and touches nearly every home and business place. For the newspaper is the successful means of bringing seller and buyer together. Readers have learned to observe whether a business has a profitable physical appearance before spending money in the store, whatever kind it may be. The public is convinced that for quality and economical prices the good advertiser, the good merchandiser, is the best source.

Thus the ultimate value is found in better goods at lower prices.

The run-down-at-the-heel place does not attract. The fellow may be "saving" advertising cost at the expense of the buyers of merchandise, mostly housewives. And housewives have long known that the best goods and the best prices are found where there is good advertising with plenteous use of the display advertising pages of newspapers. Buyers for the homes of a community know that their money will go further when spent where the merchant advertises, makes more sales, and gives lower prices based upon his greater volume of business.

Compensation

Here the newspaper man finds the compensation which can arise only in public service. This compensation, too, depends upon the mechanical details which are intricate and extensive in a print shop, and where are necessarily found employes of high skill and devotion to their responsibilities.

Thus is seen the extensive details of making a newspaper, the multitude of components in the human and mechanical phases, the little details which crowd in for attention — complicated, sometimes tedious, but, looking at what he achieves for the public welfare, the newspaper man is proud, if relatively poor, because he serves all classes of the public as no other agency can serve.

L. T. McClaim came in to show us a clipping from a western newspaper telling about the dust storms from Cheyenne, Wyo., to Waco, Tex., some time ago.

The dust had drifted to several feet in depth. A description: grimy clouds boiling to 20,000 feet. Our neighbor's home was out thataway, in Kansas, a long time but he's not averse to living here when the storms of dust blow about. We concur, having been through storms of dust and dust and dust.

ARE YOU EXCLUSIVE?

Being "exclusive" is merely another way to say that one fears "being on his own" with fellowmen, possessing a sense of inferiority. The really "exclusive" person is one just plain dead.

SALESMAN
Continuing its program of planned growth, one of the largest and oldest Life Insurance Companies in America will add one and possibly two men to its sales staff.
The man selected will sell Life Insurance, Annuities, Retirement Plans, Endowments and Group Insurance. He will receive complete training to equip him for a successful career. No collections required. Experience is unnecessary, but a desire to sell is essential.
In addition to Social Security, he will be included in a comprehensive Group Insurance Program providing Pensions, Life Insurance, Hospitalization, Surgical and Medical Fee Reimbursement. He will receive a guaranteed minimum income, plus an incentive plan for a three-year training period, with the opportunity of substantially increasing his income as he becomes established.
This is a splendid opportunity for the right man who can meet our requirements.

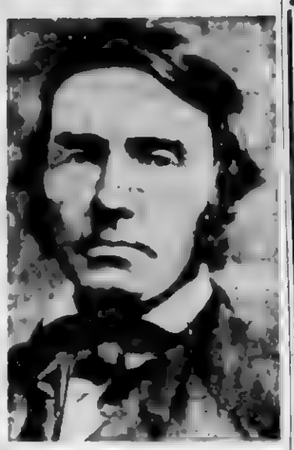
This school, a part of the Marion Local School system, is located on Koebel-av, east off Groveport-pk.



G. C. Beery, county superintendent of schools, will address the group. A representative of the Joseph Baker and Associates, Architects, will present the keys for the building to Carl Fischer, president of the Marion Local Board of Education.

Music will be furnished by Heimandale children under the direction of Mrs. Beatrice Cooper, music teacher.

It's . . . SO FAR BACK!

New Englander Came West 148 Years Ago; Made Local History

For The Leader

From the time William Merion left Massachusetts in 1808 to come "West" by compass until now has been a period of the rising and waning of a family name, according to Mrs. George Merion Pedlar of 1427 Parsons-av.

Mrs. Pedlar is the great- great-granddaughter of the young man what at 21 decided to leave the "crowded East" and hue out from the "wilderness" of Ohio a future for himself and for his descendants. Now there are few direct descendants, only Mrs. Pedlar and Charles Suydam Merion of Cleveland.

Bought 'Unseen'

The young man, who was born in Stoughton, Mass., in 1787, before starting on his trip to here, bought 1800 acres of land here from the Ohio Land Company at Boston. The land was bounded on the north by what is now Reinhard-av, on the east by Lockbourne-rd, and on the south by the T. &O. C. Railroad, and on the west by the Scioto river.

In making the trip from Stoughton to Columbus, or Franklinton, then, the young pioneer was accompanied by several relatives, some of whom we expect to pick up along the way of this story, and give them their proper place in history, later on.

Right now we have in mind tracing the way of the travelers on their trip of exploration to the "promised land" which the young man had purchased "on faith" that it was what he wanted.

Married Here

It seemed that it was what he wanted, for he settled here and married here, and built their home here — the first brick house in the city of Columbus, although it is easy to visualize the site of that brick home in the wilderness as compared with the age-old decrepit which now remains as a memento of the long ago incursion of a New England youth into the "wilds" of the "near west" of that time.

Pictured with this story is the old brick home now — greatly subdued by age and by environment. Now it is in an alley or backyard of other buildings, homes, and an old foundry, "hard by" the bed of the old canal which was a lifesaver for those with hauling to do in those days.

The Girl

Shortly after reaching Franklinton, William Merion met Sally Wait, who had come "west" with her parents from Johnstown, N. Y., they having decided that the "new" country of Ohio, which in 1808 had the enormous number of 230,760 people in the entire state, was to be their paradise. Not long after the New Englander and the New York girl met they were married, and the brick house was one of the outcomes of their needs. It is located west of South High-st and south of Moler-st.

The house faced the canal, where Merion had a landing, and their home became the social center for a great many people, with many parties and festivities.

Mrs. Pedlar, who supplied the information for this and other stories to come, has spent much time and money in preparing a geneaology of the family, since, she says, with only two direct descendants — herself and Charles Suydam Merion — there should be a record of the family whose ramifications go so far back. She has sought and found much material about the family in England, Scotland, and the Continent, and looks forward to again making the trip and continuing her favorite literary effort.

Later, there will be more of the history created by William Merion.

Siebert PTA To Install New Officers May 16

The last 1955-56 Siebert PTA and Parentt Education meeting will be held Wednesday, May 16, at 7:30 p. m. when newly-elected officers will be installed by Mrs. William Hoptry, secretary of Columbus Council of PTA. The new officers are Mrs. Earl Snyder, president; Mrs. Carl Esselstein, first vice-president; Paul Lindquist, principal, second vice-president; Mrs. Robert Ricard, secretary; Mrs. John Hardwick, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Herbert Mishler, teacher, treasurer; and Mrs. Forest Lanfear, Mrs. Roland Esswein, Mrs. Glen Clingman, council members; Mrs. Robert Golden, Mrs. Raymond Inman, Mrs. Oliver Pfeiffer, council alternates.

Symposium

An all-grade-level symposium will be led by Mrs. Norbert Wacher, president-elect of Franklin County Council. Mrs. Wacher is also on the parent-education and scholarship and student aid committees.

"Being a Boy, Being a Girl" is the topic selected for discussion by the following students: Neal Kresheck, 1182 Berkeley-rd, and Sara Jester, 996 Reinhard, of South High School; Audrey Kelser, 386 Hinman-av, and Steven Miller, 1400 S. Sixth-st, of Barrett Junior High; Elaine Hardiwick, 388 Mithoww-st, and Michael Meyer, 1239 Bruck-st, of Siebert Elementary.

Invocation

Rev. Charles S. Nichols of South Congregational Church will deliver the invocation.

Refreshments will follow this well-rounded program.

O. G.'s Notes—

Clean Up!

If you have something needing cleaning up, now is a good time to clean it. Let's keep our values high here in the South Side—by keeping properly, residential and business, presentable. That may mean being a doer without government aid, but don't let's worry about being independent. It's a good feeling.

I Like Here Better

Czechoslovakia Communists have gone into the disc-jockey "play-by-request" business, it seems. There's quite a contrast between here and there. Look: they'll "not announce the names of listeners to whom the music is played." INS goes on with this: "Furthermore, we shall play only to good workers, whose letter of request is accompanied BY A CERTIFICATE FROM THE SHOP COMMITTEE OF HIS TRADE UNION ORGANIZATION."

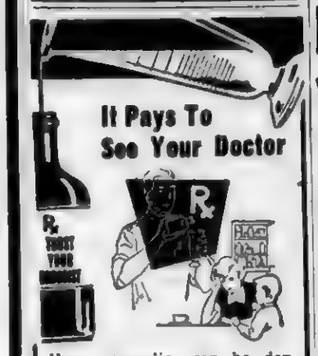
dicated, including Ralph Kleinline, trumpet; Jim Smith, saxophone; Rheinhold Tischler, violin; with Martin Mutchell at the piano.

A vocal trio will feature Martha Rader, Charlotte and Charlene Highland singing "The House I Live In."

The Barrett band will close the evening of music with "The Challenger March," "Plantation Favorites," "Frans Lehar's Waltz Favorites" and "The Recruits March."

There will be no admission charge, according to the announcement, which said that all friends of Barrett are urged to attend, to enjoy a musical evening, and "give young talent the encouragement of a large and appreciative audience."

CHEAT TERMITES



Keep all soil around your foundation from touching wood at any point and you will go far toward keeping termites out of your house.

AIM STRAIGHT

Lots of people who aim straight when shooting birds forget to carry the same principle into life, and try to cut corners, taking advantage of others. They get so crooked they don't know when they're aiming at themselves — BANG! They're gone! See straight, think straight, be straight—seems a good idea.

REAL QUICK

Bert Moore, 2789 Alleghenyav, had a glider which was not needed. What to do? Yes, why, of course, you're right! Naturally! He advertised it in the classified columns of The South Side Leader . . . and "had 24 calls, sold glider by 9 o'clock a.m.—day the paper came out!"

'Way Back There

Do you remember when it was popular to say, learnedly (or so the say-ers thought), "Now, the psychology of the thing is" . . . and so on? In some circles that was the top of erudition. Maybe YOU want to decide what "the psychology of THE THING is." If you ever do, tell me the result won't you?

An Older One

Not many recall one of the "bright sayings" of the past — back in the first decade of this century: "O you kid." Another, and top-ranking then "Twenty-three Skiddo!" I remember hearing graying "lady killers" trying to make impression with the fair sex (usually at hotel cigar counters or in dining places in the same language many years later. They were dated—and, usually, losers.

A Thought

The though arises that in every period of time there are catchy phrases which some possess as a rich inheritance while being wholly innocent of knowledge of any significance in the empty words and pharses. The thought is given further extension thusly: Isn't it fortunate that at least a sizable segment of the population adheres to significant language, significant words and phrases, as a basis for summerization of our lives in accomplishment or in the printed page for later generations to read—and understand?

Kindly Words

Some kindly words came to the South Side Leader a few hours after last week's issue was delivered. Mrs. George Merion Pedlar, who supplied the date for the "New Englander Came West" article with illustrations, thought the Leader story exactly described the historic aspects as they have been passed down through the years. There'll be more, too, Mrs. George Merion Pedlar, about your forebears and —about YOU. We won't tell Mrs. Pedlar, but we know of her travels through Europe and other places, and she, herself, has made some history. We intend to "tell on her."

A Bouquet

Talking a bit with Tom Sharp —"Mr. Leader" to many of the advertisers in the South Side Leader. Tom was talking about one of his pet organizations: the Southeast Lions Club: I asked some questions which cannot be answered out loud until later. Right now I simply want to express the thoughts I have and the thoughts which many others have toward the Lions: they are a grand group of men doing a grand job for others. This seems appropriate: what can a man do more than he has done when he has given of self and means for others? That's paraphrased. Do you recognize it? But if you recognize the magnificence of these Lions of ours, you'all are very much ALL RIGHT — like our Lions.

An "I" Lost

Who knows why and where the "I" in Friebis-av went? A story is (I hope) in today's Leader giving some history in connection with the naming of the street, and the people whose name was given to the street. E. J. Cook, a business neighbor of The South Side Leader, told me about his wife's people coming here with the name of Friebis, and how they bought property and how undoubtedly a pathway in the general direction and location of the street now named FREBIS received the family name, with the "I" in it. Maybe some of the older residents can shed some light on the losing of the thin letter of the alphabet. Mrs. Otto Leithart, friend Cook's sister, told of the coming of their forebears — and we have put it briefly into a story which, it is hoped, will get into today's Leader.

Maybe you, too, have information about things and people of oldentimes. Tell us, won't you?

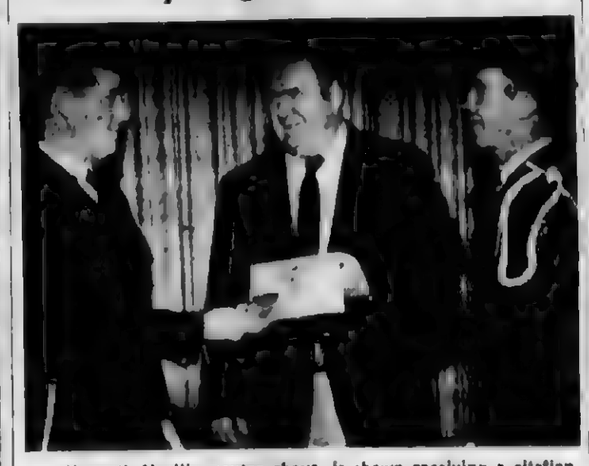
Communists Note

There are a lot of telephones in the United States, a fact which has been noted many times. Recent figures tell an interesting story: we have a total of 6 per cent of the population of the world, but we have more than half of all the telephones in the world.



It is hoped that the masters of Russia's millions have read the telephone statistics.

Serious, Light Program At Trinity Brotherhood Meet

Lawrence M. Irvin, director, Slum Clearance and Rehabilitation Commission of Columbus, who will be the featured speaker Tuesday evening May 22 at Trinity Lutheran Church as guest of the Brotherhood, will also show films illustrating the slum conditions in various parts of the city.

Members of the Brotherhood have scattered invitations not only to members of Trinity, but, according Clyde R. Shields, 378 Sycamore-st, elder, have invited the general public, since the community and the church "is vitally concerned, as it is in the confines of the slum clearance program in this section of the city."

In addition to the slum clearance program, Elder Shields told The South Side Leader, a variety program will immediately follow Director Irvin's address and picture-showing. This variety program will feature Mrs. Dorothy Huskey, well-known Columbus vocalist, the Starlighters, composed of Joyce Wolford, Pat Wolford, and Barbara Parker. Otto and Harold Gall will also present a specialty number.

The program will be offered in each of the city's seven public high schools under the supervision of a staff of 11 instrumental teachers.

Announcement was made that instruction will be offered on all instruments except the piano and plucked string instruments.

Enrollment

Children in grades five through nine may enroll in classes and ensembles for a period of eight weeks, beginning June 18 and continuing through Aug. 10. The statement said that boys and girls who will be in the fifth grade this coming September will be eligible to enroll.

Students in grades 10 through 12 may enroll for six weeks, beginning June 18 and running through July 27. Instruction for football bands also will be given from Aug. 20 through Aug. 31.

And, he added, the program provides a wholesome recreational outlet for many boys and girls.

THE LAUNDROMAT NEW WAY TO WASH

Westinghouse removed the Center-Post entirely . . . put smooth agitator vanes at the outside of the wash basket. As the basket revolves, these vanes agitate the clothes by lifting, turning, flushing through sudsy water 50 times a minute. Every piece is washed all the time, thoroughly, equally well.

Diana and Donna Cunningham, the twin-daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham, 836 E. Livingston-av, celebrated their 11-year birthday on May 15. Their little brother, Timmy, will achieve his third year on May 29. An uncle, Robert Evans, of 838 E. Livingston, will join the May procession of birthdays on the 25th of this month.

One of life's quirks played a dirty trick on Carolyn Rohr, 719 Hanford-st, when she enjoyed (?) a case of ivy poisoning just before the Rose Prom held at South High last Friday. We certainly hope she got it cleared up in time to get to go.

PTA notes for the week show that Barrett Jr. High will hold a hobby show in conjunction with the regular meeting this evening at 7:45 p. m. Mrs. William Hoptry will be the installing officer for the newly elected personnel of the PTA executive board.

Heyl Avenue School will use a western theme for its spring project this year. The affair will last from 4 to 9 p. m. with supper being served from 5 to 7 in the lunchroom. The date? Tomorrow, the 18th.

Jane Cooper and Richard Conley will have a May 26 anniversary date in the years to come, after their exchange of vows in the Oakwood Methodist Church. Jane is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aurice Cooper, 1349 E. Kossuth-st, and Richard's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Conley are Groveport residents. Both young folks are South High Graduates.

All units of the Columbus Symphony will meet today at 1:30 p. m. in the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts. Main business will be the election of officers.

The newly elected vice-president of the Faculty Women's Club of OSU is a South Sider,, so congratulations to Miss Ruth B. Irwin, 200 Thurman-av.

Meetings of Beads of Our Lady of Mercy School for this week are as follows: Bead 13, yesterday in the home of Mrs. Charles Batch, 1260 Champion-av; Bead 27, May 15, in home of Mrs. John Kulp, 806 Heyl-av. Newly installed officers of Bead 27 include Mrs. William Malone, 828 Heyl-av, as chairman, and Mrs. Frank Smith, 506 Lilley-av, treasurer.

Other birthdays on our list are those of Shirley Cline, Livingston-av, who was 11 years old May 16; Judy Vogt, 1418 S. Sixth-st, to occur May 23; Virginia Mitchell of 192 E. Gates-st, a celebrant of May 19; and "Mickey" McGrew of 219 E. Whittier, who is eagerly looking forward to May 22.

St. Ann's Guild 42, meets this evening at 8:30 in the home of Mrs. S. J. Telerski, 1441 Linwood-av.

Golden wedding anniversary congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Bailey, 304 Robinwood-rd, who achieved their half-century together on May 13.

Get-well wishes to Mrs. Carl Burton, who is currently in Room 210, Mt. Carmel Hospital, and whose home address is 240 Southwood-av.

Mervin Cooper of Sheldon-av, spent last week-end attending a bowling tournament.

Bert Rigot, a grand "gal" and resident of Gates-st, was hostess to Mrs. Driscoll and Anna Gulcher, on May 14, honoring Mrs. Driscoll's 86th birthday. Mrs. Driscoll and Mrs. Gulcher are residents of 6 Hanford-st. Nice time to report about it, but "Bertie" missed our nasty weather recently by spending a month in Florida.

Two May 19 birthdays are those of Barbara Ann Adams, who will be 14 and Johnny Adams who will be 13 years old. Barbara's address is 673 E. Welch-av, Apt. L, while Johnny's home is at 786 Bruck-st.

Mercy Hospital Guilds that have meetings scheduled for the week are Guild 2, May 22, at the hospital, 3:15, and Guild 7, also May 22 in the home of Mrs. Merriman, at 8 p. m.

Bob Hoptry, 280 Southwood-av, reaches the age where Uncle Sam gets interested, on May 19.

A family gathering will be the celebration this evening to commemorate the 21st wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Shirey, 1109 S. Ohio-av. The Shireys are the parents of Dick and Judy, South High graduates.

Guild 33, of South Methodist Church, meets this morning at 10 at Henderson Hall

Visitors to the community last week were Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Scott, Jr., who visited Vaughn's folks, the "seniors" at 2600 Lockbourne-rd. It gave the younger Mrs. Scott a chance to become better acquainted with her Ohio relatives, as she is a native of New Hampshire. After the Columbus visit, Vaughn then reported to Key West for submarine duty.

Another out-of-state visitor was Eileen Swisher Di Franco, who visited her folks, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Swisher of Siebert-st, as she won't get the chance to do so later in the summer. Eileen was in Italy but now lives in Genoa, N.Y. Her husband, Joseph, a professor at Cornell University, is taking a group of students to India this summer, hence the early visit at this time.

Jack McQuaid is a California visitor at this time, lucky him!

Attended a very interesting concert last week and thought I'd like to tell about it. It's called the Columbus Symphony Training Orchestra, a sort of "minor" league training for the "major" league orchestra! Young folks from all over the county are selected to play in the group with the ultimate aim of getting a chance to play in the Columbus Symphony. We were proud of our son's participation but he succeeded in causing us to chuckle, nevertheless. As many of the teenagers now, be owns one of those gaudy striped hats known as an "Ivy League." Imagine our consternation at beholding him strolling nonchalantly across the auditorium stage at the OSU Museum carrying his violin in one hand and that red and black hat in the other! (Of course, it could be worse, for at home he considers himself dressed if he wears his bathrobe and that hat, feet bare, of course.) The youngsters of the C.S.T.O. did a marvelous job, to return to our original discourse, and we certainly hope the group continues many, many years.

Tomorrow night's the night! For what? The South High Alumni reunion and dance, naturally. Some of those attending will be out - of - towners, so we'll list the ones we've heard about. There are more, naturally, but we didn't hear about them, so we can't write what we don't know! Imogene Wilson Brown is coming from Birmingham, Mich., to attend, and is bringing her daughter, Sandy, with her. Mr. and Mrs. Don Stertzer, now stationed in Albuquerque, N. Mex., will attend the reunion in addition to visiting the senior Stertzers and Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Delsemme, 1467 Oakwood-av. Rev. and Mrs. Fred Nofer of Dallas, Tex., will also be among the "reunionists." Donna Adkins Smith will make the short trip from Kenton, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. David Freytag will take the pleasant jaunt from Newark, Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Heenan will be present from Wilmington, Ohio. A record crowd is expected to attend. In addition to meeting former classmates a 10-act variety show will be held, m'c'd by Russ Canter and there will be dancing to the music of Frank LaRue's orchestra.

Guess we've written everything we had notes about, this time around, so call us and give us your news, won't you? Still is HI. 4-1051, so give us a buzz. Till next edition, then, this is

Two Awards

South High PTA awarded, for the first time this year, two scholarships of $200 each. The winners this year are Barbara Hoscher and Ann Haas.

The girls were invited to Ohio State University for a luncheon, at which they accepted their awards. Both girls are going in attend Ohio State in the fall. They are going to enter the college of education. —By Barbara Lynch.

The Picture That Remains

YESTERDAY, in the corridor of our establishment, we overheard a young woman say: "He seemed so much at peace, so natural . . . that helped so much." In time of bereavement there is so little real solace one can give that it felt good to know that we had helped . . . even a little. For, over and above the service we perform, we strive to help the living . . . to ease the sorrow of a most difficult time.

M-F Citizens Group To Get Cash Held In Treasury

With the early distribution of treasury funds the Marion Township Citizens Association will come to an end.

This was indicated early last winter, when it was announced that a meeting would be held looking to the dishanding of the organization, and the meeting approved the action.

At that time it was stated that the organization had outlived the purposes for which it was created, that interest in meetings had been lost, and that "going out of business was indicated."

Jack Schoonover, president of the organization, told The South Side Leader Tuesday morning that there will be a called meeting at the Marion-Franklin school next Thursday evening, May 24, 8 o'clock to arrange for the disbursement of funds.

President Schoonover said that those having proprietorship in the treasury funds should attend the meeting and help in the disbursement plans.

Some live in "dream houses"—ignoring life's practical requirements. Then life has a habit of wafting away the dream—and the dreamer is on his uppers. And no one cares.

BUT . . . HOW?

And there's a man named Cook—no, beg your parden; that's the way it appeared in this column last week; he said it was wrong. Well, we make it right this time—it's E. J. Koch, popular Leader neighbor, and we hope that all his friends, seeing his name here properly spelled, will stop in and see him—just two doors from this column.

O . . . Where?

Sometimes the muse is unkind. It seems to take wing and fly away to secrete itself in distant and secluded niches of the universe. Tired, perhaps, of the obtuseness of the writer's mind, maybe it flits away to seek refreshing of spirit from the warmth of distant stars. Wherever it is, I know it isn't here—nothing to incite the mind to prolific columning.

A Secret

Where a muse goes when it isn't here I do not know. I sit down to the faithful typewriter (it's always here, being inanimate) and the mind that was has disappeared — just gone away. Where an hour ago thoughts were racing through my mind, each seeming to clamor for the privilege of being the subject of the week's column, now only empti-

Publicity For 'Elephants' And Dolls

Mrs. Doris Shaffer, publicity chairman for St. Leo's Festival, June 1 and 2, is talking about "white elephants" now. She announced the fact that there will be a "white elephant" table, with all the things somebody may need and want from somebody who didn't need the things any longer.

The publicity chairman also told of dolls (only seven inches tall, she said) of the color and complexion desired.

Mrs. Shaffer also announced that the pickerel dinner will be served Friday evening and that the pizza bar will be open Saturday evening. Other desired foods will be available, she said.

Mrs. Shaffer also called attention to the Chevrolet car to be won by someone visiting St. Leo's Festival.

Finleys Study Price, Quality At Institute

Ed and Bill Finley of Foreign Grocery went to Cleveland recently to "talk shop," which was not a difficult task, since they were attending the National Supermarket Institute with others from all over the country.

Finding a way to keep prices down and quality up took up much of the time of the Finley brothers, who said most of the supermarket men there had the same idea—and talked about it a lot.

The two local merchants spent four days—Sunday through Wednesday—familiarizing themselves with the latest proved economy programs for their patrons.

Big Alumni Crowd Taxes Capacity Of South High

South High School had a record crowd last Friday evening, May 18, for the spring reunion of graduates of the school, according to spokesmen for the Alumni Association.

Although an exact count was impossible, Nelson Hennis, 526 S. High-st, treasurer, told the Leader, there were at least 2800 alumni in attendance.

The one check which officials had on the mammoth crowd was in the auditorium, where two performances were given by members of the variety show. The auditorium seats 1,250 persons, the treasurer said, adding that when the crowd was seen to be too large, one group was placed in one section of the building while the other half saw the show. Then, when the auditorium was emptied, the second group came from their "waiting" and entered the auditorium to see the show.

During that time, Treasurer Hennis said, two or three hundred were interested in visiting in various rooms where they could find accommodations. The crowd was stated to be the largest in the 53-year history of South High School.

New Officers

Retiring president Augie Graumlich introduced the following new officers of the association for the 1956-57 term: president, Shirley Unverzagt; vice-president, Emmalene Camp; secretary, Helen Denney; assistant secretary, Elaine Nicholson; treasurer, Nelson Hennis.

With more than 8,000 alumni located, and with the search for more going ahead, it was said plans for handling the larger crowd expected at the next meeting are going ahead.

Petitions For Marion Twp, Other Areas, Filed With Commissioners

Franklin County Commissioners Tuesday received from Joel Snyder, 1747 Oakwood-av, petitions said to represent 70 per cent of the freeholders of 7100 acres and signed by approximately 2,000 property owners, asking the commissioners to annex the involved areas to the City of Columbus.

This development is believed to bear out the findings of The South Side Leader in its issue of April 5, when the beginning of the canvass for names began and after making an extensive house to house investigation of the attitudes of freeholders.

Filing of the petitions asked, in effect, that all of Marion Township Local School District, all of Hamilton Township north of Obetz-rd between Parsons-av and the Scioto River, and a small portion in the northwest corner of Madison Township be attached to Columbus.

Opposition

There was active opposition, and it was said Tuesday that securing of the necessary 70 per cent of property holders of the area to the petitions was in the face "of a stiff campaign by opposed and interested parties" who were not named.

Claimed high taxes in the area was the basis for at least a part of the campaign for annexation, it was said, it being pointed out to the Leader news man at the time of the canvass to determine sentiment in the area, that by annexation to Columbus taxpayers would reap substantial benefits through lower taxes.

Two Month's Wait

At the Commission's office on Tuesday there was no comment when inquiry was made as to the probabilities of Commission action. Except that the Commission could not act upon the petition until the expiration of a 60-day waiting period, no one in official position would make any comment.

When asked his opinion, Snyder merely said that the wishes of the people of the area had been expressed in the signed petitions, as required by statute, and that he had no "inside" information about what lies ahead.

It was stated that the petitions represented what was believed to be the largest area ever filed in annexation proceedings.

Big Show Here Is Arranged By Merchants

Steelton Merchants Association has announced the coming the week of June 4, of Powelson Greater Shows as a part of the annual Gala Spring Festival and Fun-A-Rama.

There's to be no gate admission, a representative of the Association and Powelson Greater Shows announced. The only charge is for the specific ride or entertainment desired after entering the grounds.

The representative of the shows said that there are new and greater "thrills" and "chills" to make a visit to the grounds memorable.

Steelton Merchants are presenting the Greater Shows as a public service to the community, a spokesman said, and invites everybody in the area to have fun at the fun festival.

Traffic Commission Chairman Otto Meier has charge of preparations and Andy Contosta has charge of before-and-after arrangements.

One announcement was for the kiddies, particularly: On Saturday, June 9, at a matinee, every show and every ride will be reduced to 10 cents.

The Gadabout

Priscilla LaRue Lenox
HI. 4-1051

We heard of a 50th wedding anniversary that's to be celebrated in an unusual fashion, so we'd like to tell about it. The couple who will be celebrating are Mr. and Mrs. William Burns, 298 E. Morrill-av, and their 50th year of wedded life will be achieved on June 3. A potluck dinner in the home of their daughter, Vivian Sabodos, will be the family's way of getting together at this time. On June 11, the couple will leave for Miami Beach, to relax for two weeks of vacation and belated honeymoon. The family thought this would be a memorable way of helping their parents to celebrate such an important occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Burns exchanged their vows in Marshall, Ill.

Birthdays to be noted at this time of the year are those of Karen Alexander, 25 W. Markison-av, May 25; Donnie Bush, 2041 Studer-av, May 31; Vivian Lenox, May 22; Mrs. Cecil Smith, Southwood-av, May 27; Don LaRue, May 27; Don Baughman, May 27; Marilyn Metzger, May 26, Nita Hutch, May 18; Margaret Heil, 1121 Markison-av, May 27; Louise Davis, 1480 S. 4th-st, May 28; Gene Tope, May 28.

Congratulations to Grace Bittle, who was recently chosen as "Cook of the week", and thereby won the chance to appear on a television program, May 24.

This time of the year is tradtionally that of "shoes and rice" for the newly weds and listed in this category are Marilyn Fouts, 770 Stewart-av, and Pete Casbarro, Powell, Ohio. St. Christopher's Church will be the scene of the June 2 wedding. On June 3, two South High graduates will begin their life together as Mr. and Mrs. The bride-to-be is Sharon Yorde, and her fiance is Ernest Martin. Miss Yorde resides at 816 E. Fulton-st, and Mr. Martin's home is at 230 Innis-av. Trinity Lutheran Church will be the scene of the event.

Our congratulations to Dave Barker, of St. Mary's High and Roger Hackett, of South High, who were chosen as the athlete scholars of their respective schools to attend the award banquet of the Agonis Club last evening at the Seneca Hotel

White Cross Guild 22 of Thurman Avenue Methodist Church meets today at 10 a.m. in Henderson Hall.

St. Leo's Church Spring Festival is on the calendar for June 1 and 2, and many fine things are on the agenda.

The Columbus English Club of the Columbus public schools elected its officers recently and a member of Livingston School is to be congratulated for being elected as recording secretary. Mrs. Helene Sliter was chosen for this duty.

The Burns family seem to have their "birthday" time in the spring of the year, so a big "glob" of birthday greetings to these members of the family: Vivian Sobodos; her niece Vivian Burns who was named for her Aunt because she was born on the same date (different year, of course!) Butch Burns, Billy Burns, Harry and Harriet Burns.

PTA notes show that Southwood School will be meeting this afternoon, and election and installation of officers will be the item of business to be taken care of. Mrs. William Hoptry will be the installing officer. Mrs. Walter Denney will install the officers at Lincoln Park this afternoon This evening at 7:45 p.m. South High's PTA will meet for the last time this season and newly elected officers will be installed by Mrs. Harold Welch. PEBS, past executive board of South, will attend the meeting and present a check to Mr. Huber, to be used for school purposes. A style show and refreshments will also be part of the evening's fare.

We have a further note about the aformentioned PEBS club and that is the fact that they will hold a picnic at "Y" Park May 29. Mrs. Rex Grate, president of PEBS is recipient of congratulations for her and Mr. Grate's May 29 wedding anniversary date.

Wonder if South High has regained its girlish figure yet? The old alma mammy was BULGING at the seams, last Friday. There were simply thousands of people at the alumni reunion. (An estimated 4,000, we heard.) Mr. and Mrs. George Hupp, of New Concord, Ohio, and Mr and Mrs. Wilbur Nungesser, of Lancaster, Ohio, made special efforts to be there, we know. It was sumpin'! It should make the alumni happy to know that their dues are spent on such worthwhile things, too. Much good is done with the funds, so we'll hope the organization keeps right on perking along.

Bob Bateman was a recent hospital resident, but was well enough to attend the reunion. "Gland" to see you out, Bob! (I got heckled by him, so having a bit of good-natured retaliation.)

A Mercy Hospital Guild that meets this week is Guild 1, today at 10, in the Hospital.

The Annual Spring banquet of all Trudean Guilds takes place this evening at 6:30 p.m., at Ilonka's. Two South Side Guilds, 10 and 12, helped with making plans for the banquet.

Barrett students have a chance to tread the "light fantastic" tomorrow night at the school. Mrs. Harold Bouer is in charge of the dance.

Guess we've written all we know, this time around, so help us, by calling HI. 4-1051, won't you? Till next time then—This is THE GADABOUT

Scioto Trail News

Parents of the Parent-Teachers Club feted the teachers at Y park, May 16 with a feast of fried chicken, salads, desserts, and all the trimmings. It was bountiful besides affording an opportunity for volleyball and just plain chatting. The air was chill, but the spirit was warm, aided by blazing logs in the fireplace.

Another exciting event of the same day was the visit of one second grade section and two first to the Zoo. Cold air made little or no difference to the children who were thrilled to see the animals. A number of mothers accompanied the groups.

By invitation from Miss Morris the band director from Marion-Franklin Mr. French, came to the school and gave the beginning band here its first instructions in marching.

On Wednesday, May 2, representatives from the county sheriff's office led an assembly of the pupils. Valuable suggestions were made concerning proper conduct on bus, bicycle and street. Awards were promised for those who heed these suggestions.

Friday, May 11 Mrs. Wallis 6th grade section visited at Bozzuto's, Monroe and Ross plant in connection with a study of foods. The particular quest was to find out just how milk is pasteurized.

A track meet has been held in grades 4 through 7 under the supervision of Mr. Ary. An Ugly Thing

SUGGESTED TOUR INCLUDES MANY BEAUTY SCENES OF SOUTHERN OHIO AND KENTUCKY

A trip from the rolling hills of Ohio, through the Ohio River valley, across the beautiful Ohio river and into the scenic blue-grass country of Kentucky sounds like an ideal tour to us.

Kentucky, the Cumberland Hills state, with its beautiful estates, homes of thoroughbred horses, including the fabulous Man of War, and Renfro Valley, home of the famous Renfro Valley Serenaders, has wonderful vacation possibilities. A state park is located on Kentucky Route 90, midway between Corbin and Williamsburg, and a newly-constructed bridge, especially designed to harmonize with its surroundings, spans the Cumberland River in the park.

Cumberland National Forest stretches as far as the eye can see and beyond. The Cumberland River wanders through a valley, winding past the most beautiful hillsides and accepting the easiest pathway through this natural garden. At one point the river moves faster and faster toward a high rock ledge from which it leaps and plunges into a self-made rock pool where it boils and seethes before it resumes its quiet journey through the still mountains and forest.

Leaving Cumberland National Park, the tour continues to Abraham Lincoln's historical park with its memorial building and Lincoln's cabin. From there, the trip continues to Bardstown, Laurenburg, Cincinnati and home.

The suggested route for this trip with its scenic wonders and historical significance is: from Columbus, take Route 62 to Ripley, cross the Ohio river to Marysville, follow Route 11 to Mt. Sterling, Route 60 to Winchester, Route 227 to Richmond, Route 25 to Corbin and Route 90 to Somerset. Route 80 to Columbia, 61 to Hodgenville, 31 to Bardstown, 62 to Georgetown, 25 to Cincinnati and home to Columbus, via Route 3.

PLANNING YOUR PICNIC

Picnics are the most fun when they're properly planned. Here's a good picnic tip: plan out the things you want to take with you the night before. Otherwise, sure as shootin', somebody will forget something that will put a damper on the whole day.

Ever sit down to grilled hamburgers, and hear somebody say, "But I thought you packed the ketchup?"

Or, "Honey, didn't you put any salt in the basket?"

Systematic Planning

It's the little things that are easiest to forget, but big or little, there's no need to forget anything if you plan your picnic in a systematic way:

1. Planning on hamburgers? Make them into patties the night before. Get out on insulated picnic bucket such as the one in the picture, and in the morning all you have to do is pack the hamburger patties on the bucket's plastic tray. Don't forget the small cans of frozen refrigerant to keep them cold and fresh.

If you're planning on having a picnic where stone grills are not provided, you'll want a handy, easy to manage portable grill that will cook a good supply of hamburgers. The grill in the picture contains an enclosed charcoal fire, weighs only a few pounds, and is one of the cleanest, safest you can buy. You carry the charcoal right inside it, so there's no mess.

2. Put your bottled goods on ice the night before. Along with the refrigerant, pack them in the morning in an insulated bucket so they'll be nice and cold when you want them. If you want hot coffee or if you want to take along unbottled lemonade, make them fresh and pour them into an insulated jug with a built-in pump dispenser. No need to carry them in an old-type jug that you have to lift or tilt to pour out of. A rubber bulb is squeezed and the liquid is pumped through a spout at the top. Even a child can get a drink when he wants it without danger of tipping over the jug.

3. Make sure you have enough of everything. Appetites go up as the result of strenuous outdoor activity. Best way to estimate how much to bring is to calculate more than you think anyone can possibly eat, then multiply by two.

4. Maybe you really want to get fancy. You can prepare individual portions of chilled chocolate mousse the night before, wrap them in aluminum foil, and pop them into the insulated bag where they will stay firm and cold. Or maybe an ice-cold potato salad or coleslaw. Put them in a sealed plastic container and store them in with the soda in the cooler.

Use This Check-List

That ought to be enough food to hold you. But now you're planning has got to be careful. Those little things are important to make the picnic a success. Try making a list and include the following items as a minimum:

1. Plates, cups and silverware. Put them in the insulated bag if you like. There's plenty of room.
2. Salt, pepper, sugar, mustard, cream or milk, catsup. Put the cream in the cooler with the other bottled beverages.
3. Don't forget a bottle opener, a good sharp knife, and a flashlight (it's liable to be dark when you pack up to leave).
4. Take along a can of charcoal lighter. It will help the fire get going ever so much faster.

That's all there is to it. If you think of anything else that you usually like to take along on a picnic, by all means add it. But plan it out.

Proper Planning Is Necessary For Carefree Vacation

When you're going away, travel the care-free way, the Columbus Motor Club advises. But, it won't just happen—it will be the result of careful planning. Important details should be carefully considered.

When you have checked off all these items, you will be ready to start a care-free vacation, the club advises.

First of all, plan the time the trip will take, places you expect to visit and accommodations. Latest route information should be obtained, including maps. Be sure you have your car registration and driver's license, hospitalization card, gasoline credit card and, most important, your traveler's checks.

If you are planning to hunt, camp or fish, make sure you are familiar with the regulations covering these activities.

Have Car Checked

Few things can upset the fun of a vacation like car difficulties. So you can often save yourself a lot of time and money by having your car thoroughly checked before you leave. This inspection should include the motor, clutch, brakes, cooling system, steering gear, battery, lighting, ignition, windshield wipers, signals, wheel alignment, exhaust, etc. It is also advisable to inspect tires, including the spare, and see that car tools and a flashlight are included. Complete and thorough lubrication of your car, of course, is a "must."

Articles To Take Along

To help you make your vacation more pleasant, the Columbus Motor Club suggests that you take along a vacuum bottle for cold or hot drinks, sunglasses, a first aid kit, camera and supplies, a pillow for naps, writing materials and stamps, your address book, prescription for glasses and medicine, paper towels, litter bags, cups and tissue and personal effects insurance.

Home Preparations

Another important item often neglected is the preparations of your home for your absence. Be sure to notify the newspaper boy, the milkman and others whose services you use, that you will be away. Mail should be stopped or arranged for with your neighbor. And, something will have to be done about the pets. If you are to be away any length of time, there's the yard and garden to consider. Windows and doors should be checked and neighbors should be advised about your scheduled absence.

And, always remember, drive at safe speeds and stay within posted speed limits. Start early each day and stop before you become fatigued. Get settled early for the night. Rest or change drivers often to avoid fatigue. Leave word where you can be reached in an emergency.

POP FOR PICNICS

Convenience at a picnic makes the outing relaxed fun. Compact carrying cases keep food and beverage in perfect condition for party members. Straw baskets decoratively trimmed and lined with protective materials preserve perishable foods until the picnic site is reached. At the scene, bread, meat, garnishes, cookies, etc., are spread out within easy reach of all. Feather-weight plastic picnic coolers with zippered tops and adjustable straps for hand-or-shoulder toting contain an ample supply of the group's favorite soft drink. And a special water-proof lining keeps ice cubes from leaking through so that the beverage stays ice-cold for hours.

WILL HE BE TAKEN OUT OF THIS PICTURE BY A CARELESS, RECKLESS DRIVER ON

MEMORIAL DAY 1956?

On Memorial Day, it is our honor and pride to pay tribute to those who bravely fought for our freedom . . . our duty to resolve firmly that this freedom shall forever be preserved.

WITH THIS FREEDOM COMES A RESPONSIBILITY -- of respect and consideration to our fellow man, especially on the highways, over a holiday – when so many of us seek pleasure and relaxation in travel and visits away from home.

BE CAREFUL!

BE COURTEOUS!

A CARELESS DRIVER DOESN'T DRIVE A CAR–

HE AIMS IT!

O. G.'s Notes—

ness prevails. And emptiness of mind certainly is no help to a columnist.

Lazy

I know there are some unkind souls who would charge the situation is the result of laziness. Such persons are logical souls, bless 'em. I wish they were less logical because while under ordinary circumstances they might be right—would be right, in this instance. I question the accuracy of their judgment. I admit tthat on the face of it an admission that there is an absence of mind justifies the reader in thinking that laziness is the root of the trouble. But "laziness" is not a pretty word. I wish there were another word less accurate, more elevating. Please select your words with delightful carefulness.

Not Alone

But I am not alone. The evening is sultry, the day has been hot, and in my mind's eye I visualize thousands of persons indolently reclining in the open, thoughts drifting, only to be brought back to reality by the buzz or the sting of a mosquito or the crawling of one of those "cute" little bugs that have such affectionate adherence to human beings. So I am not alone. There! My mind returned for a fleeting moment, just long enough to say, "You're only making excuses. You ARE lazy, and you know it."

Agreable

I won't agree with that. It may be true. But if the muse would say, gracefully, affectionately like, you know, "You poor fellow, you're not lazy; you're just exhausted after a strenuous day," such a life would be given to my spirits that respectability would instantly return. But a writer's must should be honest. Mine definitely will not say what I would like to hear. My muse knows me. I will be agreeable, even though it is distasteful.

Value

Since I am convicted of laziness by my own muse, let's see if there is value in laziness. I believe there is (although tomorrow I may be sorry I tried to prove it) value in laziness. Laziness, as you know, is the result of indolence, or the other way around, or the two words may be parallel. I could look it up in the dictionary, but unfortunately that source of knowledge lies on a shelf immediately back of me. To get it would require turning around. I won't do that. And there's proof that there's value in laziness. You see, do you not, that to turn around would require physical exertion, you see what effort I have saved myself. So there is value in laziness. I'm glad I thought of that. It makes me feel better.

Suggestion

There's a suggestion in that for you, my friend. Too much exertion may shorten your years. Of course, it may, also, cause you to drift into obesity — into "that fat old loafer." But don't let that bother you. Just plunge into laziness with all the energy of nothing and drift into the fairyland of nothing to do and "I don't care." You will enjoy it, at least for awhile. There will descend upon you the inspiration to do great things; followed by the realization—I should say, happy realization—that you do not have to do the great things! Then you fall gracefully into your lethargy and let the busy world pass by.

One Catch

I believe I should warn you of a catch in the plan however. The "catch" does not necessarily mean that virtue is absent from my suggestion. But it is somewhat important. If you can enjoy an orgy of indolence or laziness (call it what you will) and continue eating — and that reminds me, I'm hungry; I must go to work. Still, I urge that the idea is good, but, as you see, for me, not at the moment practical.

The public has an insatiable curiosity to know everything except what is worth knowing.
—Oscar Wilde

Pictured above is Mrs. Rita Neff, 667 Lathrop, winner of a contest on "Why I would like to own an electric dryer," sponsored by the Southern Ohio Electric Co. The contest was called "Work Saver Contest," and now Mrs. Neff has her "work saver" because she wrote a good essay. Messrs. Margulis operate a department store at 231 E. Livingston-av.

Install Officers, Hear Editor, Lincoln PTA Meet

Officers installation, invocation by Rev. Clarence Mullins of the South Church of Christ, and a brief talk by Oliver Gedeist, editor of The South Side Leader, will mark the final meeting of the season for Lincoln Park PTA, 1:30 this Thursday afternoon at the school.

Installation will be for newly elected officers, representatives to Council, and alternates to Council, and will be conducted by Mrs. Walter Denny, secretary, Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers Association. The following are to be installed.

Mrs. Jack A. Kirby, president; Mrs. Irwin Rollison, vice-president; Mrs. Bernard Fluhart, treasurer; Mrs. Dale Davy, recording secretary; Mrs. Zelge Smalley, corresponding secretary; representatives to Council: Mrs. Asa Yost, Mrs. Vernon Nicholson, Mrs. Dwight Rife; alternates to Council: Mrs. Harvey Bland, Mrs. Adam Keeney, Mrs. H. F. McQuiller.

The subject of Editor Gedeist's brief talk has been announced as "How South Side PTA Units May Best Use Their Neighborhood Newspaper." This is one of the Editor's favorite subjects, it was stated, "since the PTA's and all they represent are the core of the America of the future."

Mothers of children enrolled at Lincoln Park for kindergarten next fall have received invitations to be the unit's special guests at this meeting, according to Mrs. Richard Borror, publicity chairman.

City Namesakes In Seven States

Although there are probably many little hamlets and villages throughout the country, there are only eight sizeable places in the United States bearing the name of our Columbus.

These are, according to size, after our Columbus, in Georgia, where the population is given as 79,611; in Indiana, where the Columbus population is 18,370; in Mississippi, where Columbus is given as 17,172, in Nebraska, Columbus is listed as having 8,000 persons; Wisconsin is next, with Columbus having 3,250 souls; Texas brings up the end with Columbus taking care of 2,878 persons.

South Side Man Now In Germany

Army Pfc. James E. Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. McCaffrey, 363 Berkeley-rd, is a member of the Southern Area Command Honor Guard in Germany. Members of the honor guard compete for the job and perform at all official functions. Ross, a conservation non-commissioned officer in the 7822d Army Unit, arrived in Europe in February 1955. A 1952 graduate of Holy Rosary High School, the 22-year-old soldier entered the Army in September 1954 and received basic training at Fort Knox, Ky.

Conversation

Why is it that conversation often lags to the point of boredom? With the hundreds to thousands of words at the command of all of us, why are we ashamed to use the words to express our thoughts? Should we be ashamed to be reasonably bright in our thinking—and talking?

The Way To Lose

Often a man overemphasizes his own values instead of the values in what he does. Then, like "pride goeth before a fall," the unwise man is in for some bumps.

SOLUTIONS

Most people run away from problems to avoid thinking about them. But the problem, like a rabbit running from a dog, is always right behind. Thinking, not running away, is the way to solutions.

A good family newspaper is like a good friend: it is always around when you need it.

BLACK FOREST

You've heard of it. Think of this: Many people, having discarded life's natural enthusiasms, carry "black forests" in their minds, hindering their fullest usefulness in the society in which we live and upon which we depend. It's better if the sun shines in.

Delivered To Homes of the South Side Each Thursday Morning

Vol. V, No. 11 | Columbus, Ohio, Thursday, May 31, 1956 | Total No. 219

JOYFUL DAY

Credenza, mahogany, excel. cond. $40. Elizabeth Schwartz, AM. 8-2247 . . . and, what do you know! Sold on first call! Afterward there were 14 more calls. It was a joyful day. Yes, Leader classifieds pay — and pay! You try it, for yourself. You'll be glad. Call HI. 4-9262.

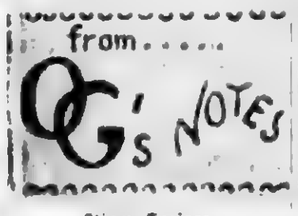
Carrier Boy Delivery Is Planned By S. S. Leader

Starting with the issue of June 7 your copy of The South Side Leader will be delivered to your home early each Thursday morning by a local South Side boy.

On this date nearly 80 boys living in this area will take over the weekly distribution of the paper, according to an announcement today by C. C. Hartley, publisher.

In the major Leader delivery area the Leader has previously been delivered by men employed by Reliable Distributing Co., a service which has been very satisfactory, according to the publisher. However, he pointed out the advantages accruing from having the cost of distribution (the delivery boys' pay for making delivery) stay here in the South Side.

He continued, "The South Side Leader has become an established intimate aspect of South Side people, and it fits into the scheme of an all-home-area newspaper for the boys of the area to deliver the Leader to their neighbors' homes and spend their earnings in the area where they perform the accepted service."



Jack Schluep

Hartley Newspapers this week announces the appointment of Jack Schluep, 194 N. Oakley-av, as circulation manager of The Hilltop Record, West Side News and South Side Leader.

Schluep has had 14 years experience in circulation with the Columbus Citizen.

He is a West High graduate of 1943, graduated from Ohio State University in 1949 and served four years in the navy and marines.

The Schlueps have four children, Johnnie, Tommy, Linda and Marianna.

Steam Engines

Oropped in to see Mr. Emerson, Emerson's Electric Shop, 418 E. Whittier, the other day. Purpose was to check on a report received from co-worker Tom Sharp that steam engines are not going out of business, regardless of the inroads Diesels are making. Tom's advice was correct. I found friend Emerson's store of parts from which before long he will build a steam locomotive, albeit smaller than the usual engine used for pulling a string of loaded box cars. Fact is Engine Maker Emerson builds what some called "miniature" engines, but I claim that when an engine is six feet or more in length it has outgrown "miniature" status; but I will settle for "small locomotive" as a name. Later in the year we expect to show it to you in pictures along with another which is operating outside of the city. Rides, if any—but don't rush! Perhaps it's just as well to see it on public display.

LET THEM ABIDE
Along the Way

Reading some figures about Ohio and an idea occurred. This: Back in 1790 Ohio's population per square mile was negligible. But at that time the population per square mile in the United States was four and a half families. By 1900 Ohio had a population of 102.1 per square mile. In 1950 Ohio population per square mile was 193.8. A big change along the Way of Time.

Win Sportsmanship Award

Harrison Hayes and Robert White

In a recent assembly at Marion-Franklin High School, the second annual presentation of the Lawrence Long Sportsmanship Awards was made. The recipients of the awards this year are Robert White, 1615 South Champion-av, and Harrison Hayes, 33 Dexter-rd.

Robert White, a sophomore, received the award for his sportsmanlike conduct in football during the 1955 season. Bob, as he is better known, played tackle on the varsity team.

Harrison Hayes, who is also president of the junior class, is a two-time winner of the award. A member of the '55-'56 basketball team, he was chosen again for his display of outstanding sportsmanlike conduct. Harrison held down a guard position on this season's team.

The Lawrence Long Sportsmanship Award is an annual award to the two athletes who conduct themselves in a high sportsmanlike manner. The award is made in memory of the late Lawrence Long, who, prior to his death, was a tireless worker in the Boosters' Club. Due to his efforts and the efforts of others in the organization, the athletic and band programs at Marion-Franklin were able to get off to a healthy start.

St. Leo's Set For Festival

Everything is set at St. Leo's for the opening of the festival tomorrow, Friday, which will continue through Saturday, June 1 and 2, according to publicity chairman, Mrs. Doris Shaffer.

Food, fun, games, things to buy—everything seems to have been thought about—and Mrs. Shaffer says everything's just right for fun!

Mooseheart Story Sunday

The story of three little girls who were orphaned last January when their father died of cancer will be told this Sunday, June 6, on WTVN television. The family lived on a 20-acre farm near Des Moines, Iowa.

Moose officials have pointed out that this will be in the nature of a special showing for local Moose and their friends.

Rev. P. C. Kaefer Assists Hungarian E & R "Day"

Pres. Of Synod, From Connecticut, To Give Sermon In Hungarian

Rev. Paul C. Kaefer, pastor, St. Paul Evangelical and Reformed Church, will join with Rev. Joseph Marsalko, pastor of Hungarian Evangelical and Reformed Church, corner of Woodrow and Washington-sts, Sunday, June 3 to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the church.

Also joining the pastor and his associate here will be Rev. Stephen M. Bessemer of Bridgeport, Conn., president of the Synod, who will participate in the ceremonies and services of the day.

Shown above is Rev. Paul C. Kaefer, pastor of St. Paul Evangelical and Reformed Church, who will assist Rev. Joseph Marsalko Sunday in the observance of the fiftieth anniversary of Hungarian Evangelical and Reformed Church.

The Synod president will preach one sermon in Hungarian, while Rev. Paul Kaefer will preach in English, the latter at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, while Synod President Bessemer is expected to deliver the sermon in Hungarian language at 11 o'clock.

Banquet Speaker

Although the program was not ready at the time of writing this story of the Hungarian Church celebration, it is considered likely that the Synod president will make some remarks, if not a full-scale address, at the banquet scheduled to be served in the church at 1 o'clock. It is also expected that much of the history of the church will be given.

Small Group

Founders of the Hungarian Evangelical and Reformed Church were small in numbers. According to information supplied by Rev. Marsalko, there were but 39 in the founding group. This group found themselves shut off from spiritual enjoyment because of

Carnival Gain Aids 25 Boys Attend Camp

Money derived by the Steelton Merchants Association from the carnival which opens next Monday, June 4, at the corner of Parsons and Kian-avs, will, as usual, be used to pay the cost of sending 25 boys to Y Park for part of the summer.

This is a regular year-after-year program, one of the Steelton merchants told the newsman, the boys being chosen from all the various schools in the area. It is understood that selection is made from those unable to have camp life experience without aid such as that given by Steelton Merchants Association.

The carnival will continue through full six days, it was stated, and on Saturday afternoon, June 9, at a matinee for "the kids" the price of rides, shows and such things will be reduced to only 10 cents.

June 5 Set For S. High Graduation

Commencement for the 1956 graduating class of South High will be held Tuesday evening, June 5, at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium. The class of over 200 has been preparing for the exercises under the leadership of Ronnie Atherton, president; Rosemary Benyi, vice president; Judy Ryan, secretary; Bob Sabo, treasurer; and Verne C. Smith, senior advisor.

The class will march in to the processional, "God of Our Fathers," after the playing of the prelude, "Overture to Oedipus in Colonus," by the South High orchestra. The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag will be led by Rosemary Benyi, followed by the invocation by Rev. Marvin Paxton.

The class will sing two songs, "Ode to America" and "The Voice of Praise," under the direction of Miss Mary Frances Winchester, director of vocal music.

Speakers for the class are Dick Mincer, who will speak on "The First Act" and Toni Calhoun, who will speak on "The Second Act."

The diplomas will then be presented by a member of the Board of Education. —By Joyce Harman, 11B.

Supper Planned

St. Mary's Altar Society of St. Mary's Catholic Church has announced a potluck supper to be served Tuesday evening, June 5, at 6:30 o'clock. The affair will be in the basement of the school building.

In National Honor Society

Mercy's Festival Gets Noted Boost

Bing Crosby, Other Famous Personalities Forward Gifts

Gifts from celebrities across the nation will be auctioned off during the Strawberry Festival, the annual fund-raising jamboree to be held by the numerous Guilds of Mercy Hospital, Tuesday afternoon, June 5, from 5 to 9 o'clock.

Going over the program with Superintendent Beard and Miss Gertrude McKeever for the festival and bazaar and a lot of other things which will be presented to the public at the waited-for affair set for Tuesday, June 5, it was found that a whole lot of entertainment will be compressed into that one evening's enjoyment and contribution to more and better hospital service.

Local talent will be strong, and exclusive, at the festival. Miss McKeever told the news man that the evening will present the aspect of an old-time bazaar, with a variety booth, fish pond, and old-fashioned cake sale, surely reminiscent of the style of perhaps fifty to a hundred years ago.

Auction Sale

Let's look at that auction sale on the program. Famous names got tossed onto the reporter's writing paper when this subject came up.

The hospital groups have gone into the national and international fields for gifts which are to be sold to the patrons of the evening—at the highest price offered, of course. And they'll be held to be worth a high price, because—"Say, look here!" and then the two who were telling the newsman all about it showed him the list, and right there near the top of the sheet were names of Bing Crosby, Peggy Wood, Milton Berle—and it was demanded of the newsman, "Won't those names on the gifts bring good prices?" The reporter agreed.

More Names

There were a few names ahead of those quoted, and names of the political luminaries of the

Crawford Trio

Pictured here are three of the South Side's favorites—the three Crawford boys. They will use their voices during Mercy Hospital Strawberry Festival. The youngsters are highly popular and it's expected that a lot of people will be at the strawberry festival to hear them.

Rev. Riehl Ill, In Hospital

Rev. Frank T. Riehl, pastor of St. Ladislaus Catholic Church, was taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital as a result of a heart attack suffered while talking to the PTA of St. Ladislaus School.

It was understood that the pastor's illness came when he was giving much time and attention to plans for a new church building, replacement for the old edifice, which has been used for many years.

Information about the plans for a new church edifice, it was said, await the recovery of Rev. Riehl. It was believed that he will be in the hospital at least another week.

Lincoln Seats New Officers

Lincoln Park PTA heard Rev. Clarence D. Mulkin, pastor South Church of Christ, at its meeting Thursday, May 24, at Lincoln Park School.

With Mrs. Jack Kirby presiding, the meeting was called to order and Rev. Mulkin gave the invocation. Following business accomplishments, Mrs. Kirby introduced Oliver Gedeist, Leader editor, who spoke briefly on publicity values.

Installation of officers was made by Mrs. Walter Denny, secretary, Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Rev. Mulkin delivered an address as the closing feature of the meeting.

The Gadabout

Priscilla LaRue Lanex

HI. 4-1051

The end of the school year will find Mrs. Knore and daughter, Pamela, on their way to Massachusetts to join Mr. Knore, who is curently working there. The Knores are residents of Gates-st.

Herb Hampton of Jenkins-av, is just home from a convention in Washington, D. C. He attended the meeting of the American Booksellers' Association.

One of the community's most disgusted young lads at the present time is Fred Dunham, 1415 Bruck-st, and who can blame him? Imagine a high school boy being confined with mumps. (Guess there have been several South High students who have had this ailment recently, so Freddy isn't entirely alone.)

Georgia Cook of Southwood-av, has spent the recent past in visiting relatives in Huntington, W. Va.

Columbus City Chapter 312 Navy Mothers' Club of America will hold its 14th anniversary dinner at the Maennerchor June 7, at 6:30 p. m. Alice Hale is in charge of reservations.

Mrs. Charles Highland, of 38 W. Moler-st, is on our hospital list today and cards may be sent to her at Mt. Carmel Hospital, Room 402. (We'd like to say something anent to three Highland children, for they're "comers" in the entertainment field. Charles plays a "mean" slip-horn in a jazz combo and the twins do beautifully in a vocal trio. The girls are Charlene and Charlottee, and the third one in the group is Martha Rader. And notice all the variations of the father's name? Guess the Highlands call themselves "4C's and a B", B being the mother of the talented trio.)

This Friday and Saturday will be the big week-end at St. Leo's. The Spring Festival will be taking place and the parents have been working hard to have it the nicest ever.

"May I speak to the President" will bring a little pause in the Greiner household, 1442 Lockbourne-rd, for quite sometime, we imagine. Both adult members of the family are gavel-wielders. Charles was elected president of the Ohio Chiropodists' Association and his beautiful wife is the newly elected president of the Deshler PTA. Congratulations to both Greiners and we know their jobs will be well done.

Tomorrow evening from 7:30 to 10 o'clock, the 9A graduating class of the Barrett Jr. High will participate in the traditional graduates' party.

Despite the illness of both Madeline and Wallace Oakley the Frebis-avenue residents journeyed to Cambridge, Ohio, to pay their respects to Wallace's parents, who were celebrating a wedding anniversary. The visit took place last weekend.

Recent brides and bridegrooms: are: Carmella De Victor, 1343 Bruck-st, and Donald Trimmer, 712 Siebert-st, whose wedding took place in St. Leo's Church Apr. 14. Mr. and Mrs. Rex Clark who will be "at home" to friends at 1599 S. High-st, after June 1. Their wedding took place last Saturday in St. Ladislaus Church. Mrs. Clark is the former Margaret Butsko.

Last Saturday was also the wedding date for Mary Cannon and Richard Frick. Mr. Frick is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Frick, 792 Bruck-st.

Circle 3 of the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church will meet June 5, 7:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. George Conrad, 939 City Park-av. Miss Dorothea Conrad will be the assisting hostess.

We'd like to thank our anonymous donor of "stamps" which will be sent on to Orient, for use of the patients there. A communique from the P.V.A. of that institution tells us that playground equipment, umbrella tables and collapsible wheel chairs have been their recent purchases with the donated premium stamps. Every little bit helps.

Tomorrow night we'll be at Barrett with our 9A daughter, but our thoughts will be straying to Gates-Fourth Church, where a young lady who is as dear as a daughter will be exchanging her wedding vows at 7:30. Pat Conn and Walter Leitwein will be on the threshold of the ceremony that joins them in matrimony. Good luck, kids!

Southwood Church of Christ will be the scene of a Vacation Bible School, from June 11 to June 22. Teachers are prepared to make this the "best ever" at Southwood, so why not enroll your offspring now? (Of course, it can be done on the starting Monday, but do think about it.)

Our sympathy to the family of Nora Houck, 548 Markison-av.

Working on the South High Alumni Reunion brought forth some interesting letters from those unable to attend, so we'd like to pass on the news from one such letter, for we're sure it would be of interest to quite a few South Siders. Mary Pearl Stevens has one year to go, and she will have LL.D. degree. Mr. Stevens is a native of the Virgin Islands, a fact I found quite interesting. For those who might like to write to Mary, her address is 3501 Stanton-rd, S.E., Washington, D.C.

Happy birthday to Patty Trigg, when June 3 pops up on the calendar.

Can't think of another item to write about—oh yes, just two. The Mercy Hospital Guilds will hold their annual strawberry festival Tuesday, June 5, from 5 to p. m. Home-made cakes, ice-cream, strawberries, mmmm-m, my mouth waters just to think of it. (And the Gadabout will be there, incidentally, analyzing handwriting.

This evening, Mr. and Mrs. D. D Clark will entertain ate patients at Ben Franklin Hospital with "country style" music. Guess who's going to play the bull fiddle? Yeah, I thought my friends would get a kick out of that interesting fact! (I'll wear ear plugs so I won't hear me!) That does it for sure, so please call HI. 4-1051, hm? Till next edition, then, 'tis the

Gates-Fourth Class Festival

Gates — Fourth Methodist Church Helping Hand Class will have its strawberry festival Thursday, June 7, 6 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., according to Mrs. B. Bruce, chairman. Mrs. Orville Rader will be in charge of the dining-room. The strong lure, Mrs. Bruce said, will be home-made layer cake with ice cream, strawberries, and coffee. Adults, 50c; children under 6, 25 cents.

Dorcas Circle In Election

The Dorcas Circle of South Methodist Church elected new officers at a meeting of the organization in the recreation room of the church Wednesday, May 30. The newly elected officials are Mrs. Emma Daugherty, chairman; Mrs. Peggy Moore, vice-chairman; Mrs. Hazel Breckerman, secretary; Mrs. Hazel Graves, treasurer. Mrs. Laura Haughn and Mrs. Effie Allen compose the telephone committee.

The occasion brought out a large attendance of members, who participated in a social hour following the election.

Mrs. Erma Daugherty, new chairman, announced that the next meeting, set for Wednesday, June 27, will welcome all women recently become members of the church.

Mrs. G. L. (Hazel) Breckerman is publicity chairman.

2 Honored At Workers' Tea

Two South Side women, volunteer workers in Community Church activities, were honored at a recent special "recognition" tea for volunteer workers in the agency's Columbus activities.

The two were Miss Beverly Kraft, 731 S. 5th-st, and Mrs. William G. Gerlach, 496 Frebis-av. They were among 1200 who were entertained as a joint project of the Council of Social Agencies' Volunteer Bureau, which recruits volunteers for various social agencies, and the Columbus Junior League.

The Volunteer Recognition Tea was held Sunday, May 20, at the YWCA.

The Picture That Remains

YESTERDAY, in the corridor of our establishment, we overheard a young woman say: "He seemed so much at peace, so natural . . . that helped so much." In time of bereavement there is so little real solace one can give that it felt good to know that we had helped . . . even a little. For, over and above the service we perform, we strive to help the living . . . to ease the sorrow of a most difficult time.

'Peek' At Summer Reading

Cubs Learn Of Bird Habits

Cub Scout Pack No. 302, sponsored by Gilbert Street Church of God, followed the theme of the month for Cubs and have become bird watchers. Secretary L. G. Burns told the Leader that the boys were greatly interested and have learned to identify a large number of birds.

The pack went on a tour through Blendon Woods Park Sunday afternoon with Naturalist Robert Finkhouser guiding the walk and telling of the habits of 16 different species of birds seen.

The secretary said more den mothers are needed to permit more work being done with boys.

O. G.'s Notes—

Sequence

The thought sequence is this: Looking into the future perhaps 100 years ahead, will our country be able to support its population? Or will it be like a great area of the earth where population is so great as to bog down progress, retrogress in prosperity, and sink into low-down style living? Maybe the word EXISTING should replace "living."

Consequences

There are consequences to every act, whether personal, financial, political, individual or en-masse. The fact that eons of time may intervene between the first and the last act or occurrence does not change the result—just gives us (or those who follow us) more time to adjust to new conditions, or to become accustomed to the new environment. Undoubtedly some ancient civilizations, from the dim, distant past, could, were they brought back personalized, give us some good advice about the future. The thought that undoubtedly we would neglect the advice is merely an exercise in pencil and paper work.

Value Uncertain

I have a feeling, however intriguing the thought may be, that such advice would be received with little enthusiasm by us, as an intrusion of our domain and as a violation of our right to remain indifferent to the wisdom of the sages of the ages. Some one has said that we of the present hew out the way of the world now and in the early future have not time for contemplating the past. By virtue of the adamancy of public opinion I yield the point and dismiss any of the spirits of the past which might have been lured hitherward even in the slightest degree.

Decoration Day

Next Wednesday is a day in which we of Columbus should, momentarily at least, lose our sense of personal and community greatness and allow our minds to contemplate some history. Wednesday, May 30, is Memorial Day, a day of remembering, with sober minds and appreciative hearts, the acts and the losses sustained by our forebears in providing and preserving for us this nation of opportunity and dedication to human rights. Our consideration of our obligations to those of other days and times may not help those who "gave" but maybe a refreshing of our own minds and thoughts, our loving memories of them, may spur us into more devotion to the same purposes and ideals. May we bow our heads in pride and dedication next Wednesday.

Farm Loans Extended

In most states farmers can borrow up to 80 per cent of cost of new storage bins, cribs, etc. at interest rate of 4 per cent.

St. Mary's '51 Class To Hold Meet, June 10

St. Mary's Class of '51, which has not previously had a class reunion has announced plans for the celebration of the fifth anniversary of the graduation at Twin Maple Farms, west of Darbydale, Route 665, and one mile north on Biggert-rd, on June 10, according to members of the managing committee.

According to Dick Burgstaller, whose telephone is HI. 3-5406, many members of the class went away to service during the Korean operations, and reunions were just not in the order of things.

Class members may take their families, boy friends, or girl friends, and each should take a picnic basket. Ahead of that, however, according to Burgstaller, is the need to send just one dollar ($1) to defray expense for refreshments. The donation, it was said, should be sent to R. F. McComb, 20 W. Sycamore-st, Apt. D, or call Burgstaller's number, given above.

Other numbers which may be called are those of the McCombs (Richard F.), CA. 4-5974; Mrs. Glenn (Sharp) Eisel, HI. 3-4490; Tom Genteline, HI. 4-1948.

Meeting time June 10 will be 2 p. m.

June 1 'Sign-Up' Time, Boys-Girls Reading Club

Friday, June 1, has been set for boys and girls of the South Side to sign up at the South Side Branch Library for the summer Reading Club.

The Library announcement told of the "trip" to be taken during the summer, this way: "This summer we are going to explore the United States. We shall travel on our own magic carpet of books."

Then it was suggested that the boys and girls go to the Library to sign up an "we'll tell you all about your trip."

Local Soldier In Army In Korea

Pvt. Donald L. Schaffner, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell J. Schaffner, 773 Stanley-av, recently arrived in Korea and is now a member of the 7th Infantry Division.

Continuing its training, the "Bayonet" division is the only U. S. Army division that has remained in Korea since the ceasefire.

Schaffner is assigned to Company M of the division's 32d Regiment. He entered the army last November and completed basic training at Fort Dix, N. J.

Young People Clean-Up, Paint-Up Y-Park

Thirty-eight young people representing Youth Fellowships from the South Side churches, who benefit a great deal from the ever popular and beautiful Y-Park, operated by the South Side Branch YMCA, recently spent two Saturdays in volunteer efforts to help clean up, paint up and fix up Y-Park for the coming season. It is estimated that approximately 21,000 people will once again use Y-Park during the year, which is the tenth anniversary of the new Y-Park, according to YMCA officials. Through working together in fixing up the park facilities, thousands of young folks have learned to appreciate and take care of facilities provided through one of the best examples of community cooperation that one could expect to find anywhere, "Y" officials declare. Making ready to renew the sand in the sand box are, left to right, Jim Buel, Tom Reich, Wally Rouckel, Alex Mesgares, Harold Barton, Paul Barton and Steve Butsko.

Old Street Under Repair Lost 'i' Along The Way

Work currently being done on Frebis-av, and said by many old residents of the area to be the first improvement in the street since it was named probably in the middle of the last century, or shortly afterward, recalls history in the naming of the street.

It is said by some of the descendents of the woman for whom the street was named, that somewhere along the way an "i" was lost. That was because the Friebis family, who came to this area perhaps a century ago, bestowed the family name on a pathway or walk-way across some farm lands where the avenue called "Frebis" (minus the "i") now is being modernized with a hard top. The Frebises were large land owners here. No one knows how the "i" was lost from the name.

From Kansas

The Friebis family came to Columbus and the South Side from Kansas, a long time ago, and their arrival here and its immediate sequence differ greatly from present-day methods of arrival at a destination.

Now, upon arrival at a destination, whether by air, train, or bus, taxicabs may be secured or city buses are available to take us to our objective. But . . .

When the Leithart men arrived (it is not certain whether they came ahead of the women, but it is believed that may have been) they disembarked at the Union Station and walked to about the 1300 block Parsons-av. A descendent of the original Friebis settlers here thinks that would be quite a long walk for women even from Kansas of that day.

However, Mrs. Otto Leithart, a granddaughter, 2578 Lockbourne-rd, said her forbears were reputedly a hardy people, and, like many people living now and recalling early days in their lives, 50 or 60 years ago, thought nothing of walking many miles —simply because there were no facilities for reaching the desired destination.

Another descendent of the woman whose family name was given to the street now undergoing modernization is a merchant in the 1400 block Parsons-av, a neighbor of The South Side Leader. He told the Leader writer about the history, but referred us to his sister, Mrs. Leithart, because, he said he had not remembered the family history with the accuracy which characterizes Mrs. Leithart's memory of events 'way back there.

Cecil Petty In Rocket 'Show'

Pfc. Cecil L. Petty, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Kinsey, 538 Hanford-st, helped demonstrate the Honest John rocket in an Armed Forces show at Bolling Air Force Base in Washington, D.C., May 19.

He was one of 66 men from the 2d Field Artillery Rocket Battery, regularly stationed at Fort Sill, Okla., to stage the demonstration. Before the Washington show, the men gave a similar display at Fort Benning, Ga., for a joint civilian conference.

Petty, a mechanic, entered the army in August, 1953, and completed basic training at Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md.

He attended Boys' Trade High School.

Two Area Men Going Overseas

Pvt. Frank L. Albert, son of Carl Albert, Sr., of 240 Woodrow-av, and Pvt. Robert E. Holderle, husband of Mrs. Lois Holderle, 141 Obetz-av, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Holderle, now stationed at Fort Knox, Ky., will move with the 3rd Armored Division to Germany in June as part of Operation Gyroscope. Pvt. Albert is a graduate of South High and entered the army in September of 1955. Pvt. Holderle, a 1950 graduate of South High, and 1955 graduate of Capital University, also entered the army in September of 1955. Both men received their basic training at Fort Knox, Ky.

The following girls will receive ribbons and certificates for selling more than a hundred boxes of cookies each. JoAnn Dethloff, Dianna Heigel, Teresa Zollman, Janet Bright.

Books with thick pages and plastic coated covers are easy for children to handle because their small fingers cannot grasp thin slippery pages and plastic coated covers can be wiped off with a damp cloth.

The Memomorial service, conducted by Post Commander Charles P. Collins, paid tribute to the one-time students of Barrett who served and died in the armed forces, and gave recognition to the rather considerable number of ex-service men in the present staff of Barrett teachers.

High Point

The high point of the assembly program was the awarding of the American Legion Citizenship Medals. At each graduation time the Southway Post makes this award to that boy and that girl in the graduating class whom classmates and teachers consider to be outstanding in the qualities of worthy citizenship. The balloting and counting are secret, and the medal-winners themselves are not informed until they are taken out of the assembly audience to the platform for the award.

Betty Sue Edwards, daughter of Sergeant and Mrs. Harry W. Allen, of 72 Woodrow-av, was the girl so chosen this year, and Steve Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Miller, 408 Sheldon-av, was the first-choice boy. Post Commander Collins and Mrs. Murl Poepker, president of the Southway Post Auxiliary, made the presentations, assisted by Mrs. Leonard Hamf and Auxiliary vice-president Mrs. John J. Joyce.

H. L. Germain directed the orchestra, Miss M. E. Bibler directed all the singing, Mrs. L. S. Casey and Miss E. R. Wells took part in the program. George Herbat led the assembly audience in the Pledge of Allegiance. Mrs. Emma Jane Secrest prepared the program and Principal R. L. Nash was in charge.

language difference, and apparently thought building a church where they could speak the language of birth in another country would take much less time than waiting until they had learned to speak in American English.

Before the church building was available, the group met across the street from the church site in a private home. The building was dedicated 50 years ago, Rev. Marsalko said, and there are but two of the founders of the organization living.

The two living persons are Mrs. Martin Finta, 68, 338 Woodrow-av, and Mrs. Sophie Olek, 1838 S. Washington-st.

Transition

A transition is underway in the church, according to the pastor, this being demonstrated by the decreasing number of members speaking the tongue of their native land. Young people, finding themselves in the midst of American "talk" in school, business, and church, lean away from the "way of the fathers" in language, and know only American.

This and much other information will be the subject of much conversation Sunday, June 3.

community and state. Naturally, we ought to place them near the top, even if Bing took the reporter's fancy so fast he had to let Crosby lead the list. Locals are our Governor Frank Lausche, United States Senator John W. Bricker, and United States Senator George H. Bender.

Names of other noted people sending gifts for auctioning off at the June 5 festival are Korean Embassy, Portuguese Embassy, Art Carney, George Gobel, Ralph Edwards, Polish Embassy, Bob Crosby, Lawrence Welk, Estes Kefauver, Mayor M. Sensenbrenner, Groucho Marx, Dave Garroway, Martin and Lewis.

Local Talent

More local talent will be represented by the Crawford brothers, who recently starred in a television program in New York with happy financial value. Then, the ever-willing and helpful Singing Sheriffs will be on the program —and there will be entrancing singing. Members of the group are Harry M. Freeman, first tenor; Robert J. Sheets, second tenor; Paul F. Berger, baritone; Fred (Dixie) Washburn, bass. Accompanist will be Claire J. Freeman.

IN CONTROL

Control is an essential phase of living. Engineers spend much of life in maintaining "control" over many aspects of life—indeed, in maintaining life in the world. Likewise, the less spectacular necessity for control is ever-present: control of words, thoughts, actions, that all these may be directed toward the making of a better, happier, prosperous human race.

St. Paul 135 Years Old, To Celebrate Sunday

Rev. John O. Lang, pastor, St. Paul's Lutheran Church, can look back over 135 years since the founding of the congregation, and many years to the laying of the cornerstone of the present church building.

That's a lot of years, but Rev. Lang need not indulge heavily in counting the number of pastors who have served the church since the founding of the congregation in 1821, when the community was relatively young.

These are some of the circumstances involved in the special services this coming Sunday, June 10, when a former pastor, Rev. E. J. Katterhenrich, pastor of Good Hope Lutheran Church, Bucyrus, Ohio, will deliver sermons at St. Paul's at 8 a.m. and 10 30 a.m.

Rev. Katterhenrich was pastor of St. Paul's from 1946 to 1949, being succeeded by Rev. Lang, the ninth pastor of the church since its 135-year-ago founding.

The occasion will be the 135th anniversary of the founding of the congregation and the 38th anniversary of the dedication of the present church. The congregation, founded in 1821, worshiped in a frame church on the east side of Third-st, between Town and Rich-sts until 1847, when it moved to a newly built church situated on an old Indian mound at the southwest corner of Mound and High-sts, the mound which originally gave the name to Mound-st

This church at Mound and High-sts, with its exceptionally high spire, was torn down in 1917 and, after worshiping for more than a year at the Schiller Park Shelter House, the present church at Stewart-av (then Germania-st) and Bruck-st was dedicated on the second Sunday in June, 1918.

During its 135 years St. Paul's has had only nine pastors, Rev. Carlos Henkel, 1821-1832; Rev. William Schmidt, 1832-1839, Rev. C. F. Schaeffer, 1839 1843; Rev. Conrad Mees, 1843 1893 (50 years); Rev. J. H. Schneider, 1893-1921 (28 years), Rev. E. J. Klamfoth, 1921-1935; Rev. A. W. Zell, 1935-1946; Rev. E. J Katterhenrich, 1946 1949; and the present pastor, Rev. John O. Lang, since 1949.

Rev. John O. Lang, Pastor
St. Paul's Lutheran Church

St. Paul's has a communicant membership of more than 700 and a baptized membership of more than 1,000. St. Paul's emphasizes Christian education Its Sunday-school enrollment is about 400; it has a two-year course of instruction for children prior to Confirmation; it conducts two membership classes per year for adults and one for high school-age young people.

108 Boys Attend Annual YMGA Picnic At S. S. Y-Park

Studies, the manliness in being devoted to studies as well as to being successful players in games, formed the basis of talks by the football players

Awards were made to a number of the group by Martin and Roseboro. Then the sportsmanship-championship trophies were made to the Siebert Owls in the Thursday-evening league and Southwood Eagles in the Tuesday league.

New Ball League Set

The South Side is to be represented in a new Columbus baseball league, according to information made public late last week. The new organization, known as South Side Indians, is a part of the Colt Baseball League, a national organization for 14 and 16-year-old youths, and is one of six Columbus teams.

In addition to the South Side Indians, other teams are West Side Pirates, Oakland Merchants, Stat Plumbing, Ohio Packing and Unionville Center Merchants.

The lateness of the local effort deprived the South Side Indians of a single sponsor for the season. As a result, individual members of the team went out to business houses to secure individual sponsorship, with substantial success, it was reported, although the boys say they still could stand a single sponsor for the rest of the season. "They have been happy because a number of people were so kind," the manager said.

Manager Sager has scheduled games for Tuesday evenings at 5 45 o'clock and for 2:30 Saturday afternoons Games will be played at Lincoln Park Field.

Two Cloverleaf Clubs of St. Anthony's Hospital will be "hostessed" by South Side women this month. Leaf No. 1 and Leaf No. 25. Leaf 1's hostess will be Mrs. Robert Gettinger, 843 S. High St., who will entertain her group at a luncheon in the Virginia Hotel, June 21, at 12 noon. Mrs. Ferdinand Graf, 1191 Linwood-av, was hostess on June 5, at a luncheon held in the Southern Hotel.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church will be the scene of a wedding this Saturday, when Rose Marie Foley and Norman Hibinger, Jr., exchange their marital vows. Miss Foley, a South High grad, has an 869 S. Third-st address, and Mr. Hibinger was a resident of Scio, Ohio.

Another June 9 wedding will be that of Eleanor Cervi, 1436 Linwood-av, and John Eberts, 268 Southwood-av. Miss Cervi is a St. Mary's High and OSU graduate and Mr. Eberts received his high school training in St. Charles and is currently a senior in the school of architecture at Ohio State University.

The WSCS of Livingston Methodist Church meets today at 1 p.m. in the church. The program will be presented by Mrs. Frank Hicks, Mrs. Edna Klingesmith, Mrs. Audrey Mumford, Mrs. Eunice Guteknecht and Mrs. Ruth Broadway.

Mary Eichel, S. Third-st, is beginning to feel nearly normal again, after her bout with the "flu" bug.

Mrs. Gruber, 653 Stanley-av, enjoyed a pleasant five-day visit with friends and relatives in Mansfield and Shelby, Ohio. Shelby was once Mrs. Gruber's hometown.

Birthday celebrations are the order of the day for these members of the community: Barbara Davis, 1460 S. Fourth-st, June 1; Pearl Ling, 1813 S. Fifth-st, June 4; Irene Vanscoy, 1412 S. Fifth-st, June 7; John Tope, Williamsrd, June 8; Dorothy Burton, 240 Southwood-av, June 10; Roy Ware, Jr., South Sixth-st, June 12.

Viola and Manford Burns will celebrate their third wedding anniversary June 11. The Burns are residents of 274 E. Morrill-av. Viola's parents, also Morrill-av residents, will be celebrating their 38th wedding anniversary on June 13, so congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. David Cordle also.

Mrs. Ronald Dunham, Bruck-st, has been under the doctor's care for several weeks, so we certainly wish her a speedy return to health.

Active Bob Dean, 33 E. Jenkins-av will certainly need a vacation before starting his summer job, for not only has he been busily engaged in becoming a 1956 graduate of South High, but he has other interests to keep him active in his final high school week. Monday night he was one of the speakers at the Veterans' Memorial for the boys attending the Buckeye Boys' State. Graduation from South was the next item on the agenda, and then Friday night he will be one of the entertainers at a church rally in Portsmouth, Ohio. (All I've got to say, it's a good thing he's streamlined; it helps him to make better time from one activity to the other!) Bob's parents haven't done so badly in being on the go, either, for their daughter, Jill, is a junior high graduate and there have been many activities for her also.

East and South units of the League of Women Voters will combine on Tuesday, June 12, for the final meeting of the current season. The meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Nathan Forchheimer, 114 S. Broadleigh-rd, at 8 p.m.

Our congratulations to all the American Legion winners of the various schools. Two that we know personally are Betty Sue Edwards and Steve Miller.

Since Memorial Day came in the middle of the week, most folks stayed home. However, we did hear of one family who spent the day away from Columbus and that was the Ball family of Jenkins-av. They were in Gallipolis, Ohio.

Trudeau Guild 10 will hold its final meeting of the season in the home of Evelyn MacLeod on June 13. The losers of the sales tax contest must feed the winners, darn it! (Personally, I think roasted grass hoppers will be the dish I take. Any better suggestions?) Mrs. MacLeod is a resident of Grove City, so the members of the Guild will have a little "traipsing" to do to get there.

Now is the time to register your child in the Southwood Vacation Bible School, which runs from June 11 to 22. The theme will be "Our Living Bible." There will be songs, games, stories, crafts and food as a daily offering, so what more could be asked for the youngsters.

Four more birthdays that we know about are those of Elaine Smalley Hall, June 14; Byron La Rue, on June 12, and Buss and David Leonard, also the middle of June. And we don't want to forget Mary LeRue, who had a June 5 birthday.

Mrs. Charles Elliott, 346 Sheldon-av, will entertain Circle 4 of the Broad Street Church of Christ in her home today.

Members of Barrett's Executive Board will hold a pot-luck luncheon this noon for faculty members of the school.

A former South High student, now studying for her master's degree at OSU, will assume a new name this Sunday in the Glen Echo United Presbyterian church. The young lady is Gladys Ruth Kingsbury and she will be exchanging vows with Jerry Becker. Jerry will have a "full" month, for he receives his commission as 2nd Lt. in the air force as well.

More air force news, for Jack Karch, stationed in Greenville, Miss., really made a special effort to attend his sister's high school graduation. Clara Jane of 272 Southwood-av, was so happy to have Jack one of the spectators Tuesday, for he had to come via jet plane in order to be in Columbus.

A recent bride and bridegroom to join the parade of newly-marrieds: Mr. and Mrs. C. John Schairbaum, last Saturday in Bexley Methodist Church. A reception was held at Ilonka's following the ceremony. The young couple will reside at 794 Kenwick-rd, after the wedding trip to Florida. Mrs. Schairbaum was Miss Phyllis Jenkins before her marriage.

Roosevelt Junior High had an unusual combination this year, in the graduation speech department for it was a "twin" affair. Bill and Bonnie Bower, 1254 S. Ohio-av, were the speakers at yesterday's graduation exercises at Roosevelt. The Bowers certainly should be proud of their children and we know they are.

Guess we've written all we can for this week, and PLEASE call us, won't you? News gets hard to find in vacation time, and we don't want to write a "Lenox" diary — we don't do very much! The number to call is HI. 4-1051. Till next week then, 'tis

FAMOUS ANNOUNCER FINDS "BEST BUY" IN AUTO INSURANCE

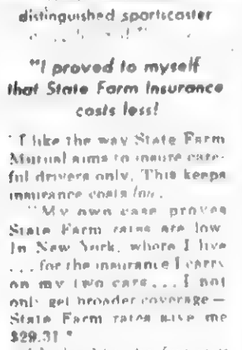
distinguished sportscaster

"I proved to myself that State Farm Insurance costs less!

"I like the way State Farm Mutual aims to insure careful drivers only. This keeps insurance costs low.



"My own case proves State Farm rates are low. In New York, where I live . . . for the insurance I carry on my two cars . . . I not only get broader coverage—State Farm rates save me $29.31."

"I also like the fair way State Farm charges selling cost, such as the sales commission. They don't make it part of the premium . . . you don't have to pay it year after year. Instead, it's covered by a membership fee, paid once and only once—the first time you take out a coverage.

"If you want top-notch auto insurance at rock-bottom rates, phone the agent listed below. Find out what you can save.

The South Side Leader's Sermonette

This week's sermonette was written by Rev. Henry Oestreich, pastor of Martin Luther Lutheran Church.

The word of the Lord lends itself to every phase of life and can well be made known by every medium at hand. By it men live and have their being, rather than by the bread that we eat from day to day. It should startle us by the claims this word makes for the Lord Jesus Christ and the power that He exercises. It should cause us to seek our refuge and our security with Him who has all power.

I would like to call your attention to the word recorded in Matt. 28:18: "And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth." This is the word that he spoke and it is no idle boast, nor was it without accompanying evidence. He who had overcome sin, death, and hell. He who had vanquished all the forces of evil in humans and in demons now asserts Himself to be Lord over all. This word deserves our careful consideration. Do while it has been challenged, denied, it has never been successfully contradicted, and, what is more, never altered. This word stands, and blessed are all who believe in Him and seek Him to be their Lord and Savior.

The Oakwood Methodist vacation church school will be held June 18 through 29. Devotions, music, study classes, recreation, handcraft and assembly period will occupy the hours from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

Ages four to 12 are welcome, it was stated. Department heads are Mrs. Rex Grate, junior; Mrs. J. E. Bitzer, primary; Mrs. Dorothy Gordon, beginners and kindergarten. Ruth Harper is director.

"He (Malenkov) is a very shrewd man, one of the shrewdest I have ever met in my life."

High Scores Are Big Feature In S. S. 'Y' Church League

Oakwood Methodist with a 4 to 0 record continues to lead the Monday night South Side YMCA Jr. Church League. Oakwood bats pounded out eight hits, good for 12 runs, to defeat the always tough Washington EUB team 12 to 6. Anderson with a double and single was the big gun for Oakwood. J. Cripe of Washington had a perfect four for four, to lead the team in hitting.

Central Community maintained its second-place slot by downing Livingston Methodist 24 to 17 in a slugfest. Duerler slammed a home run for Livingston. John Schumaker had a home run and 2 doubles for Central Community.

Thurman Methodist outslugged Southwood C. of C. 15 to 7. Center fielder Thompson had four for four for Thurman. Dunn of Southwood hit 3 for 4.

Girl's League

Corpus Christi, defending champs, along with St. Leo, St. Paul E&R, Southwood C. of C., and Washington EUB have all won two games in the fast Girls Y League. Corpus Shristi and St. Leo are undefeated.

In last Tuesday's game St. Paul E&R outslugged Thurman Methodist girls 28 to 14. Swisher banged a home run for St. Paul, Kay Hussey and Betty Adams hit well for Thurman.

Southwood C. of C. girls downed the hard-trying St. John's E&R nine 13 to 8. Connie Compson had two big hits for St. John. For Southwood, Dicke and Lindsey had three hits each.

Washington EUB came from behind to defeat Oakwood Methodist 8 to 5. Mary Wagner had three hits for Washington while Toberan of Oakwood banged out two triples.

Wednesday Junior League

St. Leo and Ohio Avenue EUB continued to lead the pack in the Wednesday night league with three wins each. St. Leo defeated Hungarian E&R 22 to 3 while Ohio EUB was winning from South Methodist 26 to 3.

St. Paul E&R continued in second place, downing Emmanuel Lutheran 8 to 7.

Intermediate League

In the SSY Intermediate League Thursday night Southwood C. of C. won from South Methodist 11 to 1. Henry of Southwood struck out 12 batters while allowing only two hits. One of the hits off of Henry was a home run by O'Neil of South Methodist.

St. Leo outscored St. John's E&R 14 to 10. Roberts of St. Leo had a triple, double, and single.

St. Paul E&R bottled Oakwood Methodist to a 9 to 9 tie before darkness ended the contest, and Emmanuel Lutheran won by the forfeit route from Thurman Methodist.

Mrs. Nettie Swormstedt, Reporter

Members of the sixth and seventh grades who belong to the organizations sponsored by the YMCA met with others of the same grades from other schools in the district at Y Park for all-day picnics. The sixth used Tuesday, May 22, and the seventh used Thursday, May 24. Mothers furnished lunch, while Jim Wagner of the Y led in the games. All reported a grand time.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowks graciously opened their home to the teachers on Friday evening, May 18, for a picnic supper. It was a delightful occasion. Chairman of the pot luck committee was Mrs. Mary O'Hara, teacher of first grade. Plenty of experience with foods comes from looking after her family — husband Pat, also a teacher in the Marion Local Schools, and son, Danny, in the fifth grade here. Her academic work was done at Rio Grande and Ohio University before taking work at Capital this year.

Friday afternoon, May 25, the fifth, sixth and seventh grades met on the lawn south of the building for a sing, enjoying many of the old familiar tunes.

JACK'S AUTO REPAIR
68 Stauring

From OG's Notes

Did you ever see a calm sea suddenly erupt into tumultous excitement? It's a thing of beauty and awe! I was reminded of that Saturday night at St. Leo's when Mrs. Lillian J. Pritchard of 369 Moler-st was announced the winner of that Chevrolet automobile which has been on display for some time. Between her own joy and the happiness of her friends for her, an ocean of turbulent delight prevailed.

Kindness Exalts Us

A little note on the bottom of the "final" piece of copy Mrs. John Leist sent in as publicity chairman for Southwood PTA made us feel good. Then there was Mrs. Tom Swisher, who has done a whale of a big job for Siebert . . . and who came in to tell us nice things . . . and others have been kind. Our hearts are kindled into lightsome joy because kindness, like a rainbowed cloud, is spread over us . . . and here ise one from South High's PTA publicity chairman, Mrs. Laura Williams, bless her.

Let's Organize

Well, maybe there are sufficient organizations, like the Young Men's Christian Association, with organized games, and other places and organizations, like Schiller Recreation Center, and summer activities with many churches, so maybe further organizations may not be necessary.

What is Meant

Yes, what is meant is that here in the South Side we want our children to have opportunity to keep busy throughout the summer in games and other activities which will keep away the doldrums, the lonesomeness of dragging time—activities which will take care of several thousand little people who cannot organize themselves—and, for some, keep themselves out of mischief—to keep them happy and right!

Save Them, Please

Save, them, please, won't you—you who have organizations or can quickly set them up? O, yes, I know there are many, some mentioned above — but we want the little ones not touched by them to get into a happy summer circle . . . that way maybe we won't have to try and "save" them when they have drifted into illegal conduct; the big point is that it's better to keep them from being juvenile delinquents than to fail in our "saving efforts" after they have fallen low.

Bible Quotation

"Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me" must have been written while the Psalmist was in the mood of good and while thinking of how it really ought to be for our children. And if we take care of our children during the long (to them) summer vacation days, keep them busy, keep them happy, keep them learning of the goodness of people around them, then they will "dwell" in "the fulines of right living and obedience to society's requirments, as they grow older. And we will have justification for blessing ourselves. And we'll be glad.

Good Example

What is meant is that this item which came to us is a good example of a bad way to prepare copy for the editor to put into the paper. A post card has been received—we'll give it to you like it came to us: "Women's Guild meeting noon luncheon, Thursday, June 7." That's all, except for the names of three women who were chairmen for three phases of the meeting. It is necessary that the editor have the names and address of the institution, group, or organization putting on the affair. Place of meeting should be given, but, AND of BIG importance, in addition to the name, the time of day—without ALL these things we can't do anything but give the copy to the waste basket. Our clairvoyant department is on a long vacation.

A message asking if "you're as lazy as your column in The Leader May 24 made you appear?" The answer, my friend, is YES! I don't like to get up mornings, and if afternoons came ahead of mornings I still would not like to get us early. Probably the big reason why I love laziness (in Me, Not you) is—I'm lazy!

The Story Of A 'Big Pull'

For The Leader

This is a story written especially for The South Side Leader. It is about a man who lives in our neighborhood.

We tell it to you because it is—well, a story of a message published in the Leader doing a lot more than was expected of it. The star of the story, one of the Leader's good classified clients, is Gus C. Gerwig of 403 Gates-st. He told us that he can't afford to place a classified advertisement in The South Side Leader for more than one time, because to do so would simply swamp him, so eager are Leader classified advertisement readers to buy his tomato plants and flowers. He always says, when the time is ripe for the sale of the two items, "I'll let you know if I need the advertisement again." And he never has. He told the Editor that this paper's classified ads have the strongest pulling power!

Gus Gerwig is a long-time local man—was with Wagner Brewery 27 years, he said. Then he was with the State Liquor Board for four years—and retired to his hobby: flowers and tomato plants. He and Mrs. Gerwig celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary a few years ago.

South Side Group Centers Diverse Interests In Area

One of the effective organizations on the South Side "blows its horn" only quietly, if at all, but constantly is alert to the interest of the welfare of all segments of South Side citizenship.

The organization meets monthly, with a dinner, in the evening, and its membership consists of men interested in civic organizations on the South Side. Fourteen different groups are represented. Usually the group meets at the South Side YMCA, although it occasionally moves out to other places. Last month the group met for dinner and business session at Schiller Park.

This month Barrett Junior High School cafeteria will be host to the organization for dinner and the business meeting, each member paying for his dinner.

The organization ties in all phases of South Side civic activities. Each member is top executive in the organization represented. Its 1956 membership is composed of the following:

Charles T. Collins, Commander, Southway Post 144, American Legion, 874 S. High-st; Virgil Teeters, Master of South Gate Lodge, F&AM, No. 692, 850 Studer-av; Andrew C. McCrady, secretary 1730 Wilson-av; Robert Reid, governor, Loyal Order of Moose Lodge 11, 84 W. Fifth-av; Mrs. Wilda Spratley, senior regent, Women's Auxiliary, Loyal Order of Moose, 11, 36 W. Sycamore-st.

Scioto Trail News

The last athletic contest for the school year was softball, under the direction of Mr. Ary, who did all the pitching. Grades four through seven participated. Mrs. Roose's seventh grade was winner, with Mrs. Logan's fourth grade as runner-up.

Tuesday, May 29, was picnic day, with the room mothers treating the children the last period in the afternoon. Will someone please donate a big box of roses to the room mothers who all through the months have given so generously of their time and substance?

The grade cards have been given out and the last book put away. So with this writing we say "finish" for the school year at Scioto Trail.

Barrett Jr. Ends Work

Barrett Junior High School students and teachers went home yesterday afternoon to remain away until next September. But it was not until that indispensable commencement program that the students and teachers went away.

On hundred and fifty-four graduates won't be back there next September. They are scheduled to show up about that time in Principal Huber's domain, at South High School. And, of course, as old as graduation ceremonies are, no graduate would be happy without the ceremony and receiving the precious diploma. That piece of paper represents effort, hard trying for many. And they will treasurer that piece of paper.

The Program

Rev. Willie E. Davis of Southwood Church of Christ gave the invocation and, later, the benediction.

Assistant Superintendent W. W. Miller of the Board of Education presented the diplomas as furnished by Principal Robert L. Nash and Vice-Principal Ruth Castner.

Gordon Ball and Luna Cooper, representing the graduating class gave commencement essays and Charles Hemming led the assembly in the Pledge of Allegiance.

H. L. Germain conducted the Barrett orchestra in the Prelude processional and Postlude.

Miss M. E. Bibler led the graduating class in two vocal numbers.

Receiving Diplomas

Graduation diplomas were received by the following:

ARE WE SMART?

Hot weather is the bane of many a person. However, it is possible to goad the human mind into such business of thinking that consciousness of the "awful heat" will largely disappear. Many of our inconveniences bore us simply because we are not willing to concentrate fully upon other things than discomforts.

from..... OG's NOTES

They're So Nice

Several notes from publicity chairmen saying "Thank you" for publicity given to various activities at various schools during the school year give men an opportunity to "talk shop" in our favor. Fact is, good friends who have been so cooperative, we need your news just as much as you need publicity. So, then let's say a mutual "Thank you!"

A Suggestion

Teachers, publicity chairmen, corresponding secretaries, — indeed everyone who has any responsibility for an organization of a public or semi-public nature should latch on to the local newspaper and keep it filled with newsy items of all kinds. This way you will have your newspaper man hopping to keep up with you—and give the public news of community affairs, which is the job of the local newspaper.

Churches, Too

The newspaper cannot be of help in publicizing routine occurrences in the church—they are merely a part of an integrated system. However, when a speaker is coming, get a small photo of him or her, send it, with the name and address and connection of the speaker. Tell what brings him. And by all means put your name and telephone number on the sheet on which you write the details, so the editor can ask you for more news if it is needed to make a good story.

Right Now, Summer

Yes, right now, summer is upon us! There'll be many activities during the summer which the news man cannot possibly know about unless you tell him. Group outdoor picnics, church outings, social group meetings, outdoors, maybe, all are ingredients for news about YOU in YOUR community newspaper. Of course, newspapers use a different approach in writing from that used by most people outside of the newspaper profession.

Summer Fantasy

Walk by the side of a little babbling brook, with mind free from terrestial cares; watch every little moving thing, make friends with the little leafy things. Sing to these inhabitants of fairyland and find the reflections of Fairy Gods in every little whirling pool as you and a mind filled with imaginings walk through the cool glen—as you follow the brook its winding way. You'll be richly rewarded—the babbling brook, the little pinks, pansies, violets, and the buttercup, too—all will bless you for having followed their winding brook to absorb their rapturous beauty. And your soul will be blessed.

Unit 144 A. L. Auxiliary Sends 3 Girls To 'State'

Learn Rudiments Of State, Local Government; Starts Saturday, Continues Week

The American Legion Auxiliary's 10th Annual Buckeye Girls' State will be held on the campus of Capital University, in Columbus, through one week beginning this Saturday, June 16.

Out of many thousands of Ohio high school juniors, coming from hundreds of different communities, only 636 were selected to attend Buckeye Girls' State.

Franklin County is the 12th District and has the honor of sending 31 girls, all sponsored by the various units.

At Buckeye Girls' State the girls learn governmental procedures by actually taking part in city, county and state governments. Primary and regular elections are held, city and county governments are organized, and by Wednesday all three governments, city, county and state are functioning.

A state senate, house of representatives, the governor and her cabinet, all carry on the duties of their offices, with realistic gravity. State officials from the state house will attend to guide and instruct.

Each girl is chosen by her school head as the most outstanding girl in her junior class and to be sponsored by her individual American Legion Auxiliary unit.

Festival Big Hit At Mercy

Superintendent C. C. Beard of Mercy Hospital last week announced that the May 5 strawberry festival, an annual event at Mercy, drew a capacity crowd of more than 1100 persons.

Although the Superintendent stressed the social nature of the event, he stated that a profit was made and will be applied by the Guilds to the purchase of ever-increasing hospital needs.

A fish pond, game of ring toss, and other juvenile lures were ready for the extra large number of children attending with their parents, it was stated.

The three Crawford boys and the Singing Sheriffs added their talents to the evening, bringing expressions of great appreciation by the visitors of the evening.

James and William Johnson, sons of Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson, heads of Mercy housekeeping department, presented numbers on piano and clarinet.

The little Rose sisters and Shirley Olinger, accompanied by Dianne Brewer, made a distinct hit, the Superintendent said, adding that every phase of the evening's gala affair seemed to make a happy impression on the great crowd attending.

Festival At Church

The Ruth, Mary, Dorcas and Elizabeth Circles of South Methodist Church are having a strawberry festival at the church Friday, June 15, from 5 to 8 p.m.

Hello:

King of the Day, June 17, is FATHER! Of course, King Father loves flowers, too, so why not surprise him with a special gift styled just for him to display proudly on his desk at the office or as a centerpiece at home? Don't forget his boutonnaire to wear to church Sunday!

Our best wishes to many who are ill — Mrs. Betty Bonecutter, little Fredrica Van Buskirk, Mrs. Esther Dearing, Mrs. Garnet Schirtzinger, Mrs. Lois Sahr, young Glenn Compton — anniversary greetings to Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Irwin. Happy birthday to Maybelle Miles and a very special "Happy Birthday" to the mother of Mrs. Nellie Gambol, — Mrs. Martha Matthews of Charleroi, Pa., who celebrated her 100th birthday on June 10! Congratulations to couples just starting out their life together — to Miss Patty Gress and new husband who were married on June 8, at St. Leos; to Miss Marilyn Wolfe and John Clark, whose vows were spoken at Southwood Church of Christ on June 9.

We have a "lost child" in our Flower Shop who is looking for her mother. A little blond doll has been left here and we would very much like to find her owner.

The South Side Leader's Sermonette

This week's Sermonette was a prayer used at South High School graduation exercises by Rev. Paul C. Kaefer, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Church.

Almighty God, infinite in wisdom, we are indeed grateful for our American schools, one of the pillars upon which the founding Fathers builded. We thank thee for the efficient organization, administration, and control of our education system and for the thought given by our citizens to the cause of education. May each and every member of this 1956 graduation class realize and appreciate all that has been done for them to make this graduation possible.

We turn our thoughts to the parents of the members of this class. We thank thee for the spirit of sacrifice of their God-fearing parents who have always encouraged them to do the right and despise the evil. Trusting in loving providence, O God, we employ Thy blessing upon all men and women who taught these young people and all others who teach the youth of our land. Gird them for their tasks with a double portion of Thy patience and with a great fatherly and motherly love for the youth, with special tenderness for the backward, the timid, the afflicted.

May the day of their graduation be a day of consecration, a dedication of their lives to others. May they not be content to enjoy the good things of life without sharing with others. Grant unto each one the grace to leave this world a fairer place than they found it. Give unto each one the same heart of compassion for the needs of the world as was in the Lord in whose name we claim Thy power.

Amen.

Change of weather is the discourse of fools.—Thomas Fuller.

James Colegroves To Observe Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. James Colegrove photographed in their home

Mr. and Mrs. James Colegrove of 1077 Bruck-st, will celebrate 50 years of married life Monday, June 25, they have announced.

With the family long ago grown up and gone into homes of their own, the James Colegroves reduced the size of their living quarters, so, to receive the friends who will attend their anniversary party, they will go to the home of their son and daughter-in-law, at 1453 Champion-av. The reception will be from 2 to 5 o'clock, they told the news man.

The celebrating couple was married in Columbus on June 25, 1906, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Robert Patton.

Real South Siders, Mrs. Colegrove said, they have always lived in the South Side. Mr. Colegrove worked for Owens Illinois Glass Co. for 47 years until his retirement several years ago. Not being able to sit in idleness, he secured a job as caretaker for St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, just up the street a short way from the home. "Now there's no time for mischief," he said.

The couple has three sons and one daughter. One son, Harold, lives in Haddonfield, N.J.; Jack lives in Rivera, Calif.; Earl and daughter, Ruth Dennis, live in Columbus.

The couple recently went to New Jersey to attend the marriage of a granddaughter, the daughter of son, Harold.

Southwest Unit

Southway Unit No. 144, American Legion Auxiliary, will hold its business and social meeting at the post home, 874 S. High-st, Friday, June 15, at 8 p.m. Mrs. Murl Poetker will preside.

A white elephant sale will follow with Mrs. John Joyce, chairman, and Mrs. Earl Crozier, Mrs. Fred Long and Mrs. Ollie Goodall, auctioneers.

WCTU Prexy To Entertain

The Linwood WCTU will meet at the home of the president, Mrs. Cora Guthrie, 1201 S. Champion-av, June 19, at 1:30 p.m., it was announced.

Miss Mary Webster is the program chairman and will speak on "Schools and the Effects of Alcohol and Narcotics."

Mrs. J. E. Bitzer will conduct the devotions and Miss Leno Russell will review interesting excerpts from the Union Signal, the official paper edited at Evanston, Ill., by the national WCTU, according to Mrs. D. E. Watson, 752 S. Roosevelt, publicity chairman.

Picnic

Siebert Street School annual board picnic was held Sunday, June 10, at Y Park, with 72 in attendance, including board members and their families, according to Mrs. Tom Swisher, publicity chairman, Siebert School.

Ladies' Events

Monday, June 18, class picnic of Ladies' Bible Class at Blacklick Woods, 6:30 p.m.

Vacation Bible school, Monday through Friday at 9 a.m.

now Mrs. John Clark, after the June 9 ceremony performed in Southwood Church of Christ by Rev. Davis. John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Clark, 1137 Linwood-av, and Marilyn's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Everett Wolfe. John is a member of the Marine Corps and is stationed in San Diego, Calif.

Lullaby time is the vogue in the Blackburn home, 229 E. Beck-st, since the advent of Larry Wesley. (A funny thought just struck us: Would a rocking chair that "scooted" be a rock 'n' roll instrument?)

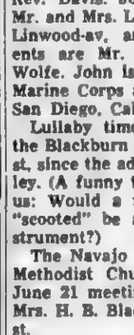
The Navajo Circle of Oakwood Methodist Church will hold its June 21 meeting in the home of Mrs. H. B. Black, 1150 Sycamore-st.

This Saturday is the "most important ever" date for Charlene Evans, 426 E. Gates-st, and Fred Duerler, 385 S. Roys-av. The young couple will repeat their wedding vows in the Livingston Methodist Church in an open ceremony. The honeymoon will be a trip to Indiana and upon their return they will live in an apartment on Belvidere, awaiting the completion of their new home in Grove City. Charlene is a '56 grad of South High and Fred is a graduate of West High School.

Pat Trigg, Barrett Junior High miss, is a year older, as of June 3.

As we love to report the nice things that people do, we certainly enjoy telling about Lavada Cromer, 1603 S. High-st. She entertained all the young folks of the South High Baptist Church, from 9 p. m. to 12, last Sunday, June 10. She'd prepared a sumptuous repast of fried chicken, potato salad, baked beans, cake and ice cream. The young folks appreciated this effort on Mrs. Cromer's part, for they asked us to tell the general public how great their appreciation was.

Five girls from the South Side area are included in the 31 girls from Franklin County who are attending the Buckeye Girls' State. This is the 10th annual meeting of the group, sponsored by the Auxiliary of the Ohio American Legion.



Congratulations to Mary Jane Black, Frebis-av, for winning an "Oscar" for her column in the "Televiewer," the Owens-Illinois paper. Mary Jane went by the name of "Janie Black" in her writings.

The Eastern Orthodox Church marriage, performed in the Macedonia language, took place in the First Congregational Church Sunday afternoon, to unite Sophie Traikovich and James Milenkovich. Sophie's parents live at 1538 Fairwood-av. Mr. Milenkovich's folks live at 937 Kelton-av. James is a South High graduate and is co-owner of the Driftwood Restaurant. His young wife just graduated last week from Rosary High. The honeymoon will be spent in Florida and Cuba, and upon their return they will make their home at 239 S. Virginia Leerd.

Florence and Calvin E. Clark and Calvin's mother, Mrs. Clark, are currently visiting the Dan Clark family in Miami, Fla. The Columbus Clarks reside at 453 Innis-av. The trip was made in train. (Belated birthday greetings to Florence's mother, Bessie Dodson, who had a May birth date, unbeknownst to us)

Guess we've come up with all the news we've heard about this past week. There's one thing we'd like to say, anent the news-gathering. Summer-time brings a change in our working schedule, as we give most of our piano lessons in the mornings, so if you can, won't you call us in the afternoons with your news? (School time will bring a change, and then we will again be on the morning's better routine.) But for now, getting the news is better accomplished in the afternoon. If need be, we'll ask your phone number and call back. The main thing is, we DO want your news, and hope you'll let us in on your vacations, birthdays, trips, et al. Till next week, then, 'tis—

Miss Rita Hinton Is TB Society Assistant

Miss Rita Hinton, 1062 Kelton-av, a June graduate of Our Lady of Victory, has been named assistant technician for one of the Tuberculosis Society's two Chris-

Miss Rita Hinton

Tuberculosis Society's two Christmas Seal X-ray cruisers.

At our Lady of Victory she has been active in bowling and in the senior class play. She is a member of the Catholic Students' Mission Crusade and represented the organization for her school. She was vice-president of her class her sophomore year. The daughter of C. W. Hinton, Rita is a member of Corpus Christi parish.

Rita is currently being trained for her new job. She will be seen aboard the Christmas Seal X-ray Cruiser this summer when the Tuberculosis Society launches a city-wide chest X-ray program in honor of its fiftieth year.

Charles E. Wilson, Secretary of Defense: "While there may now be a little more need of maintaining relatively strong forces, I would not draw the quick conclusion that the danger (of war) was greater.

The Picture That Remains

YESTERDAY, in the corridor of our establishment, we overheard a young woman say: "He seemed so much at peace, so natural . . . . that helped so much." In time of bereavement there is so little real solace one can give that it felt good to know that we had helped . . . even a little. For, over and above the service we perform, we strive to help the living . . . to ease the sorrow of a most difficult time.

Aged Woman 'At Home' In St. Anthony's Hospital

Mrs. Mary Gauch was photographed by news man as she lay in her "home" at St. Anthony's Hospital.

Ninety-six-year-old Mrs. Mary Gauch is as helpless now as when she was a little tot in Germany after her birth. Then she did not know of her weakness as a little baby; the difference is that now she knows she will finish her days lying in bed.

The German girl came to the United States in 1880. Two years later she married George Gauch here in Columbus. Mrs. Gauch lived in the South Side until an accident June 11, 1951, permanently disabled her and she went to St. Anthony's Hospital as an invalid.

There are five grandchildren, nine great-grandchildren, three great-great-grandchildren. Daughters and a son are Mrs. Pat Oestriecher, Mrs. George Hildenbrand, Mrs. George Trautman, Mrs. John Martin and Elmer Gauch.

If you boys and girls slip on an icy or snowy sidewalk, the Safety Council of The Columbus Chamber of Commerce says it ought to remind you that cars may skid on the streets, too. That means it's much more dangerous for you to walk across streets in the wintertime—so be extra careful.

St. Stephens House Sets Children's Summer Plans

Election of officers serving the board of directors of St. Stephen's Community House was held June 6 at a luncheon meeting there.

Officers elected were Quentin Costosta, re-elected chairman; Mrs. Joseph Arden, vice-chairman; Steve McDonald, secretary; and William Bighouse. Among those of the board present were Rev. Francis Miller, Mrs. Julius Vargo, Tom Duckworth, Msgr. William Kappes and William Santanich, who announced that the community house would remain open the entire summer to accommodate the needs of the children. Full-time staff members were introduced. Miss Judy Kennedy of St. Mary's of the Springs and Gene Davidson of Ohio State University will work this summer. Miss Margaret MacDonald, formerly a teacher at Bishop Watterson High School and now program director at St. Stephen's, also was introduced. Personnel practices and the budget of the community house were discussed in the meeting that followed.

A series of outings sponsored by St. Stephen's Community House is being planned for the summer, it was announced. Children are invited to register now for the swimming season. Beginning June 21, the staff plans to provide transportation, free rides and refreshments for all interested children. It will be necessary to bring their own box lunches, but it is expected that all will enjoy these all-day jaunts to the park grounds of Madison Lake. All who wish to participate must register at the Community House by June 15.

The club known as Dutch Uncles" donated one hundred tickets which provided pop, a hot dog, cotton candy and popcorn, together with 500 tickets for free rides to the children served by St. Stephen's Community House. These tickets were distributed to the children in the area and car pools provided transportation to many who might have been too small to enjoy the carnival at Sunshine Park on June 7.

Watch out for the too eager-beaver when you're working! The Safety Council of The Columbus Chamber of Commerce says a reckless hot shot worker can be a dangerous companion on any job. Be on your guard with the showoff who's always in a big hurry with whatever he's doing. Remember, there are no shortcuts to safety. Accident prevention takes commonsense carefulness.

NOT TOO PROMISING

A committee for the American Psychiatric Association which provides states with an inspection service upon request, has found the following: Of the 124 mental hospitals that have been inspected only eight merited approval and 31 merited conditional approval. The remaining hospitals which have not been approved have not reached even the minimum standards of safety and quality.

Marion Township News

I was very happy to hear that Mrs. Don Everetts is home from the hospital after a recent operation and is doing fine.

Jim Mullins, Fornof-rd, had to take a trip to the hospital last week after running a pretty good size splinter into his hand at the lumber yard where he is employed. Jim is manager of the "Little Jets" baseball team from Fornof School.

I am very glad to report that George W. Antle, Dexter-rd, is recovering very nicely from an operation performed last week, and is expecting to return home about Saturday.

Mrs. Sue Nisley and children of Markison-av, are vacationing at the home of relatives in West Virginia.

Congratulations to John Toth, of Champion-av and Lawrence-dr, for winning second place honors in the North American Rose Show for employes. Toth entered seven roses and won seven ribbons. This was the first show he has entered.

Miss Kit Edwards, 1954 Studer-av, celebrated a birthday June 4th. If I'm not mistaken, she was the wonderful age of 15

Studer-av, neighbors had quite a scare last week when Jo Ann Higgins rode her bicycle into a moving auto. Due to the fact that the driver was driving slowly and cautiously she received only minor bruises.

On June 24 recognition will be given the senior adults of the church and community.

Well, the high-flying "Little Jets" are at it again with a victory in their opening game of the season With hard hitting and fast pitching they came out on top by a score of 25 to 1 in their game against the Sabers last week. Leroy Woods, pitcher for the Jets, sent 13 down the strike out route and walked five. Byers and Woods each got a home run

Jerry McNamara, Saber pitcher struck out 8 and walked 2, The Saber's were a hard-playing bunch of boys and, with a little more experience in baseball under their belts, they will be a tough team to beat.

The Sabres are superivsed by Shorty Miller and Mike Lower. Both are in Marion Township Little League.

Area Resident Tells Writer Of Trip Made To Native Land

When a man has been away from the land of his birth for many years, and then returns from a visit there he is likely to be an interesting man — with tales to tell, with new visions of the past, with more understanding of the present and the future.

That was the net understanding which the Leader news man received from a long conversation with Carl H. Beyer, 658 Southwood-av.

Interpretation Good

Learning, some time back, that Columbus's Carl Beyer had been in Germany for a number of weeks late last year, we invited him to come to the Leader office for a conversation — two conversations, in fact. He is an interesting conversationalist, not just because he went to Germany, but because he so aptly interprets significances, finding good and some bad — the latter mostly due to the separation of the country as a result of the war.

Sister Crosses Line

Beyer had some first hand information about the Iron Curtain, because a sister had to penetrate the "Curtain" to visit him while he was in the western zone of Germany. The German-returned-to-homeland found many changes, those resulting from the war carrying the greatest significance, he thought. Conditions in the Russian zone, he said, are not good — in fact, they're bad, considered in comparison with economic, social, and religious and educational conditions in the free zone. It seems that living conditions in the Russian or Communist area are greatly inferior to those in the free zone — where people buy and sell and carry on their businesses without interference by the state

From Business Family

The Columbus man was interested in properties, manufacturing business, and other phases of business in which members of the Beyer family engaged — interested in seeing remnants, in some cases, left by war's destructive wake.

His father was a paint manufacturer, and the subject of this story brought photographs of family members and their businesses — all a long time ago for our South Side neighbor, since he came to this country approximately 47 years ago. Father and others have been long gone, but many descendents, in addition to his sister behind the Iron Curtain, still live, and made his trip happy and memorable.

Spirit Better

The interviewer, having in mind the psychological status of the years when our neighbor left his home to come to this country, asked whether there was any modification of the spirit which motivated most of Germany early in this century. He said (as we expected) that there has been a great modification — O, Germans still have the determination to achieve greatly, but the spirit of superiority which has some influence in losing friends for Germany, has been replaced by a cooperative spirit, a type of thought which has held on to values of the past, but apply diligence and peaceful attitude to the problems of the present day.

Family Home

The Beyer family home was located in Zolihaus, which is a few miles from the famous city of Weistbaden, and many relatives are in this area. Married in this country, raising his family here, he had a longing to return to the scences of his childhood —and found it good. However, he said he has never regretted coming to this country — that it has been productive for him. He did not seem to be inclined to return to Germany to live, but the weeks he spent there on his trip last fall were made happy by the kindness of relatives and friends whom he had not seen since coming here when he was 23 years of age.

There will be more about Carl Beyer and his travels.

The Guide

You needn't try to duplicate a newsman's method of writing. Principally what is needed is WHO, WHAT and WHEN—and maybe WHY. Who did it? What was done? Where was it done? Why was it done? Keep that in mind and send in ALL the news revolving around you, and keep social items a-buzzing all summer.

NOT ENOUGH

There are about 9,500 psychiatrists in the U. S. today. Over 3,000 of them are concentrated in two states (New York and California), with many states having a total of less than 25 in the entire state. It is estimated that we need at least 13,000 additional psychiatrists to meet the present-day needs of mentally sick people throughout the country.

MRS. MARGARET E. TROTT

Mrs. Trott, 67, of 723 Wagerst, died Thursday, June 7, in St. Anthony Hospital. She was a member of St. John the Evangelist Church, where Requiem High Mass was sung at 9 a.m. Monday, June 11. She was also a member of the Church Altar Society and the Romania Society of St. Mary Church. Surviving are her husband, Frank; three sons, Arthur, William and Harold; two daughters, Mrs. Annabelle Langbein and Mrs. Mary Kaiser; three brothers, Gustava, Clarence and Aloysius; and a sister, Mrs. Christina Trott, all of Columbus; eight grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren. She was buried in St. Joseph Cemetery.

Making A Newspaper Involves Details Unknown To Readers

(The Third in a series)
By Oliver Gedeist

Although we shall deal with more of the details in the mechanical area of the making of a newspaper, we now diverge, for a bit, to bring up what might be called the "Errors of a stupid editor." And right now is the bes. time to call your attention to the fact that we have inclosed that sentence in quotations. It is for convenience only; we think editors are . . . well, not that bad.

When Feelings Lived

Others, however, when something goes wrong with their copy, feel otherwise about an editor. For, to each of us who are not editors, the omission of our copy, our story whatever it may be, often marks the editor as a loath some member of society. John Temple Graves, long editor of the Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution, eminent lecturer, author, and one of America's greatest journalists, stated this in this wise: "Before I lost my feelings, most of the ladies in my town made me feel like a leper scattering my plague."

I was a very young newspaper cub at the time knowing little, with little experience, and, although I did not know "his town" I had compassion on an editor who was so ruthlessly treated, and I forced my way through a crowd to tell him so. He was kindness of the richest gender, but he confused my immature mind with the suggestion that the ladies were wonderful and if one had to put up with unkind words he should be glad the ladies were unkind. Now I know what it means, and I don't mind. Thanks to the late eminent John Temple Graves, and the loveliness of ladies.

Varied Reasons

There are many reasons why items sent to a newspaper office may be left out. One is the human error, perhaps in the form of lost copy. That happens infrequently, but its infrequency lessens not at all the criticism, the scolding, which may be heaped on the "senseless" editor, as just about a year ago, I heard a disappointed contributor call a Minnesota editor friend. But the editor was not peeved, not hurt, by the epithets which his long time acquaintance hurled at him before making an apology for her utterances and going on her way.

Another reason is that the story may have been covered by another or a previous story, although it might have been subordinated to another major thought in the other "write-up." Or, it may have a statement of fact which seems at odds with the editor's understanding, and the writer may not be available for verification before press time; then the editor uses his best judgment. The editor is open to criticism if he is wrong. But often, it comes anyway. But, praises be, it's not really meant! We consider it "blowing off steam" in most instances, and it is said that if an engine does not blow off steam when the pressure is up, it might explode. Happy is the fact that throughout the country friendships are as warm afterward as before.

Libel Laws

In some instances items are omitted because there's a possibility of libel action by the subject of an item. An editor, whether he be owner or working for an owner, is charged with the responsibility of keeping out of the paper anything which could involve the paper in a suit for libel.

This was pointed up some years ago in West Virginia when a message was telephoned to a newspaper in a small town, stating that a baby was born to a Mrs. ———, and using the given name of a well-known young woman in an adjoining community. A reporter put it in the paper, a libel action followed. Detective work disclosed the person who telephoned the item to the newspaper, but it cost the newspaper $1100 to vindicate itself.

Opinion

Then, finally, perhaps, there is the matter of opinion. Day after day an editor is called upon to use his own judgment, his opinion, of the value of copy. Perhaps each of two items has something about his friends or perhaps his advertisers. Maybe there comes a moment in the "makeup" of the paper (putting the type into forms, ready for the press) when one of these items must be left out—there's simply not enough room without making over a whole page of type. What to do? Does the editor base his judgment on which is his best friend? No, no! He looks at the two items from the standpoint of the impact of the item on the readership of the paper.

He makes his selection based solely on good newspapering.

'Maennerchor' At Park Of Roses Sunday, 4 P.M.

The Columbus Park of Roses will present the Columbus Maennerchor Sunday afternoon, June 17, at 4 p. m. at its third offering on the park's summer entertainment series, according to an announcement early in the week.

The program will include the Maennerchor's Men's Chorus singing "Hymns An Den Gesang" by Asslinger; "Juanita," "Walderwachen," "Der Wanderer," and other numbers, and a chorus of feminine voices singing "Gebet," "Land Am Bobensee," "Spring" and "Blue Danube." The finale of the afternoons performance will be the "Waldandacht' and "The Spring Song" by the Mixed Chorus. The singing group consists of 125 members and is one of the longest-established and best-known choral groups in the city of Columbus.

Also at the Park of Roses on Sunday, the Columbus Rose Society is presenting its "Rose Show."

A Lot of Bodies

Cuyahoga County Coroner Samuel R. Gerber recently stated that during his tenure in the office he had viewed 3937 bodies of victims of traffic accidents. Would it help if persons guilty of excessive speed, reckless driving, including ignoring others' rights on the highway, should have to spend an hour or two in a room with a corpse. Maybe a movie of a man dying under the wheels of an automobile could be automatically operated while the violator watched. Maybe darned fools could be scared even though their sense of right may be dulled to the point of nonexistence.

A Good Example

In cooperation with the announced policy of the city's traffic authorities to minimize street parking in favor of off-street parking, Gates Street Church of Christ has purchased a lot adjoining the church at 735 E. Gates-st for congregation parking. This is a good example for business men and others to follow.

Happy Thank You

With a picnic ending the season for St. Leo's PTA, Mrs. L. J. Reis, publicity chairman, says some nice things about assistance given by the Leader—bless her and others whose names she quotes as agreeing with her view of our handling of news about their events . . . it's a nice world, really! Then, from another direction comes a nice note—a very nice note . . . from Betty Stroubough, chairman of publicity, Twigs of Children's Hospital. This is because some time ago we "put in the paper" some news about the United States Navy band concert given here for the benefit of the little folks who get sick and go to the hospital . . . and then there's one from a man now in Kansas City, Mo., right now—he's Rev. D. E. Clay, pastor of Wilson-av Church of the Nazarene, who's in conference "way out there." Soon he will write a "Sermonette" for the Leader, but wrote to say he was going away and couldn't wait until his return, and he referred happily to some publicity given his church—a deserving congregation and pastor.

Brings Happiness

Such items as are referred to by our very nice friends referred to above are such as a newspaper must have for its news columns. In spite of that, however, there is a thrill every time these frequent kindnesses reach us . . . and we bless their kindness to us.

South 'Y' Community Center Has 189 Enrolled In Church Vacation School

Instructors Have Heavy Enrollment Burden

The South Side Branch YMCA Community Center daily vacation church school has announced that it has broken all attendance records with 189 members registered.

Classes are being held from 9 to 11:30 a.m. daily at the center, located at 2098 Parsons-av, on the Buckeye Steel Castings Co. property. Grace Steward, director of the center and its activities, reported that cooperation among the staff has been excellent under the overcrowded condition.

The enrollment at the school has been so great, it was said, that five classes have been forced to hold their sessions under the trees of the playground.

'Met' Plan Called Urgent For Sewage Disposal Job

Hit-And-Miss Method Declared To Be Dangerous To Health, Property

Following an extended discussion of the need for accomplishment in the disposition of sewage, at last week's meeting of the Council of South Side Organizations, plans were got underway to bring about some degree of active effort to replace the present system with what one member later declared was "an intelligent and honest approach" to the situation.

Much has gone before, the Leader was told, and much is necessary to be done to protect the health of the people and "for the protection of our streams" for those who like to fish.

Different Conditions

The Leader's writer, being unfamiliar with the full situation and using an acquaintance with another place where disposal did not pollute streams as a starting point for discussion, was asked whether it was necessary at that place to wait for high water, and whether the plants there and here were of similar capacity.

Since the answer had to be negative, that ended our defense and put us into a listening mood.

Strong Exception

Going back over old newspaper files, it was found that the South Side had taken strong exception "to destroying property and health rights" by having insufficient tanks and foisting upon the public totally inadequate and unhealthful plants "right in our back yards," although the writer did not find out for sure where the "backyards" are located.

"Solution" Is Told

Pursuing the situation and asking many questions, there seemed to be an agreement on the fact that instead of trying to solve the problem of sewage disposal by piece meal with the possible attendant damage to property and health, the "metropolitan" method would permit an all-county authority and procedure which, it was said, would permit operations large enough to place disposal plants where they should be and keep them from areas where they would be a threat to health and property.

"A metropolitan commission could build as large as now and the foreseeable future might require," it was said, and end the setting up or the planning to set up of inadequate plants where they shouldn't be, and at greater cost than would be the case with building under the authority of a metropolitan commission," we were told.

Interested groups, it is understood, are taking steps to forward the idea of the metropolitan body, and spokesmen referred to the "huge" success of the metropolitan plan in hospitalization improvement, in making it possible for Columbus to meet the needs of a quick-growing population in other respects during the past quarter century.

There seemed to be a quiet faith that success would come in the sewage disposal field with the institution of a county-wide metropolitan sewage disposal commission having authority to issue bonds and proceed with a "necessary job," it was stated.

L. F. Dimel Named To Juvenile Job

Louis F. Dimel, 435 Mithoff-st, whose election as a delegate to the international convention of Catholic Foresters at St. Paul, Minn., beginning Aug. 5, as told in the Leader recently, was also appointed to the position of the group's juvenile director for the State of Ohio.

The appointive position was instead of the reported election to a four-year term as state court trustee. He told the Leader that he was not elected as a trustee.

New Pastor At Oakwood Methodist

Rev. Carl E. Hicks, Methodist pastor at Ironton, expected to have his family moved to Columbus this week as he assumed the pastorate of Oakwood Methodist Church, succeeding Rev. Donald V. Shaw, who was transferred to the pastorate of the Methodist Church in St. Mary's, O.

Rev. Hicks is a former pastor of Gates-Fourth Methodist Church here, being the immediate predecessor of Rev. S. R. Martin, present pastor, who was returned to Gates-Fourth for another year at the recently held church Annual Conference.

Huber To Central Hi School

L. W. Huber's transfer to Central High School, where he will become principal, was announced late Tuesday following a meeting of the Columbus Board of Education.

Although some hint had previously been given, there was no definite information until the board of education had acted at its Tuesday meeting.

Huber will be succeeded by Delbert Swain, being transferred from Crestview Junior High, where he has been principal.

C. L. Dumares, former principal of Central High School, becomes assistant superintendent in charge of administration. His responsibilities will be the organization of all 93 schools in the city system except assignment of personnel.

Warren E. Beers becomes principal of Indianola Junior High. He has been in administrative training.

Bernard D. Redman, a South High teacher, becomes Indianola's vice principal.

Harold D. Washburn becomes principal of Roosevelt Junior High, going there from vice principal of Central High.

Donald E. Thatcher becomes principal of Crestview Junior High and Elementary Schools, going there from Mohawk School.

Mrs. John Joyce Is Aux. President

Mrs. John Joyce, 836 S. Pearl-st, was elected president of Southway Auxiliary Unit No. 144 of the American Legion at a recent meeting of the Unit at the post home, to serve for the year 1956-57.

Officers were elected at Southway Unit No. 144 of the American Legion Auxiliary, at the post home, 874 S. High-st, for the coming year, 1956-57.

Mrs. John Joyce, 836 S. Pearl-st, was named president; Mrs. John T. McCoy, 1601 Vendome-dr, first vice-president; Mrs. Harold Backus, 437 E. Sycamore-st, second vice-president; Mrs. Robert Schmitt, 804 Reinhard-av, secretary; Mrs. Esther Furniss, 78 E. Gates-st, treasurer; Mrs. Walton Barnhart, 185 Frebis-av, historian; Mrs. Fred Long, 2061 Fairwood-av, chaplain; Mrs. Ollie Goodall, 2064 Jervis-rd, sergeant-at-arms, and Mrs. Murl Poetker, 2355 Brown-rd, Grove City, immediate past president.

Executive committee, Mrs. Leonard Hanf, 1389 S. Sixth-st, Mrs. Emil Rueckel, 1374 Lockbourne-rd, and Mrs. Leroy Weisfoot, 1056 Oak-st.

Cecil Duvall Has 15-Year Record For Boys' State

(Special)

Two local boys have recently attended Boys State, an annual affair for the purpose of aiding the representatives sent there to learn of the details of government through actual participation in setting up an operating government.

And that's where Cecil Duvall comes in. Along with him is the American Legion Post committee which selects or recommends the boys from the area who attend the annual affair. Duvall is chairman of the committee, and has been doing this work for 15 years. His home is at 380 Southwood-av.

This year the two local boys sponsored by Franklin Post No. 1, American Legion were Tim Hepner, 991 Beulen-av, and David Hutchinson, 1483 Ellsworth-av.

Tim is co-sponsored by Southeast Lions Club, and David is co-sponsored by J. Leukart Machine Company.

Boys State was held at Camp Perry, where they went through the problems incident to legislative and executive authority in government, all the way down to the lowest political office.

The Post also co-sponsors a West Side boy, Clarence Readout, 121 Martin-st, and Richard Smith, 121 Pacemount.

Independence Day Observance Ready

Officials of the Council of South Side Organization Fourth of July Committee has reported a number of accomplishments to add to the interest of the organizations annual celebration in Southview Park.

Tom Sharp, manager, South Side Leader display advertising has reported lining up a group of demonstrations to be displayed for the occasion Among these are an Army Reserve Unit displaying small weapons.

There will be a cutaway of a mock-up of a jet engine. Also, tentative plans were made for a mock-up bomber with the interior exposed.

The Womens and mens reserve Army Corps have, it is understood, promised to make a presentation as have Women's and Men's Reserve Air Corps.

Baseball

Although opponents are not definitely known when this is written, baseball definitely is on the schedule, with the game getting underway at 6 p.m.

A local unit of American Red Cross will have a demonstration throughout the afternoon and evening.

Wait for Dusk

The usual great crowd is expected for the most spectacular phase of the Independence Day celebration.

With the approach of dusk, it was said there will be fire in the skies. For this will be fire works time, with all the tricky stunts that tricky fireworks can perform in the sky.

The Council of South Side Organizations has specified that there will be no admission charges of any kind.

Evangelist At Local Church

Wayne Porter

Wayne Porter, evangelist from Lancaster, O., is visiting speaker this week at the Church of Christ, 735 E. Gates-st, where evangelistic services are conducted each evening starting at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday morning at 10 a.m., according to Fred L. Casmir, pastor.

Evangelist Porter has announced that sermon subjects for the rest of the week will be, this Thursday evening, "Baptism"; Friday, "Five Things To Do"; Saturday, "The Walk To Emmaus"; Sunday, "The Religion of the Second Mile, Apostolic Christianity."

Services began Monday evening of this week and end next Sunday.

Picnic Marks End Of Pastorate Here

Norma Houck, Lockbourne Road Baptist Church and Sunday School publicity, has announced that a picnic will be held this coming Sunday, June 24, immediately following the church service. The picnic will be at the South Side Y Park. There will be no evening service at the church, but a vesper service will be held at the park at 7 o'clock.

This Sunday will be the last for the pastor, Rev. T. J. Lasley, at the Lockbourne Road Baptist Church. The pastor's last sermon subject here will be "My Dream for this Church." He will leave the city shortly.

Ketters Observe 50th Anniversary Open House, 24th

The Harry E. Ketters expect a lot of company Sunday, although at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Stewart, at 1291 Lockbourne-rd.

The Stewarts thought it would be better if the Ketters had their open house at the Stewart's home, because it would be easier on the couple celebrating a 50th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Kettar live at 1110 Ellsworth-av, but will meet those who want to wish them well at the Stewart home between 2 and 6 o'clock Sunday afternoon, at an open house.

Barrett Junior Captured Title In Hi-Y City League

There was a lot of proud people in and around Barrett Junior High School when the last game of the season in the Jr. Hi-Y City League was completed. For these Barrett Junior fellows had gone out and brought home "the bacon," in the way of becoming champs of the league. The champs are shown above after they had become champs technically as well as in fact. These "top" men are, left to right, first row, Jim Wilson, John Standiford, Paul Washington, Robert Wilder, Doug Pritt, Norm Cantrell, Tom Jenkins, Rich Peck. Second row, left to right, are George Henry, Nicky Jacobs, George Oakly, Duane Laney, Jim Roe, Claude Ford, Ron Kendricks, Robert Goodwin, Steur Miller, with Coach Jack Dronning.

Sunday Evening Band Concert Opens Schiller Park Season

A series of eight band concerts in the city parks has just been announced by the Columbus Federation of Musicians. The first concert will take place Sunday evening, June 24, at Schiller Park, promptly at 8 o'clock. No admission is charged for these concerts, it was said.

Funds necessary to underwrite this program have again been furnished by the Recreation Department of the City of Columbus and those provided by the Music Performance Trust Funds of the Recording and Film Industries in co-operation with the Columbus Federation of Musicians, Local 103 A.F.M. The guest conductor for the first evening will be Wilbur Crist, a veteran conductor of Federation bands and identified with the School of Music at Capital University. As soloist, Crist will have Glenn Harriman on euphonium, also a trumpet trio composed of Messers Hicks, Westrich, and Hightshoe. Concerts will follow on successive Sunday nights with a different conductor for each evening.

Although not a Columbus resident, a recent 100th birthday celebrant has relatives in this part of town, and since some interesting things happened to her, we'd like to pass them along. Nellie Gambol, of 295 E. Gates, called to tell us last week of the birthday of her mother, Mrs. Martha Mathews, in Charleroi, Pa., (Our own birthplace, incidentally.) This grand lady has now lived one century, as of June 10. She received cards and wires of congratulations from all over the country, and the one that brought the most excitment was the one from President Eisenhower, no less! Mrs. Gambol and her five sisters were naturally present for this amazing birthday. The celebration was on the quiet side, due to Mrs. Mathews failing health. Many pictures were taken to commemorate the event. Mrs. Mathews resides on the 5th-st. Hill, in Charleroi, Pa. (Wish we could draw a picture, of that hill, it's a lulu!).

We're quite happy to report that Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Yunker are part of the South Side population now and have been for nearly a week. Their new address is 158 E. Morrill-av. Kenny's folks have been Gates-st, residents for years, so it's really a return "home" for the young man.

June 23 will be "wedding bells" day for four couples, at least. This Saturday will find Mary Agnes Segbers changing her name to Mrs. Bernard Lee Vonder Haar, Barbara Lee Blackson will become Mrs. William Kenneth Brenner, and Suzanne Haley will exchange vows with Timothy Shields. The fourth couple on our "congratulations" list is Nancy Ann Kustich and Thaddeus F. Golombeck.

Jean Pieplow, chairman of projects for Grant Hospital Alumna Association, is busy making last minute arrangements for the Alumnae banquet that also serves to honor the graduating class, scheduled for this Saturday at Ilonka's. Mrs. Pieplow is a Gates-st, resident.

A St. Ann's Guild that meets today is Guild 31. Mrs. Rowena O'Neill, 1338 S. Champion-av, is the hostess.

Congratulations to Cora Zerkle, 201 E. Moler-st, for being the one to win "name-the-birds" contest held by a local hotel. Cora sent the names "yip" and "yap" as her entry and came out first, over 2500 other folks!

Ailing members of the community . . Mrs. Ray Thomas, 1409 S. 5th-st, Mrs. Rarick, who is in Mercy Hospital and Ed Borror, of 98 E. Moler-st.

The new president of Southway Unit 144, American Legion Auxiliary, is Mrs. John Joyce. Other officers are John T. McCoy, Mrs. Harold Backers, Mrs. Robert Schmitt, Mrs. Esther Furniss, Mrs. Walton Barnhart, Mrs. Fred Long, Mrs. Ollie Goodall, and Mrs. Murl Poetker. The executive committee members are Mrs. Emil Rueckel, Mrs. Leonard Hanf, and Mrs. Leroy Weisfoot.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Dunne and their three children are currently in Bradenton Beach, Fla., visiting Mrs. Durelda Buckeley. The Dunnes made the trip by train.

A little polio victim recently underwent surgery in Mt. Carmel Hospital and we're certain she'd love to receive cards. The brave little miss is Patsy Oyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Oyer, 1935 Hopkins-st. Her "Oyer" grandparents are residents of 218 Frebis-av.

Congratulations to Rev. and Mrs. George Scott, who were married June 17. The couple resides at 102 E. Woodrow-av.

June birthday celebrants who will soon add another year to their age are: Dorothy Leonard, on June 23, this is also the birthdate of Sharon Coffman. Mary Weisenberger, 284 Southwood-av, June 22 birthday; Peggy Grady, 635 Morrill-av, June 26; Don Ball, 167 E. Jenkins-av, June 25.

A phone call from Victoria Ball (No relation of Donnie) informed us that the revival held at the Whittier-st, Tabernacle was quite succesful. Last Sunday 38 baptisms at Big Walnut marked the closing of the services conducted by Rev. Gallia Isaac, of Louisa, Ky.

Harry E. Leveritt, 400 E. Thurman-av, is to be congratulated on a recent promotion in his career. Mr. Leveritt, an auto underwriter for Motorists Mutual Insurance Co., is now district sales manager with headquarters in Cambridge, Ohio. He will be in charge of sales and training in Southeastern Ohio.

Trudeau Guild 25 members will have a family picnic at Blacklick Woods this Sunday, June 24.

Congratulations to the newly married Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Bentley. Mrs. Bentley is the former Angie Wolford.

A 47th wedding anniversary was celebrated on June 7, by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hughes, 201 E. Moler-st.

Three male Donleys have birthdays very soon, so we'll wish the best to Ronnie Donley, who will be 15 years old on June 27. His brother, Dana, will be 9 years old on July 7. The boys are the sons of Mrs. Herbert Donley, 367 E. Moler-st. Their grandfather, Walter Donley, 304 Hanford-st, will have a birthday on July 29.

Luncheon chairman for Maree Social Club today is Mrs. Curtis Krumm. Time of the meeting is 12:30 at the South Gate Masonic Temple.

A former South High School student would like to hear from friends and neighbors, so we'll gladly pass along his address. The young lad is A/2 Gary Blake, son of Mrs. I. Blake, 470 Morrill-av, and brother of Connie Wright. He is stationed in Landstr d, Germany, but is currently in Tripoli, for a 45-day mission with a rocket team that is contributing its talents as mechanics for the ground power unit. Before embarking on the rocket mission, Gary spent a three-day holiday in Holland, which he enjoyed greatly. If you think we've been having hot weather, just try to imagine 120 degrees in the shade! That's the temperature in Tripoli, of course. Gary does get to swim in the Mediterranean, but 120 degrees is mighty hot. His address, as promised, is A/2 Gary Blake, A.F. 15534185, 86 M.V.S. A.P.O 65, New York, New York.

We hope this week's edition of the Leader finds Marge Hoptry 280 Southwood-av, back to par physically

A Jenkins-av, resident of 18 years ago has been renewing acquaintances, and visiting relatives for two weeks, but should be on the first lap of her return trip to Los Angeles, California by now. Mrs. Richard Ables, who was originally a resident of 374 Jenkins-av, arrived by plane in Ohio's capital on June 6. While here, she stayed alternately at the homes of Mrs. Ethel Denney and Mrs. Myrtle Brown. Her return trip, which started June 20, was with a niece and daughter, who are driving. The women plan to take a leisurely trip to the coast, expecting to arrive there about July 1.

Next Sunday, June 24, the Harmony Glee Club will hold its annual picnic at Catalpa Park. This South Side singing group was known formerly as the Workers Singing Society, and is under the leadership of Fritz Saenger. The headquarters of the 20-year-old group is at 435 Kossuth-st. The picnic is open to the public, so if you're picnic minded next Sunday, join your friends and neighbors at Catalpa Park

Our own little Tommy will be nine years' old this Sunday, so we can't ignore his birthday.

Among the South High graduates who will mark June, 1956, as their wedding month in the years to come are Nancy Nimitz, Elizabeth Rheinscheid, and Donald Oldaker. Nancy will exchange vows with William Powell, Jr., June 24 at Central Community Church. Elizabeth exchanged her vows with Thomas Storts on June 2 in Broad Street Christian Church, while Donald will share his name with an East graduate, Patricia Irwin, after a June 27 wedding ceremony.

We hope the mother of Harold Eichel will soon be strong and well again. We'll try to get further particulars about her for next edition, as to what hospital, etc., she's in.

We have several more items to write about, but we're saving them for the next edition. The Lenox Clan is going to Chester, W. Va., for the week-end, so news gathering time will be shortened a little, thus the "hoarding" of items. Don't forget to call us, (phone bills nice and paid up) at H. 4-1051. We want to hear of YOUR doings, hm? Till next edition then, 'tis
